PICKET AGAINST PRESIDENT

Back in November of 1973 Samuel F. Byck was photographed carrying a picket sign calling for the impeachment of President Nixon outside his place of employment in Philadelphia. Byck is the would-be hijacker killed last week while trying to commandeer a jetliner in Baltimore. He intended to crash the plane into the White House, according to columnist Jack Anderson, who said he received a tape recording from Byck outlining his plan. (See story, page 3.)

Dairymen Win Backing For Milk Price Boost

3.5 Cents A Quart Increase Is Sought

By ERIK M. INGRAM

Marin County dairymen won support from the county board of supervisors yesterday in their industry's bid to up the price of milk by 3.5 cents per quart.

Robert Giacomini, a Point Reyes Station dairy rancher, was expected to use the board's support today in his pitch for higher milk prices to the state Department of Food and Agriculture.

He told supervisors yesterday skyrocketing feed costs have prompted the latest request for a hike in consumer prices. A quart of milk currently costs about 34 cents but would jump to between 37 and 38 cents under the price increase.

Supervisor Arnold M. Baptiste was the lone vote against supporting the ranchers' request, saying "the consuming public can't take it. If there's one place people are being killed it's at the food table."

Baptiste, who said ranchers are entitled to a fair profit, said the state and counties should explore other ways than passing increased costs on to the consumer.

The request for a price increase was to be made in Sacramento at the beginning of a two-day hearing on the department's milk stabilization unit, which sets the price of milk in marketing areas throughout the state.

Last year the department approved increases totaling a record 10 cents a half-gallon and C. Brunel Christensen, state agriculture director, said earlier this month another hike was almost assured.

Supervisors, in voting to support the request, said unless dairymen are given the price hike many may be forced to shut down their operations.

"That will result in far higher prices later because of supply and demand," Supervisor Michael Wornum said.

The California Citizen Action Group said yesterday 13 statewide consumer groups had joined together to "oppose the proposed increase."

According to United Press International, a spokesman for the group said it would document "the failure of milk price regulation, excess profits in the industry and dominance of major corporations."

The price of milk has been regulated for years by the state and started decades ago as a means of keeping the price of milk up. Dairymen now view the regulations as an artificial ceiling on prices.

The state is divided up into milk marketing areas with the highest price, 72 cents per half-gallon, being charged in Siskiyou County and the lowest, 63 cents, in Sacramento and San Luis Obispo.

In other action yesterday, supervisors accepted a report on costs of improving animal waste disposal on dairies and referred it to the county agricultural advisory committee.

The report says it will cost the average dairy in Marin about $17,000 to upgrade waste disposal systems so streams and creeks are not polluted. Upgrading has been ordered by the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Supervisors And Judges Disagree

By JEFF GREER

The supervisors' and judges' ends of the Marin County Civic Center were as far apart as Moscow and Peking yesterday, over proposed state legislation. (Other supervisors stores, page 6.)

The county supervisors rebuffed the Superior Court judges over hiring and salary powers and grand jury secrecy, during a review of legislation the supervisors want passed in Sacramento this year.

Despite a letter from Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire declaring that grand juries' probes of local government should be behind closed doors, the supervisors voted 4-1 that the jury deliberations should be opened to the public.

And the board unanimously refused to approve a bill the judges want to let them fix the salary for their own courts administrator. The supervisors obviously still were smarting over being told last month that the judges could authorize the grand jury to spend $21,000 for a governmental efficiency survey by hired consultants, without the board's approval.

"I'd only say that if the grand jury had come to us two or three months ago to discuss the efficiency in a public hearing," the board would have been cooperative, said Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere stressed that "the supervisors are responsible to the taxpayer" and must "have control over spending priorities."

If the judges gain power to fix the salary for their own aides, the legislature also could give each of the county's 27 other department heads the right to do likewise, Roumiguiere warned.

The judges' court administrator, Howard Hanson, listened to the board's opposition, after delivering Judge McGuire's two-page letter. "I understand your concern and I thank you for your kind comments," he told the board.

Roumiguiere was the lone defender of grand jury secrecy, on grounds that it protects officials being investigated against unfounded slurs in the public eye.

"I think a lot of unfounded charges emanate from the grand jury," retorted Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini. "There's nothing we do that should't be in the light of public scrutiny."

Supervisor Arnold M. Baptiste branded "the whole grand jury process outmoded."

Both McGuire's letter and Hanson argued that the judges' stands on the grand jury and aide's pay issues were proper under the doctrine of separation

Service Stations Set Oregon Plan

The so-called Oregon plan for selling gasoline according to odd-and-even license plates, will get a 45-day trial in Marin and Sonoma counties, most service station operators decided yesterday.

The plan resembles the proposal by Gov. Ronald Reagan, except that it is voluntary on the dealers' part, according to spokesmen for the two counties' dealer associations. Reagan offered to impose the plan on any county where it is officially requested.

"We expect that the public will need a few days to get used to the plan," said Art Baptiste, president of the Marin County Independent Service Station Association. "That's why we decided on trying it until the middle of April. Then we'll take another look to see if it's working."

Baptiste and Keith Totemier, president of the Sonoma County station operators, said they hope the plan will end the long lines of customers waiting outside stations. Motorists will be asked not to "top off" their tanks; Marin County stations will require $3 minimum purchases and Sonoma dealers "at least half a tank."

Here's how the plan will work:

Beginning Monday — March 4 — motorists whose auto license plates bear even last numbers — two, four, six, eight or zero — will be able to buy gas on even-numbered days of the month, Monday through Fridays. Personalized all-letter plates will be considered even-numbered.

Owners of cars with odd-numbered plates will be able to buy gasoline Tuesday and each odd-numbered day of the month, thereafter, Monday through Friday.

In both counties, Saturdays will be considered "potluck," and all drivers will be able to buy gas if they can find a station open, Baptiste said. The dealers unanimously opposed Reagan's suggestion that stations remain open Sundays, he reported.

Both counties' dealers will sell gasoline to emergency vehicles any day regardless of the date. Baptiste said commercially licensed vehicles also will be able to buy fuel on either odd or even days.

Baptiste said "about 93 per cent" of Marin's almost 200 gasoline dealers approved the 45-day test. A majority of Sonoma County dealers met last night in Santa Rosa and adopted a resolution passed by the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, setting up the 45-day test.

Dealers in both counties want to open about 7 a.m. and pump

A Deadlock In Girl's Bid For Hub Position

Twelve-year-old Atha Mathieu, her principal backer on the San Anselmo City Council absent on business, failed last night to win appointment to the city parks and recreation commission, as councilmen present deadlocked 2-to-2 on the choice. (Other San Anselmo City Council stories, page 12.)

Mayor Lewis W. (Skip) Stewart and Kenneth L. Anderson voted for her. Woodrow V. Capurro and Warren R. Perry voted for a rival applicant for the post, Irene Cowan, mother of four grown children.

Absent to testify in a criminal trial on Guam was Councilman Martin G. Blinder, who had nominated Miss Mathieu.

"I think she's got a lot of guts. I admire that," Stewart said of the youthful applicant.

Stewart read a letter of endorsement from Blinder who called the youngster a "competent, well-qualified person who would prove to be a credit to the commission."

The Red Hill School seventh grader sat quietly in the audience reading a book and listening to council proceedings for more than three hours, and was wide awake when her appointment was discussed at 11:30 p.m.

But the council, failing to reach accord on the matter, said the new council must grapple with the appointment March 12. Perry and Stewart are not seeking reelection Tuesday, while Capurro is making a bid for another term.

Supervisor Joerger Will Seek Reelection

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma Supervisor Philip L. Joerger of Petaluma, 48, filed nomination papers here today for a second term.

A former Petaluma city councilman, Joerger was first elected to the county post in 1970. He seeks reelection June 4.

Joerger said he hopes to continue his efforts to guard Sonoma County's open space.

"We've got to work to slow the growth pattern in our area," he said. "I'm sure residents don't want us to become another Santa Clara Valley."

Joerger said he would also continue to work to strengthen the agricultural industry. "If Sonoma County is to remain one of the better places to live, agriculture will need our utmost support," he said. He pointed out that the county now has about 300,000 acres of land in tax-sheltered agricultural preserves.

"This amounts to approximately one-fifth of the total county and we must work to maintain it," Joerger said. "It takes a lot of doing, but it's very important in terms of open space and maintaining our sound tax base."

During his term, Joerger said, he worked to get county funds for parks and library services in southern Sonoma.

Last year the county began development of the 25-acre Shollenberger River Park in Petaluma, he said, and an agreement has been signed between the county and Rohnert Park for financing a 110-acre regional park in the Sonoma foothills near Rohnert Park. During his first term, Joerger said, the county pledged $50,000 to match a federal grant for the purchase of the Rapoza Ranch for a park in the Rohnert Park-Cotati area.

He siad he does not see the supervisorial seat as a stepping stone to higher office.

Joerger served as chairman of the board of supervisors in 1973 and has served on a number of committees including parks and recreation, roads and bridges, building and the Redwood Empire Association committee. He is the Sonoma representative to the California Supervisors Association.

He and his wife, Enes, live at 700 Fair Avenue with their three children.

Also filing yesterday in Sonoma was Toni Novak-Sutley of Penngrove, unopposed candidate for the Peace and Freedom Party nomination in the Second Senatorial District.

Kissinger Hands Over Syrian Prisoner List

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has given Prime Minister Golda Meir a list of Israeli prisoners of war held by Syria and she will shortly announce the opening of troop disengagement talks with Damascus, official Israeli sources said today.

Kissinger shuttled into Israel today from seven hours of talks with Syrian President Hafez Assad and hinted broadly he had brought the list that was Israel's prerequisite to opening the talks to end the almost daily fighting along the Golan Heights.

The formal announcement at 2:30 p.m. EDT was withheld until he conferred with Mrs. Meir.

Simultaneously, the White House said Kissinger has been told by Syria that it holds 65 Israeli prisoners of war and will permit Red Cross teams to visit them beginning Friday.

The White House said Israel will furnish Kissinger its ideas on disengagement of Syrian and Israeli forces. Kissinger plans to fly back to Damascus with this information on Friday, tte White House said.

The announcement was the first official, public disclosure

Three More Announce Plans To Seek Water District Seats

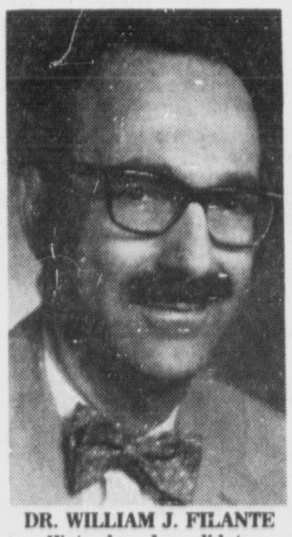

Three more persons have announced plans to seek a seat on the Marin Municipal Water District board in the June 4 election.

Newly announced candidates for the board post vacated by the recent resignation of Dr. Ronald T. Stafford are Dorothy Elizabeth Gibson of Sausalito and Robert Lee Grant of Tiburon.

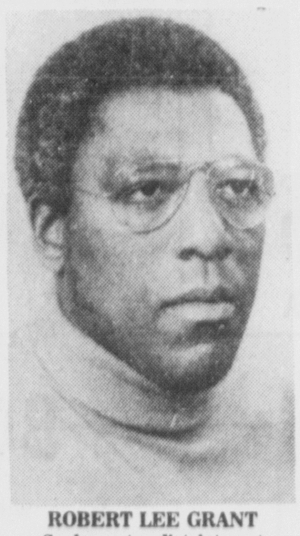

They join Willard A. Hall of Sausalito who plans to run for the Fifth Division seat.

The other new candidate is Dr. William J. Filante of Kentfield, a physician and teacher.

Filante, 44, is seeking the Third Division seat held by Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., who has not said whether he will seek reelection. Also running for Martinelli's post is Joan Seminario of Kentfield.

Miss Gibson, 52, said she is running for the post "because I feel essentially as Ron Stafford does. I feel it is extremely important to keep the finger in the dike to stop people and developers from avalanching Marin County."

She said that one way of controlling such growth is through the water supply. Although Miss Gibson said she was not in favor of a "no growth" policy in Marin, where she has lived since 1955, she favors only "very refined and well planned growth."

Miss Gibson holds a bachelor's degree from Ohio State University and a master's from Smith College.

A psychiatric social worker, she has a private practice of counseling and mental health programming with an office in San Francisco.

She has been a member of the Sausalito Planning Commission for two years.

She is a member of the Sierra Club and Marin Conservation

Ehrlichman Turns Down Offer Of Plea Bargain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former presidential aide John D. Ehrlichman refused an offer to plead guilty to one count in connection with the Ellsberg psychiatrist burglary in exchange for dropping all other charges against him in the Watergate breakin, his lawyer said today.

Ehrlichman now expects to be indicted, probably by Friday when major new indictments are expected to be handed down on much broader charges, the lawyer, Frank Strickler, told UPI.

"His feeling was that he would not plead guilty to something he did not believe he was guilty of," Strickler said. "We expect an indictment."

In response to a question he said "I sure would" expect the indictment to encompass much more than the breakin of the Beverly Hills office of the psychiatrist of Daniel Ellsberg, the Pentagon Papers defendant.

Strickler said Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski sent Ehrlichman a letter 10 days ago saying he could avoid indictment on more serious charges by pleading guilty to one count of conspiring to violate the civil liberties of Dr. Lewis Fielding.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Heath's Plea

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath, in the final day of campaigning before tomorrow's general election, today told voters that a Labor victory would be "a recipe for economic and industrial chaos."

But three polls published today gave Heath's Conservatives only a hairbreadth margin over fast-advancing Harold Wilson's Labor Party. The polls also showed the third-ranking Liberal party gaining strongly, though less rapidly than a few days ago.

Heath brushed off Wilson's economic policies as "irrelevant to Britain's problems.

Jet Nightmare

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — A United Air Lines plane was forced into an emergency landing here yesterday by a passenger who apparently went berserk at 33,000 feet and started slashing at people around him with a blunt knife.

Two men received superficial cuts before one of them—who said he was a movie stunt man—knocked the attacker out with a karate chop.

Herbert E. Hoxie, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, identified the man as Robert Slutsky, 31, of Far Rockaway, N.Y., and said he would be charged today by federal authorities with crime aboard an aircraft—assault with a deadly weapon.

"It happened right out of the cold blue, with no forewarning," said Hoxie of the incident, which interrupted UAL flight No. 26 from San Francisco to New York.

Jackson Sees Energy Bill Override

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said today he believed Congress would be able to override a threatened veto by President Nixon of an emergency energy bill, now nearing final action in the House.

Jackson

Jackson said because of parliamentary challenges in the House, the bill's fate is uncertain. If the bill comes to a House vote in the form approved by the Senate, Jackson said, it would gain approval by a 2-to-1 margin and go to the White House.

Nixon said Monday he would veto it in its present form. Jackson was asked on the CBS-TV Morning News program if Congress could override a veto.

"Yes," he replied. "I believe the mood of the country is such that the people want action."

Rio Goes Wild

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Millions of revelers went on a final, all-night binge of wild samba dancing in Brazil today, racing against the noon deadline police set for the annual carnival festival to end.

The morgue in Rio de Janeiro, the capital of carnival, reported last night that 170 persons died violently from accidents and assaults in four days of frantic celebrations.

The carnival total was sharply higher than the usual holiday weekend death rate of between 20 and 30 a day.

The exhausting festival brought hundreds of thousands of samba dancers down from the hillside favelas—shanty-towns—of Rio to parade in brightly colored costumes along main streets.

Commerce closed and hundreds of thousands of more sedate Rio residents fled the city to escape the chaos at beach resorts.

Unexpected Tour

TEL AVIV (UPI) — "I wanted to see the Suez Canal, but that wasn't the way I had in mind," Warren Sachs, a 28-year-old doctor from Virginia Beach, Va., said.

Sachs was one of 26 American Jews held by Egyptian troops for nine hours yesterday when their tourist bus strayed into Arab territory in the Sinai Desert.

The tourists and 14 Israeli escorts fell into Arab hands when the bus went too far down a Sinai road.

Checking Rebels

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — A 2,000-man government force, backed by armored personnel carriers and artillery, overran three insurgent positions south of Phnom Penh today in an operation to push insurgents away from the capital, field reporters said.

At least nine rebels were killed in the fighting some five miles south od the capital with three government soldiers wounded.

The Cambodian government, meanwhile, has begun distributing money to the victims of a rebel artillery attack on Phnom Penh Feb. 11 in which 168 persons were killed, 190 wounded and some 7,000 made homeless.

French Premier, Cabinet Resign

PARIS (UPI) — The government of Premier Pierre Messmer resigned today.

Education Minister Joseph Fontanet announced that Messmer handed in the resignation to President Georges Pompidou at the weekly cabinet session.

The 22-man cabinet has been in power since April 5, 1973, when it was formed after the general election.

Although Messmer has come under fire from his political opponents recently for lacking style and drive in government, the resignation was a surprise.

Information Minister Jean-Philippe Lecat said:

"President Pompidou has accepted the resignation of the government."

Political sources said Pompidou will now name a new appointee to the premier's post. His task will be to form a new council of ministers, or cabinet.

"The new prime minister will be selected rapidly, maybe even today," Lecat said.

Le Point magazine recently published a poll that found only 22 per cent of Frenchmen satisfied with the performance of Messmer, a 57-year-old former legionnaire, as premier.

"Pierre Messmer doesn't make the grade," it said in an interview. "Messmer must go." L'Express said Foreign Minister Michel Jobert and Agriculture Minister Jacques Chirac had the best chances of being named to succeed Messmer.

Lecat's statement said:

"The President of the Republic accepted the resignation of the government. He pronounced a favorable judgment on the record of the government. He noted that in his 12 years experience of government, the quality of the men and the efficacy of their actions in this cabinet, was of a high order.

"At the same time, he said it is necessary today to increase cohesion, solidarity and the concentration of action on the prime minister."

Political sources said it was possible Lecat's reference to "concentration of action on the premier" could mean Messmer would be retained in a reformed cabinet. This was not confirmed.

"Most of the ministers were surprised by the resignation of the prime minister," the French Radio said.

Two In Turkish Prison Charge U.S. Not Helping

ADANA, Turkey (UPI) — Two American women serving life prison terms in Turkey for smuggling hashish accused the United States today of failing to help them fight the stiff sentences.

"All the U.S. consul is doing is taking care of our material needs," Kathryn Ann Zenz, 28, of Lancaster, Wis., said, choking back tears. "But what we need most is our freedom."

Joann M. McDaniel, 29, of Coos Bay, Ore., complained their Turkish lawyer had failed to contact them since January. "He makes statements to the press, but tells us nothing," she shouted.

The two women made their remarks in an interview conducted through two sets of steel shutters at Adana Jail.

Fourth Demo Will Seek No. 2 Spot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Orange County Supervisor Robert W. Battin, describing himself as a fiscal conservative, says he will seek the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Battin, 44, announced yesterday that his entry will give a voice to the conservative wing of the Democratic Party and counterbalance what he stated were the "ultraliberals" who formed most of the other candidates for the post.

The other announced Democratic candidates in the race are state Sen. Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles; Howard Miller, a law professor at the University of Southern California, and attorney John Merlo of Chico.

Battin, who is unmarried and a native Californian, graduated from the University of Washington and the University of California at Berkeley Law School.

Shoreline Unified School District trustees, meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Tomales High School, will consider setting a bond election to finance classroom construction at Tomales Middle School, or attempt a lease-purchase arrangement.

Hayakawa To Pursue Bid For Senate Seat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — S.I. Hayakawa, who became nationally known as the aggressive president of riot-torn San Francisco State University several years ago, says the California Supreme Court's refusal to allow him to run for the U.S. Senate deprives him of his rights.

"I'm certainly not giving up," Hayakawa told newsmen last night at a meeting of the Fresno Republican Assembly. "I'm deprived of my constitutional rights. I'm totally disenfranchised."

The state's high court ruled 4-3 yesterday denying a petition to sweep aside an election code requirement that a partisan candidate must be registered with one political party at least a year before filing for office. Haykawa, a Mill Valley resident, was appealing a Marin County decision barring him from the Republican primary on grounds he changed parties within a year.

The internationally noted semanticist was a registered Democrat from 1955 until he switched to the GOP last August. That left him more than two months short in eligibility for the June 4 primary.

Hayakawa retorted, "I've been a law abiding citizen of this state for 19 years and I think I'm getting a raw deal.

"I don't know how legally you make this kind of an appeal within such a short time. Do you appeal to the California Supreme Court. Do you appeal to the United States Supreme Court. I'm certainly not giving up."

Hayakawa said he might call for a big write-in campaign in behalf of his hoped-for candidacy.

"I'm excited about the prospect of running for the Senate," he said. "I'm being encouraged to run. I think I should run. I'm not going to count myself out."

Since Hayakawa's appeal came before the Supreme Court as a petition, no formal opinion was issued.

Three Charged In Wine Fraud

AJACCIO, France (UPI) — The government has charged three Corsican winemakers with making $12 million in illegal profits by selling several million bottles of "artificial" wine made of sulfuric acid, glycerin and sugar.

A government antifraud bureau said the winemakers added the chemicals to a minute portion of crushed grapes and sold the mixture for seven times the cost of production.

Marks To Opt For Mayor's Race

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, yesterday all but bowed out of the election in the Fifth Congressional District.

A poll conducted earlier this month in Marin and San Francisco showed him neck and neck with Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco in the congressional race, but way out in front of other likely candidates for his city's mayor.

The senator said he will announce his decision formally tomorrow at a press conference.

He told the Independent-Journal he was certain he could defeat Burton — as he did in 1968 for state Senate — but conceded "it would be a horse race." The poll of more than 1,000 voters was conducted for him by Hal Dunleavy and Associates.

Marks noted the same firm accurately had predicted his landslide reelection victory in 1972 over San Francisco Supervisor Ronald Pelosi. The poll on the 1975 mayor's race among eight likely candidates showed him leading the pack by almost 11 percentage points. Supervisor Dianne Feinstein was second.

The poll thus not only showed him a stronger candidate for mayor than Congress, Marks said, "but it's no secret that I would prefer to run for mayor."

According to the poll for the congressional contest, Marks leads Burton in Marin by 42 to 38 percentage points, while in the San Francisco portion of the district Burton leads, 48 to 46. Combining the two districts put the numbers at 43 percentage points for each, with 14 per cent undecided.

The district also includes rural Petaluma. The longtime Republican incumbent, William S. Mailliard, is not seeking reelection.

Davis Improved

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., hospitalized Monday with chest pains, was listed "much improved" last night and hospital officials said he probably will be released "within a few days."

Music College Sets Concerts

Two concerts have been scheduled this weekend in Marin by the Ali Akbar College of Music.

From 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday Hafiz Ahmed Khan, a classical singer from North India, will be featured in an afternoon concert at Congregation Rodef Sholom, 170 San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

An evening concert will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Unitarian Fellowship of Marin, 240 Channing Way, Terra Linda, with Phil Ford playing the tabla.

Thieves Warned Valuable Painting Could Crumble

LONDON (UPI) — The owners of the stolen painting "The Guitar Player" by 17th century Dutch master Jan Vermeer today warned the thieves who took it the painting could crumble at any time.

"Every hour it is in danger of crumbling" said Illtyd Harrington, deputy leader of the Greater London Council (GLC) which owns the masterpiece.

"Handle it with care or it will crumble and be lost forever," he said. Art experts said even the wrong temperature could start paint flaking and the image of a pretty young girl holding an ornamented guitar could be lost to the world.

Police have found the dark ebony frame of the painting about a half mile from the scene of Sunday's smash-and-grab robbery from Kenwood House Museum.

White House Said Goal Of Hijacker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The man who tried to hijack a Delta DC-9 airliner last week fancied himself a James Bond and planned a Kamikaze attack on the White House, saying "whoever dies will be directly attributable to Watergate scandals," columnist Jack Anderson reported today.

The would-be hijacker, Samuel J. Byck, a Delta security guard and the copilot were killed in the shootout last Friday at Baltimore-Washington International Airport near Baltimore.

Anderson said Byck, 44, mailed him a tape recording about one hour long just before he shot his way aboard the plane. While aboard the airliner, Byck shot himself to death after killing the guard and the copilot and seriously wounding the pilot.

President Nixon was in the White House at the time, unlike the the previous Sunday when an Army private flying a stolen helicopter was shot down over the White House lawn.

Anderson said Byck's plan, "Operation Pandora Box," had been planned more than a month earlier.

"Whoever dies in Project Pandora Box will be directly attributable to Watergate scandals," Byck was quoted as saying.

Anderson reported Byck said he was 60 to 70 pounds overweight, with a bad back. "And I'm about to undertake a James Bond, 007-type operation, Operation Pandora Box, where you have to be skinny and slinky and willowy and," he chuckled, "I'm not anything like that.

"But I suspect that I can come off with an element of surprise if I can keep my cool. And I suspect that my appearance may work to my advantage."

Byck, from Philadelphia, carried a suitcase aboard the plane filled with a gasoline bomb, but airport police detonated it without incident after the incident.

"I will try to get the plane aloft and fly it towards the target area, which will be Washington, D.C., the capital of the most powerful wealthiest nation of the world," he said.

"By guise, threats or trickery, I hope to force the pilot to buzz the White House—I mean, sort of dive towards the White House. When the plane is in this position, I will shoot the pilot and then in the last few minutes try to steer the plane into the target, which is the White House."

Anderson told UPI he planned to turn the tape over the FBI yesterday, and planned to distribute the column for publication tomorrow. But he said FBI agents "were unable to keep their appointment." The column was printed today because the Washington Post had also learned of the tape. he said.

"He indicated on the tape there were other people he wanted to hear about —the comedian Bill Cosby and (Supreme Court) Justice (William O.) Douglas."

Easing Of Oil Import Restrictions Planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In an effort designed to boost gasoline supplies, the Federal Energy Office (FEO) announced plans today to ease restrictions on crude oil imports. The action has been urged by the major oil firms.

Some oil firms have been deliberately cutting back crude oil imports because of government restrictions, officials of the Federal Energy Office said. The cutbacks translated into less gasoline production.

In testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee, Deputy FEO Administrator John C. Sawhill said notice would be published tomorrow in the Federal Register of the FEO's intention to lift a restriction on all oil imported above a 1972 base period.

Under existing law, oil firms are required to share their crude oil with competitors who have less. The big firms argue that this has forced those that have purchased high priced crude oil overseas to sell it to competitors at a much lower U. S.-controlled price.

The result has been that the firms deliberately reduced imports which in turn resulted in less crude oil to produce gasoline, officials explained.

Energy Chief William E. Simon said last week he wanted Congress to change the law governing the allocation program to allow an increase in crude imports. The rule-making action announced by Sawhill was seen as an effort to fill the gap while Congress debates Simon's request.

Simon today stressed the need to remove the "disincentives" for the major companies to import crude oil.

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader said yesterday that the big companies were not bringing into this country all the oil that they can because they can get higher prices in Europe, Japan and elsewhere for it.

Simon did not refer directly to Nader's allegation, based on published reports that surfaced several days ago, but said the administration had decided to ask for changes in a law passed last year by Congress concerning imports.

Simon said on the NBC-TV Today Show "we've got to make sure that whatever oil is available" is brought into the country. He said "rigidities" need to be removed from the law.

"It's more removal of disincentives than giving incentives," Simon said. "...We have to operate this program with great flexibility."

Other developments:

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., predicted Congress would override a veto by President Nixon of an emergency energy bill which is nearing final House action.

New York became the sixth state to adopt a mandatory odd-even gasoline rationing plan. Lines at gasoline stations showed little sign of getting much shorter in hard-hit metropolitan areas where the pinch was tightest.

The National Petroleum Council, an advisory body to the Interior Department, said "the nation will have no alternative but to institute some system of mandatory rationing" if state plans and federal policies do not work better.

Simon said "preachers of doom" were forecasting last fall that there would be widespread cases of people freezing in homes, plants closed down and other dire results of energy shortages, but that the government moved quickly to increase heating oil production —"and it worked." The price, he said, was less gasoline.

Iran's prime minister, Amir Annas Hoveyda, said Simon was "talking through his hat" when he denied a statement by the Shah of Iran that U. S. oil imports were as high as before the Arab embargo. Simon said today, "I stand on my first statement —that's ridiculous."

League.

Grant, 35, is an economist on the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley.

He said he favors maintaining the current moratorium on new water connections until the district is no longer threatened with a water shortage.

"I am mindful of the impact that the moratorium has on the county's economy," he said. "I am sympathetic to the serious concern of the labor unions. Appropriate alternative water sources should be quickly and fully developed so that the present shortage situation is not prolonged, but limited growth begun."

He noted that during his campaign, he would develop a plan to generate employment to counter the effects of the current ban on connections.

He is an advocate of "managed-limited growth" to prevent indiscriminate development in the county, especially on ridgelands. "No growth is not a realistic or practical policy," he said. "It has often been used by those environmental forces that are antipeople."

He cited his expertise as an economist with a background in management consulting, research and government work, including 30 months with the department of Housing and Urban Development, dealing with water and sewer grant programs. A management consultant for 10 years, he specified his experience analyzing and preparing economic and environmental impact reports.

A member of the steering committee against Proposition E, last November's unsuccessful ballot measure to import Russian River water to Marin, Grant wrote a refutation of the economic impact report submitted to the district that favored the bond measure.

He is on the executive committee of the board of directors of the Marin Ecology Center and is a Marin County human rights commissioner.

In 1969, while working for HUD in Washington, D.C., Grant negotiated a bilateral agreement between the U.S. and Sweden for the exchange of environmental terms in preparation for the 1972 International Environmental Conference in Stockholm.

He holds bachelor's and master's degrees in political science and a doctorate in economics, all received from the University of Stockholm.

Grant was presented the United Nations outstanding service award in 1964 for his work with the United Nations Children's Fund. He is single and lives at 139 Barbaree Way.

Filante, a 14-year Marin resident, ran unsuccessfully for Marin County supervisor in June, 1972.

The doctor's campaign statement noted he helped write position papers opposing the water district's 1971 ballot measure for the Marin-Sonoma aqueduct. The papers were issued by the Marin Medical Society's environmental health committee.

He developed and teaches courses in environmental economics and planning at the Kentfield and Indian Valley campuses of the College of Marin. He is a trustee of the Marin Community College District.

Filante said the water district should have "a cooperative and coordinative role in the planning of the county." The function of an elected official, he said, "is to follow the desires of the community, but also to lead in terms of bringing the facts, new ideas and solutions before the people."

He and his wife, Margaret, live in kentfield. They have three children. His practice in opthalmology is in Greenbrae.

Newsprint Price To Be Increased

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The price of newsprint will be increased from $185.62 to $198.02 per ton in the western U.S. Friday as the result of Canadian price increase, Crown Zellerbach Corp. announced today.

The company said the Cost of Living Council has approved the "averaging" price system under which Canadian price increases are reflected in the U.S. price in proportion to the quantity of Canadian newsprint being delivered in the U.S. marketing area.

An increase in Canadian newsprint prices to $213.50 per ton has been announced effective Friday.

that Kissinger was making progress in efforts to bring about a pullback of troops on each side on the Syrian-Israeli front.

The Israel government has insisted as a first step toward disengagement negotiations that Syria provide a list of the POWs held by Syria and allow Red Cross representatives to visit them.

Kissinger arrived in Damascus late yesterday and held conferences with Syrian President Hafez Assad much of the night and this morning before going on to Jerusalem.

An Israeli military source said army details from the manpower division have been put on alert to verify the names on the Syrian list against the names of Israeli missing and to personally notify the families.

"Golda Meir will appear on television at 8:30 tonight (2:30 p.m. EDT) to announce she has received a prisoner of war list and that negotiations for a disengagement agreement can proceed shortly thereafter," the source said.

He said the list contained less than the names of 80 soldiers and airmen that Israel has verified as missing and presumed captured by Syria in the October war. He said the list contained between 60 and 80 names.

"The announcement is expected to add that the Israeli cabinet will meet tomorrow on proposals for a disengagement formula to offer to the Syrians," the source said.

Kissinger upon his arrival from Damascus met immediately with Foreign Minister Abba Eban and shortly afterwards conferred with Mrs. Meir. Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Allon and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan later joined them.

He had said on arrival:

"I have come here from Damascus where I believe we made good progress with some of Israel's most crucial concerns."

UPI Moscow dispatches quoting diplomatic sources in the Russian capital said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko flew to Damascus hours after Kissinger left and that he hoped to meet with Kissinger in Cairo on Friday.

Western diplomats in Moscow saw the Gromyko trip as a move by the Soviet Union to avoid being upstaged in the Middle East peace negotiations by Kissinger. The United States and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the Geneva Middle East peace conference.

High officials traveling with the Kissinger party have said several times that unless Kissinger got the list or similar assurances then little else could be done. They have also said that Kissinger said Mrs. Meir should make the actual announcement.

Apartment Policy Will Be Studied

Concerned that moderate income families may be forced to move when apartments are converted to condominiums, the Larkspur Planning Commission last night asked that city planning staff study the problem.

John E. Roberto, planning director, said commissioners directed him to seek city council approval for such a study.

Roberto said the commission wants to know how the trend toward condominium development affects the city general plan's objective of providing housing for moderate income families in Larkspur.

The question was raised by a citizen after the commission last night approved the conversion of six apartments owned by Woodbridge Associated to condominiums, Roberto said.

Tiburon and some Bay Area counties previously have studied the problem and their reports would be the starting point for his investigation, Roberto said.

Bridgeway Group Asks Additions

Merchants and property owners in the Bridgeway Improvement District in Sausalito yesterday voiced overwhelming support for more extensive improvements in the street-widening and beautification plan, according to City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie.

They want the sidewalks paved with either brick or fired paving stones, and new light standards. The city council recently voted for cheaper exposed aggregate sidewalks and cut new light standards from architect Donald Olsen's plan.

The merchants' proposal would hike the cost of the project to $240 per running foot. Cost of the city plan is $160 per running foot.

"The property owners felt that as long as they were doing the work, and paying the money, they wanted the best," McKenzie said.

About 30 persons, representing most property owners in the district, attended yesterday's session, according to the city manager.

The proposal, with an estimated cost of $440,000, is to be considered by the community appearances advisory board in two weeks.

The improvements will be financed through assessments of property owners with the city's share, estimated at $178,000, in cash.

The delay to consider the merchants' proposal places construction in September at the earliest, after the busy summer tourist season, McKenzie said.

GAS

gas only until their day's quota is exhausted, Baptiste said. In a few cases where stations dot each corner at an intersection, "the dealers can get together themselves and decide whether some will open later," he added.

Meanwhile, the long lines continued today at service stations. Commuters reported that so many cars were waiting outside one lighted station at 6 a.m. north of Petaluma that traffic officers had to be called to clear away waiting cars that were clogging Highway 101. In San Rafael, the line outside a station at Lincoln and Mission avenues stretched more than a block at 7:30 a.m. The story was much the same wherever stations were open, but many dealers remained closed because they have exhausted their February quotas, Baptiste said.

Totemier said he feared gasoline would be as scarce in March as it is this month, but "hopefully, after that it will start to ease up." Present quotas average 85 per cent of the gasoline each dealer sold in February 1972, he said.

The gasoline problem has increased the loads on Bay Area mass transit systems, a press wire survey showed today.

The Golden Gate Bridge District reported its buses are carrying 40 per cent more passengers than last February. Alameda-Contra Costa Transit said its East Bay patronage is up 35 per cent in recent weeks and its shuttle runs across the Bay Bridge have increased from 264 rides a day nine months ago to more than 1,500 a day now.

Only the Bay Area Rapid Transit District and Greyhound buses showed no gains — the BART trains already were running at their 35,000-passenger daily capacity and the Greyhound lines apparently lost some customers to the trains. Southern Pacific Railway said its Peninsula commute runs "had picked up noticeably" in recent days, although the trains still are not overcrowded.

JUDGES

of powers between the judicial, legislative and executive branches of government.

Arrigoni asked whether the California Supreme Court sets its own staff salaries "or are they at the mercy of the legislature at budget time?"

"The doctrine of inherent powers dictates they're not at the mercy of the legislature, but politically they try to work with the legislature and the governor," Hanson said.

"Don't you think we have the same relationship between the supervisors and the courts?" Arrigoni asked. Hanson did not reply.

Turning to other facets of the legislative program, the supervisors endorsed proposed bills increasing court reporter salaries and hiking fees for superior and municipal court filings, asking the state to pay costs for processing and reviewing the flood of habeas corpus writs filed by state prison inmates, clarifying rules for safety officers' disability pay and allowing the county to sell liquor in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

Despite protests by the Marin Property Owners Association and Marin Builders' Exchange, the board favored a proposed bill to require county approval of any parcel of land being subdivided to less than 125-acre lots.

The supervisors added a request for the state to provide funds to enable Marin dairymen to meet new water pollution rules.

County Admin. John F. Barrows and County Counsel Douglas J. Malone will meet with State Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, tomorrow to review the county's requests.

1971, after Ellsberg handed copies of the secret Pentagon Papers on the origins and conduct of the Vietnam war to some newsmen.

Strickler would not confirm a Los Angeles Times report that under Jaworski's offer, Ehrlichman would have had to admit participation in high-level cover-up of the 1972 break-in of Democratic national headquarters in the Watergate complex. Some of the same persons were involved in the Ellsberg and Watergate burglaries.

Strickler and his law partner, John J. Wilson, represent both Ehrlichman and H.R. Haldeman, the President's top two aides before resigning last April 30.

A lawyer for Charles W. Colson, another former White House aide, disclosed that he had sent several memos to Jaworski outlining reasons on why he said Colson should not be indicted.

The lawyer, David I. Shapiro, said he had heard "not a peep" from Jaworski in response. Shapiro said that Colson, who was Nixon's political operative and liaison with special interest groups, was not engaged in plea bargaining.

The new indictments—expected to encompass both planning and cover-up of the Watergate breakin will be handed down as soon as the jury is chosen and sequestered in New York trial of former Nixon Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

Jaworski is attempting to avoid prejudicial publicity at the New York trial by holding up indictments until that jury is locked up.

Mitchell and Stans are on trial there in connection with investigation of a $250,000 campaign contribution to the 1972 Nixon re-election campaign by financier Robert Vesco. Mitchell was Nixon's campaign director at the time of the Watergate breakin and Stans was chief fund raiser.

Marin Agencies Receive Grants

Four Marin County organizations were awarded $14,273 in grants yesterday by the California Arts Commission.

This was part of nearly $1 million in grants for the 1973-74 program in the state.

Local groups and the amounts allotted them are: The Dance Palace, Point Reyes Station, $2,300; Conference of Northern California Handweavers, San Anselmo, $1,973; Inverness Music Festival, Inverness, $8,000 and Youth in Art, San Rafael, $2,000.

Dance Will Aid Quake Victims

Angelo Clementino, radio director of the program, "Voice of the Portuguese Colony," will sponsor a benefit dance at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Portuguese Holy Ghost Society Hall in Petaluma.

Proceeds will go to victims of recent earthquakes in the Azores Islands, he said.

Music will be provided by the band Estrelas de Portugal with Maria Olga Pereira as vocalist.

Rose Mary Knew About Hughes Gift

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo says the only person in the White House he ever told about a $100,000 campaign contribution from billionaire Howard Hughes was the President's personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods.

Rebozo, Nixon's close friend and Key Biscayne, Fla., neighbor, said in testimony released yesterday: "The only person I told about the money was the President's secretary ... I just thought that somebody close to the President should know about it if anything happened to me."

He made the statement in a sworn deposition taken by lawyers for Common Cause, a citizens' lobby which has sued the Nixon re-election committee for full disclosure of its campaign financing.

(The CBS Evening News reported yesterday that Miss Woods denied Rebozo had told her the $100,000 came from Hughes, but CBS quoted her as saying Rebozo mentioned the name of Richard Danner, a Hughes aide, in connection with the money.)

Rebozo said the money in question was given him in two installments in 1969 and 1970 by Danner. He said he put it in a Key Biscayne safe deposit box but never gave it to the Nixon campaign because he feared it would cause bad publicity. In 1973, he said, he gave the money back to a Hughes aide.

He said that to his knowledge President Nixon was not aware of the money and that no one else on the White House campaign staffs knew about it.

Rebozo said Internal Revenue Service agents questioned him about the money, telling him they were "looking for a million dollars." That apparently referred to unsubstantiated reports, said to have been under investigation at one time, that a $1 million trust fund was set up for Nixon, possibly by Rebozo and another close friend, industrialist Robert G. Abplanalp.

Gasoline Blast Fatal To Child

SAN PABLO, Calif. (UPI) — A 17-month-old girl died of smoke inhalation in an explosion yesterday caused when her father tried to pour gasoline from a leaky pail to a bowl on the kitchen stove.

The baby, Angel Bennett, was asleep in a bedroom above the kitchen and died about five hours after the explosion.

Her father, Mathis Bennett, 20, and a friend, Robert Cantey, 21, suffered critical burns. Her mother, Sherry, and another woman suffered minor burns.

Holton Approved For Appointment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday approved the nomination of former Virginia Gov. Linwood Holton to be assistant secretary of state for congressional relations.

Tolton, 51, was named to the post by President Nixon last week. His term as governor ended Jan. 12.

Misuse Of Food Stamps Would Become Crime Under Behr Bill

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to extend criminal penalties under state law to deliberate misuse of federal food stamps was endorsed unanimously yesterday by the Assembly Criminal Justice Committee.

The bill, SB 1253 by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, was requested by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Present law leaves prosecution of such crimes entirely to federal agencies, with the result that only large-scale violations generally are prosectued, the senator's staff said. It stressed the measure "in no way diminishes or weakens the food stamp program," but was aimed at protecting the program from attacks because of alleged widespread abuses, and ensuring it is not dissipated by payments to people who don't need the stamps.

The legislation allows district attorneys to investigate and prosecute fraud under the federal stamp program, leaving federal agencies to handle violations crossing state lines.

Behr said the bill also was aimed at persons who knowingly accept food stamps for liquor and other unauthorized purchases, or from persons they know are not entitled to food stamps.

An amendment asked by the committee allows a person caught misusing food stamps for the first time to make restitution, but makes it clear that restitution cannot be used to avoid prosecution for a second offense.

Penalties range up to three years in prison and a maximum fine of $1,000 for counterfeiting an "authorization to purchase" or for frauds involving more than a $500 difference between the value of the food stamps and the amount paid for them.

The 5-0 vote by the committee came after its third hearing on the bill, which will go to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Tougher penalities are proposed in a pending bill by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco.

The Table Turned In Alimony Cases

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The New York State Senate Monday passed a measure that would give a divorced man the right to sue his former wife for alimony.

The bill, which now goes to the state's House, was approved 55-3.

Impact Report Said Delaying Realignment Of Bon Air Road

Marin County supervisors yesterday told the Marin Hospital District they are powerless to move any faster on the realignment of Bon Air Road in front of the hospital.

Supervisors said they must await an environmental impact report, now being prepared, before the county can start detailed engineering plans.

The relocation of the road, to move slightly west of its present alignment, is called for in a 1968 contract between the two entities. The hospital district maintains it is needed in order for future expansion of the hospital.

County Public Works Director Ray W. Foreaker Jr. acknowledged yesterday the project may not be completed until next year when funds are budgeted and agreed the county may be in violation of the contract. The hospital district says it should have been built this year.

Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini argued that to proceed this year prior to completion of the environmental report would put the county in violation of state law.

Supervisors directed Foreaker to proceed swiftly with engineering plans once the environmental report is completed and reviewed.

Marin County Board of Supervisors Also:

DRYDOCKS — Authorized the public works department to prepare bid specifications for removal of the wings of the drydocks in Richardson Bay. The specifications will be drawn along those suggested by a group which claims it can remove the walls for about $10,000 county cost.

MAPPING — Approved a contract with Cartwright Aerial Survey Inc. of Sacramento for additional aerial mapping work with the total cost not to exceed $22,800.

OPEN SPACE — Accpted the offers of 10-year scenic deed restrictions for a 193-acre parcel in Sleepy Hollow offered by Fred P. Cox and Frank G. Chambers and a 52-acre parcel in the Nicasio Valley offered by Leslie L. Roos Jr. The deeds mean the land will remain underdeveloped in return for tax benefits.

COMMITTEE — Agreed to form a technical advisory committee to the Parks and recreation commission. The new committee will advise on technical matters dealing with the preservation of Bolinas Lagoon. Appointments will be made later.

PLAQUE — Accepted a plaque from the California Park and Recreation Society naming McNears Beach Park as the best environmentally planned park in the state in 1973.

SHELLMAKER — Heard a report that the Bay Conservation and Development Commission will require an environmental impact report on the proposed Shellmaker marina project on the Petaluma River in Southern Sonoma County. Marin and Sonoma have been at odds over the project, Marin officials opposing it.

FEES — Approved the county administrator's recommendations to raise fees for a number of services from the county elections office, including copies of registration lists, county maps and other data.

OPEN SPACE — Approved adding the post of office manager to serve county open space service areas through the office of County Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske. The job will pay $1,108 to $1,225 a month. The board approved using general fund reserves to finance the operation through July 1, and will consider prorating the costs among the service areas next year.

STUDY — Approved, after a week's delay, a $4,500 contract for Youth Advocates Inc. to provide consultant services to design youth programs in the county.

AUDITORIUM — Received Supervisor Robert R. Roumiguiere's committee report on rental fees for the Marin Veterans Memorial Building. The rates would be reduced for noncommercial and school users from Marin County except that the exhibition hall rent for a single day would be hiked from $275 to $300. The board said it will discuss the proposal later but set no date.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE — Approved requests for $3,132 in county funds needed to secure grant funds totaling $345,846 for burglary prevention and other programs.

POVERTY WAR — Approved County Administration John F. Barrows's recommendation that the county's $54,245 contract with Community Action Marin (formerly the Economic Opportunity Council) remain unchanged so long as federal funding continues.

JUVENILES — Joined the Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission in endorsing H.R. 6024, a sweeping federal antidelinquency proposal.

PARK — Formally approved an agreement to acquire and develop the236-acre John F. McInnis Memorial Park north of Gallinas Creek on the San Pablo Bay Shoreline, with $375,000 in federal funds.

RAMP — Approved hiring Russell Associates of San Francisco for $8,000, to design expansion of the Black Point public boat launching ramp beneath the Petaluma River Bridge on Highway 37.

PARADE — Gave the Loma Verde Parent-Teachers Association permission to close portions of Alameda de la Loma from 10 a.m. to noon March 30 for a school parade.

HEARINGS — Set for public hearing: Proposed formation of an underground utility district for Nicasio Square, March 19; land exchange on Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield, March 12; exclusion of property from the Paradise Ranch Estates permanent road division in Inverness, for March 19.

ROCK CONCERT — Denied Spread Eagle Productions' request to waive the Marin Veterans Memorial Building fee and to allow holding a benefit rock concert in the building March 5. Auditorium management said it probably would be impossible to clean up in time for the following night's San Francisco Symphony concert, long booked.

Prove Gas Point

DALLAS (UPI) — Nine professional drivers traveling from San Diego to Washington, D.C., to determine how much gasoline driving at a top speed of 50 miles an hour really does save, report that the saving is about 26 per cent.

'Harassment' Claimed By Developer

An attorney for West Marin developer Davis S. Adams told county supervisors yesterday his client is "being harassed" by the county counsel's office and asked that a pending suit be dropped. (Another supervisors, story, page 1.)

Supervisors said they will review the written arguments submitted by San Rafael attorney Roderick P. Martinelli and discuss the suit again March 12.

Earlier this month, supervisors voted 4-to-1 to file suit against Adams for allegedly violating state and county subdivision laws in dividing a parcel of land near Inverness. The county maintains the subdivision was not processed through planning channels, among other things.

Martinelli said Adams was notified of the alleged violations in January and less than a month later the county counsel's office moved to file suit. He said the suit is groundless.

On the other hand, he continued, 78 violations were cited in October at the Soula Jule Ranch and no action has been taken by the county yet.

"It is quite apparent to me that Marin County officials are engaged in a vendetta against the Adams family," he said.

Adams, who developed the Paradise Estates subdivision near Inverness, has tangled with the county before.

Martinelli called "untrue and slanderous" a statement by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney that Adams is a man who "thinks if he violates 10 laws and only gets caught on five, he's still five ahead."

Enrollment Up

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Enrollment at the University of California's nine campuses has reached 118,9090 students, according to final fall registration figures, an increase of 5,646 students over last year's enrollment.

Gas Dealers Take The Bus

The gasoline shortage has reached the point where even station operators are taking the bus.

When Chevron-Standard oil station operators from Marin left today for a company meeting in Reno, they traveled by bus to save gasoline.

Betty Fugate, whose husband, Don, operates a station in Corte Madera, said the group decided to take a bus and "The Santa Rosa group also is taking a bus."

Revolt Spreads Across Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — A military revolt spread across Ethiopia today and Emperor Haile Selassie appeared on a balcony before his loyal troops and made an emotional appeal for national unity. The Ethiopian navy and air force today joined a rebellion in the armed forces sparked by demands for higher pay and better living conditions. Troops and sailors seized the Red Sea port of Massawa, the navy's principal facility.

The tiny 82-year-old Emperor appeared before several hundred loyal troops on the balcony of the heavily guarded downtown jubilee palace and told them:

"We've had problems before and we've come through them. This has been brought on by the world economic crisis."

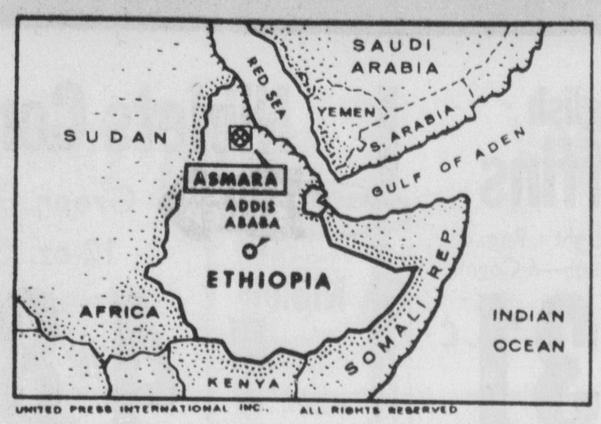

The emperor was very emotional as he gave his short speech, witnesses said, and several times appeared near collapse. The troops gave him repeated cheers.

Army and navy personnel seized the Red Sea port of Massawa and an air force unit joined rebel soldiers in the northern city of Asmara where the revolt started yesterday.

Army chief of staff Lt. Gen. Asafa Ayene flew into Asmara to discuss the situation with a committee of rebel leaders.

Diplomatic sources said after a brief conference, the general was turning to Addis Ababa to seek clarification on some points and would then make a second trip to Asmara, possibly tonight.

The sources said an unknown number of troops and sailors seized the Massawa facility in an apparently bloodless takeover, but the rest of the town 500 miles north of Addis Ababa was not affected immediately.

CITY SEIZED — Army units led by junior officers seized Asmara, Ethiopia's second largest city, yesterday in a mutiny for higher pay. The bloodless takeover climaxed weeks of demands for higher pay in the armed forces and followed four days of riots against the rising cost of living last week in Addis Ababa, the nation's capital. (UPI Telephoto)

Massawa, one of the hottest places in the world where temperatures of 150 degrees have been recorded, is the principal naval port of the 1,700-man Ethiopian navy which has only a few coastal vessels and a former tender, the HMS Ethiopia, as a flagship. The Ethiopia was in port when the takeover occurred.

It was not clear if the bulk of the navy mutinied in support of the troops and air force unit in Asmara, 60 miles to the west, or if they had specific demands of their own. The sources said an air force unit in Asmara had joined soldiers who sparked the mutiny Monday by demanding that their pay be doubled.

The troops isolated the palm-decked city from the rest of the country but an American resident contacted by telephone said: "The situation is calm, almost lighthearted with some people waving to the troops."

Emperor Haile Selassie met with his ministers in the heavily guarded downtown Jubilee Palace and nominated a high-level delegation headed by Lt. Gen. Asafa Ayene to negotiate with the rebels.

Reagan Against Persons Accepting Hearst Food

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan said yesterday that persons who accept the free food distributed in answer to demands from the kidnappers of Patricia Hearst are "aiding and abetting lawlessness."

The Symbionese Liberation Army, a shadowy organization which claims responsibility for kidnapping Miss Hearst, has demanded distribution of $6 million in free food to California's needy as a condition of negotiations for her release. The 20-year-old heiress to the Hearst newspaper empire was dragged screaming from her Berkeley apartment Feb. 4.

"I regret that the people are willing to take that food. They're aiding and abetting lawlessness," Reagan said in an appearance before a group of teen-age government interns.

"I think it would be great if everyone would refuse to accept that food," Reagan added.

Reagan said he would not order the release, if it was demanded, of two men jailed in connection with the Nov. 6 slaying of Oakland schools chief Marcus Foster.

Reagan said there would be no way to legally free the men if it was demanded as a condition of releasing Miss Hearst.

"If you start doing anything of that kind, it would be like opening the prison doors. It would make kidnapping a very common occurrence," he said.

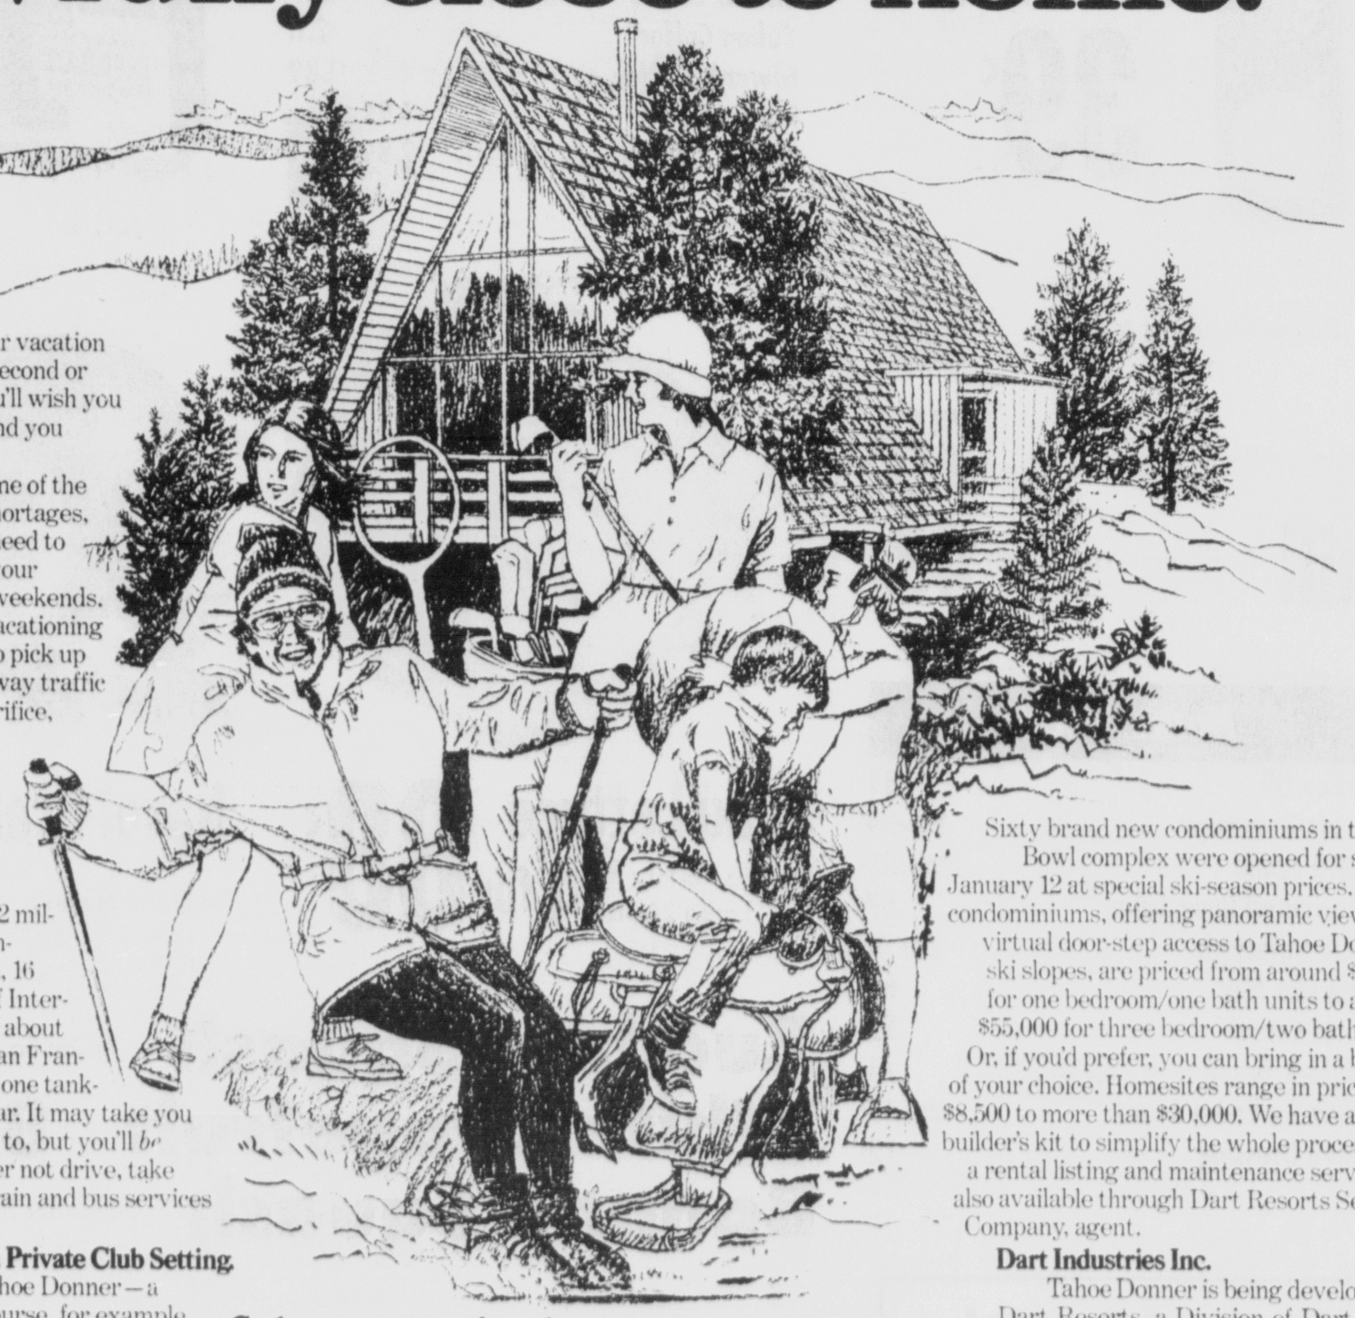

Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger has said his office would not prosecute anyone for accepting food distributed in answer to the SLA demand.

The food giveaway is scheduled to resume tomorrow under supervision of A. Ludlow Kramer, Washington secretary of state. Last Friday, the first day of the giveaway, there were reports of confusion and lack of organization at all four centers. There was scattered violence which prevented on center in a black district of Oakland from opening at all.

Reagan said the kidnappers committed a crime in abducting Miss Hearst and attempted "to put the mantle of heroism over it" by making the food distribution demand.

"This makes them the biggest hypocrites in America today," Reagan said.

If faraway vacations are out this year, Tahoe Donner is awfully close to home.

Staying home on your vacation is a good idea—until the second or third day. That's when you'll wish you were at Tahoe Donner. And you could be.

Whatever the outcome of the fuel and transportation shortages, you and your family still need to "get away from it all" on your vacation. Or even on the weekends. Maybe more than ever. Vacationing within California is sure to pick up as gasoline sales and freeway traffic slow down. But it's no sacrifice, really. California's a great place to visit. And live.

Tahoe Donner: The Viable Alternative.

That's where Tahoe Donner comes in.

Tahoe Donner is a $32 million resort-residential community in the High Sierra, 16 miles from Lake Tahoe off Interstate 80 near Truckee. It's about 200 freeway miles from San Francisco, or the equivalent of one tankful of gas in the average car. It may take you a little longer than it used to, but you'll be somewhere. If you'd rather not drive, take advantage of the ample train and bus services to the area.

Resort Home Living in a Private Club Setting.

Owning a place at Tahoe Donner—a resort home on the golf course, for example, or a condominium at the base of the Ski Bowl—offers you a world of things to do with your leisure time. As a property owner, you and your family can dine in the Northwoods Clubhouse; swim and play tennis as members of the Racquet & Swim Club; ride at the Donner Trail Stables; ski and stay overnight at our own ski complex; play golf on our championship course (the front nine holes are to open this summer); explore and admire our more than 4,000 private acres of the world's most beautiful wilderness.

Model Home Village and Condominiums.

For people who want a home at Tahoe Donner now, we have a comprehensive housing program with many model resort homes and condominiums from which to choose, representing the work of the best licensed professional builders in the area.

Sixty brand new condominiums in the Ski Bowl complex were opened for sale on January 12 at special ski-season prices. These condominiums, offering panoramic views and virtual door-step access to Tahoe Donner's ski slopes, are priced from around $31,000 for one bedroom/one bath units to around $55,000 for three bedroom/two bath units. Or, if you'd prefer, you can bring in a builder of your choice. Homesites range in price from $8,500 to more than $30,000. We have a home-builder's kit to simplify the whole process, and a rental listing and maintenance service are also available through Dart Resorts Services Company, agent.

Dart Industries Inc.

Tahoe Donner is being developed by Dart Resorts, a Division of Dart Industries Inc. which has a billion dollars in assets. Other major Dart projects in California are Bear Valley Springs in the Tehachapi Mountains and Silver Lakes in the Victor Valley.

Now It's Your Turn.

To learn more about how to "get away from it all" (on one tank of gas), or if you'd like to spend the night as our guest, call collect (415) 352-2810. Or mail in the coupon. This offer is made only to persons having interest in the purchase of property at Tahoe Donner and the financial ability to do so, should they so desire.

The following statement is made pursuant to Federal law: "Obtain the HUD Property Report (California Final Subdivision Public Report) from developer and read it before signing anything. HUD neither approves the merits of the offering nor the value, if any, of the property."

A Tragic End To Undercover Work

HOUSTON (UPI) — A policeman summoned to investigate a shooting in a lounge burst into the bar's restroom yesterday and confronted a longhaired man wearing jeans and an embroidered denim jacket holding a gun on two other men.

The long-haired man whirled at the sound of the policeman crashing through the door. The policeman fired one shot that killed him.

The victim, identified as Rodney Scott Morgan, 27, was an undercover narcotics officer.

"We're police!" the dead man's partner, F.G. Dodd, yelled at the policeman.

"Goddamn it, why didn't you say so?" the policeman replied.

"It is an unfortunate situation, but it's the risk involved when you have people working undercover," Sheriff Jack Heard said. "City and county undercover officers coordinate their activities, but there's no coordination between undercover and uniformed officers.

"Unfortunately a uniformed officer entered this situation."

The policeman was identified as Glen E. Thyssen, 26.

"Thyssen kicked open the door to the men's room," said district Fire Chief L. O. Martin who witnessed the shooting. "A man with a gun in his hand (Morgan) spun around. Thyssen took one step back and fired once, hitting the man in the chest. He dropped dead."

Morgan and Dodd had been working as an undercover team under the Federal Drug Enforcement Administration. Although they had gone to the "Up Front Lounge" together, only Morgan went into the men's room where he met two members of a motorcycle gang.

Dodd heard a scuffle in the restroom and burst in to find Morgan pinned to the floor and the two men slashing him in the face with knives. Dodd fired a single shot into the ceiling, and the two men got up and put their hands to the wall.

Novato Advance Award Winner

The weekly Novato Advance has been awarded three first and two second place awards for weeklies of more than 7,500 circulation by the California Newspapers Association.

It won first place at the association's annual meeting in Los Angeles for typography, family interest coverage and local color usage. Second place awards were taken in sports coverage and news picture.

Ringo Talks Of A Reunion

LONDON (UPI) — Ringo Starr Monday said he would not rule out a reunion of the Beatles, but there was no indication when the four musicians would get together again, if ever.

"It's a possibility," he told reporters. "We are still tied to each other. We are trying to sort that out."

The drummer's comments came after a lawyer told High Court Judge Sir Robert Megarry that Paul McCartney, John Lennon, George Harrison and Starr were close to agreement on settling their business affairs.

Outlook Is Optimistic On Energy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's demand for energy will increase by about 80 per cent by 1990, a Stanford Research Institute economist predicted yesterday.

But Carl A. Trexel said the state's long-term energy prospects are better than those of the rest of the country.

Western Canada and Alaska will be major sources of energy for California in the next 20 years because of their proximity, the industrial economist said in remarks prepared for delivery to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Trexel said the San Francisco Bay Area uses about 25 per cent of the state's energy.

"Economic growth and industrial development in the Bay Area have closely followed the state's, and thus there is no reason to expect any significant shifts in the pattern of energy consumption here for the future," he said.

Although oil, natural gas, hydroelectric and nuclear power will continue to be major sources of energy for the state, there will be shifts in their amounts, he said. The use of nuclear power and oil will increase, while the use of natural gas and hydroelectric sources will decline, Trexel said.

Dilemma In Novato: Cardboard Collection

The Novato Sanitary District board is facing the problem of one cardboard collector too many.

The Novato Disposal Service has an exclusive franchise for collecting cardboard, but the Marin Environmental Cooperative of San Rafael has placed containers for collection at several businesses.

About 20 persons appeared at the district board meeting Monday night, most protesting the provision for exclusive rights on cardboard collection, according to Dist. Mgr. Charles A. Joseph.

The issue arose two weeks ago when Novato Disposal Service representatives protested the Marin Environmental Cooperative operation.

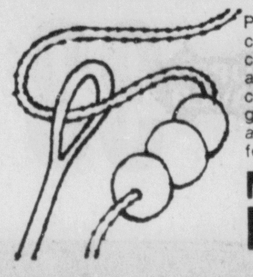

Directors directed him to issue a notice of ordinance violation to the contractor who is picking up the cardboard for the cooperative, Joseph said.

The board then agreed to have a special meeting on the matter, but a time and date hasn't yet been set, Joseph said.

Directors also approved district participation in an engineering study on a potential waste water program covering Marin and Southern Sonoma.

The study to be undertaken by Kenks and Adamson, J. Warren Nute Inc., Yoder-Trotter-Orlob and Associates and Brown and Caldwell will cost about $43,400 with the district's share to be $3,800.

LORI PATON

A Student's Project— Subversive?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Somewhere in an index file in an FBI office in New Jersey 17-year-old Lori Paton is listed as a subversive.

The Chester, N.J., high school senior's troubles began last year when she inquired into the background of a socialist organization as part of a class project.

Miss Paton, enrolled in a social studies class seeking information into different political ideologies, chose to write to the Socialist Labor Party. She incorrectly addressed her letter to the Socialist Workers Party, an organization which was under FBI surveillance at the time.

Her letter was intercepted and an investigation launched. An agent came to her school asking about her. Her family was investigated for possible police records.

The FBI denied any investigation was taking place at all until her attorney filed suit. The agency's Newark office subsequently concluded there was no criminal activity involved and recommended the investigation be ended.

It did. But her attorney, Frank Askin, says her case is still filed away as a "subversive matter."

Askin yesterday told a House government operations subcommittee he feared such a file can cause irreparable harm to the career and life of his client unless it is destroyed.

"What if she decides, ten years from now, that she wants to work for the government and her name is still on that file," he asked.

Miss Paton sat at his side, chewing gum and nodding.

She was asked what she thought of her experience.

"You have to understand," she said, "That I'm from a very conservative community.

"Instead of this thing working positively, it worked in reverse. People are more scared than ever. They don't even want to ask any questions."

Las Vegas Feels Test Of Weapon

YUCCA FLAT, Nev. (UPI) — Scientists exploded a thermonuclear weapon today, probably a sophisticated missile warhead, which swayed high-rise gambling resorts 70 miles away in Las Vegas.

A two-story adobe building in Beatty, Nev., 50 miles from ground zero, was evacuated shortly before shot time at 10 a.m. Workers in two mines and two ore milling operations in the same vicinity also were evacuated as a precautionary measure.

A spokesman for the Environmental Protection Agency said no damage was reported at any of the locations. Exchange club patrons in Beatty reentered the building minutes after the nuclear explosion.

No radiation escaped into the atmosphere when the nuclear weapon carved out a giantunderground molten cavern at ground zero 2,103 feet below the desert floor.

A puff of dust rose skyward when the nuclear device was triggered at the bottom of the vertical shaft which was 48-inches in diameter.

The Caltech Seismological Laboratory in Pasadena, said the blast registered 5.0 on the Richter scale.

It marked the 430th nuclear test at the sprawling Nevada test site since the U.S. began using this facility.

Ground zero bounced several feet into the air when the weapon was triggered. The AEC said the nuclear device had a yield of 20 to 200 kilotons, meaning a maximum quivalent of 200,000 tons of TNT.

Arrest Made In Cyclist's Murder

The alleged sergeant-at-arms of a San Rafael motorcycle club was arrested yesterday in a raid on his Santa Venetia home on suspicion of murdering another biker in Sonoma County in December.

Marin Sheriff's deputies arrested 32-year-old Reuben Richard Robles, reportedly a member of the San Rafael chapter of the Hell's Angels, on suspicion of murdering Richard Ashbury, 35.

Ashbury's nude body was found dumped by the side of a rural road near Guerneville on Dec. 11. He had been shot four times in the head and his body set afire with gasoline.

Also arrested on suspicion of drug offenses were Robles's wife and two other persons.

Acting on a Sonoma County search warrant, sheriff's deputies yesterday went to 102 La Brea Way in search of evidence to link Robles to the killing, said Sheriff's Lt. James Schwedhelm.

Using a metal detector, Sonoma deputies found .32-caliber bullets in the back yard and sent them to the state crime lab for analysis. Also seized were a .32-caliber pistol thought to be the murder weapon, another handgun and a rifle, said Schwedhelm.

Found in the home were small quantities of suspected narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Arrested on suspicion of possessing dangerous drugs and possessing them for sale were Robles; his wife, Bonnie Dolores Robles, 21, a 16-year-old girl, and Ruslin Effendi Monoarfa, 24. All were reported living in the house.

Mrs. Robles was released on her own recognizance to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court, while Monoarfa posted $2,500 bail to appear the same day. The girl was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Bail for Robles on the drug offenses was set at $5,000, but he was being held without bail for Sonoma County and was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Too Many Grads

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Missouri Commission on Higher Education said in its 1972 year-end report that graduate schools were producing too many people for the job market, resulting in decreasing employment mobility and a slackening of demand for the graduates.

Neutrality On Stock Is Asked

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Faculty Representative Assembly at the University of California's Berkeley campus voted approval Monday of a plan to keep regents neutral in voting stock in the school's employee retirement fund.

Under the plan, which now goes to the statewide Academic Assembly, regents would be required to vote stock proxies in equal portions in any matter before stockholders.

Regents usually have voted with company managements in proxy elections concerning social, political or environmental issues.

Station Decision Is Delayed

The San Anselmo City Council last night delayed a decision on a use permit for a service station near the hub after deciding a study of the problems and potential of the area is needed.

Postponed for 30 days is a decision on a request by Standard Oil Co. to raze a service station at 160 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and relocate it at 700 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, near the hub on the site of a Gulf service station which has been closed.

The council, noting the move would result in elimination of one service station from the boulevard, backed a proposal by planning commission chairman John H. Colteaux for a study of the area before making a decision.

Colteaux, saying the hub and strip development along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard is a major planning problem, pledged to walk the area with city planners to determine its potential.

Colteaux noted that a nearby Orange Julius outlet has closed, and suggested the city had a unique opportunity to take a close look at the area.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

MONTESSORI SCHOOL — Said Montessori Preschool had withdrawn an appeal of planning commission denial of its bid to operate at 38 Austin Avenue, a residential area. Neighbors had heatedly opposed location of the school in the area.

SPRING GROVE — Approved an appeal of planning commission denial of a permit for a single family home at 120 Spring Grove Avenue.

SUBDIVISION — Rejected an appeal and approved a four-lot subdivision on Tomahawk and Elkhorn drives, needed by Hill Construction Co. which plans to build three homes on the parcels. Mayor Lewis W. Stewart opposed the action.

CREEK PARK — Awarded a $194,270 contract to Tamal Construction Co., low bidder for work involved in construction of Creek Park.

STORM DAMAGE — Awarded a $115,504 contract for storm damage work to low bidder Cal Western Retaining Walls. The storm damage project is federally funded.

EXCAVATIONS — Approved an ordinance giving the city tighter control over street excavation work, a measure aimed at the Ross Valley Sanitary District's downtown sewer project.

TRUCK — Awarded a $4,240 contract to DeLong Chevrolet, low bidder, for a fire truck.

GOODBYE — Noted at the meeting's adjournment that Warren R. Perry and Mayor Lewis W. Stewart, who are not seeking reelection, had logged their last meeting as councilmen. They were applauded.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 8 p.m. March 12.

Gold Ounce Well Above $175 Price

LONDON (UPI) — Gold fever slackened slightly on European money markets today, but gold's price stayed well above $175 an ounce nearly everywhere. The dollar fell slightly in most markets.

Most bullion markets saw small drops from the prices which set all-time records everywhere yesterday. Dealers said they saw signs the price might stabilize at around the $175 level eventually.

Gold dropped $1.63 an ounce in Paris, closing today at $183.11 an ounce, lower only than Tuesday's all-time record $184.74 an ounce.

London prices ranged between $178 an ounce at the morning price fixing up to $179.50 an ounce and then down again. Frankfurt marked the metal up, fixing its price at $179.32 an ounce compared with yesterday's $178.18.

Gold lost $6 overnight in Zurich, but regained $1 of that during the day to close at $174.

Financial experts have attributed the unprecedented rise in gold prices to inflation hitting most of the world and warned that the higher gold prices would lead in turn to higher prices of all other commodities —increasing the inflationary spiral.

Unidentified Man's Body Is Recovered

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Coast Guard recovered the body of an unidentified man yesterday from San Francisco Bay near the Berkeley pier.

The coroner's office said the man had been in his 40s, was white, about six feet tall and weighed 160 pounds.

San Anselmo Delays Action On Controversial Antismoking Plan

The San Anselmo City Council last night postponed adoption of a controversial antismoking ordinance as local businessmen declared the measure might cripple the city's restaurant industry. (Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 1.)

The council, although clearly concerned with the "rights of nonsmokers," delayed adoption of the measure until 8 p.m. March 12, when colleague Martin G. Blinder, absent last night, can attend. Blinder proposed the ordinance.

The ordinance would prohibit smoking in city buildings used for public meetings, a stipulation that received no opposition last night.

At issue is a requirement that all commercial or other establishments open to the public which provide seating for more than 20 persons set aside a voluntary nonsmoking section posted with a sign reading: "The San Anselmo City Council has requested that we set aside this area for nonsmokers. Your cooperation is appreciated."

Failure to post the sign would represent an infraction punishable by up to a $500 fine, but customer compliance with the no smoking request would be voluntary, under the ordinance.

Blinder wrote in a memo the intent of the measure is to "make people aware of the fact they are smoking," but some businessmen clearly missed that point last night.

Restaurant owners and others claimed the measure was discriminatory, would result in fights among customers, represented an unfair restriction of personal liberty and would drive customers away.

"If you can't take the smoke, you don't have to go in," declared one tavern owner.

Although Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro said the measure is ambiguous and discriminatory, colleagues appeared to agree with Mayor Lewis W. Stewart that "the rights of nonsmokers have been overlooked for a long time."

100 FBI Agents In Hearst Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI says it doesn't know where kidnaped heiress Patricia Hearst is being held, and the 100 agents on the case aren't trying to find her.

Charles W. Bates, the agent in charge of the investigation, told newsmen after a two-hour meeting with Miss Hearst's father publisher Randolph A. Hearst and his family last night that the FBI was still being very careful.

"We don't know specifically where Patty Hearst is," he said during an impromptu news coference on the driveway of the Hearst mansion in suburban Hillsborough.

"And we don't intend to take any action to try to find out, because this could provoke some action on the part of the people who are holding her."

Bates' statement came as the anguished family waited for word from the kidnapers and the organizers of a free food giveaway tried to get a second distribution organized.

Bates said he still felt Miss Hearst would be returned safely and that there was no indication the Symbionese Liberation Army had "broken off negotiations" as its leader threatened in the last tape recording received by the family.

The tape, made a week ago Tuesday, was the last assurance Patricia was alive.

The tiny sect's self-styled "Field Marshal Cinque" gave Hearst 24 hours after the tape arrived Thursday to personally come up with $4 million more in free food—a demand the publisher said was impossible to meet. The Hearst Corp. pledged the money, but only on the condition the kidnaped girl was first released unharmed.

"Cinque" said talks would be ended and Miss Hearst treated as "a prisoner of war" if the demand were not met.

Car Smashes Fence And Three Buses

Three private school buses and a section of chain link fence were smashed at 2:30 a.m. today when a car went out of control, San Rafael police reported.

The driver, Angela Sue Johnson, 24, of 3 Bayview Street, Apt. 5, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut scalp and booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of drunken driving. She was released on her own recognizance to appear March 6 in Marin Municipal Court.

According to police, she was westbound on Du Bois Street when her car hit the fence of Isi Inc. at 623 Irwin Street. It smashed the fence and hit one of the buses and bounced off it, then hit a second bus, pushing that one sideways into the third bus. The buses are owned by Jamison Hall School, 3833 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, and stored on the lot.

No estimate of damage has been made.

No Precedent Found For Privilege Claim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department made public today a study showing that no instance had been uncovered of executive privilege being invoked in the past to deny Congress evidence sought in any impeachment proceeding.

Attorney General William B. Saxbe released the final three sections of a Justice Department study being sent to the White House, Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski and the House Judiciary committee, which has initiated an impeachment inquiry against President Nixon.

"We are not aware of any impeachment involving a federal official... where executive privilege was invoked," the study compiled by the Justice Department Office of Legal Counsel reported.

If the President refused Congress information it wants, the study said, the Chief Justice while presiding over the Senate trial might rule either for or against executive privilege.

A ruling, if in favor of executive privilege, could be overruled by the Senate "following established custom that the Senate has the last word on admissibility of evidence," the Justice Department experts noted.

"If the President persisted in his refusal to comply, a constitutional confrontation of the highest magnitude would ensue," they concluded.

On Capitol Hill, Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott said President Nixon, at a meeting with GOP leaders this morning, signaled "an atmosphere of cooperation" with the Judiciary Committee.

"I believe there will be a desire to cooperate," Scott said of the President but noted Nixon emphasized that any committee request for White House documents would have to be "relevant and reasonable."

He quoted Nixon as saying, "Everyone wants to see what can be worked out."

The House committee is awaiting an answer to its first formal request for White House information in the impeachment inquiry.

That request was made Monday in a letter which John M. Doar, special impeachment counsel for the committee, sent to James D. St. Clair, Nixon's attorney. The action was disclosed yesterday.

Door resisted efforts by some committee members to impose a deadline for St. Clair's response. He told members last week that it should take only "a day or two" for St. Clair to assemble the information.

Six On Welfare To Become Aides

Welfare recipients will be used as classroom aides in children's centers run by the Marin County schools office, the Marin County Board of Education decided last night.

Robert E. Spain, assistant superintendent, said up to six persons on welfare will be hired and paid by the state.

The only cost to the county schools office will be workmen's compensation insurance and one-fourth of travel expenses for the welfare recipients, Spain said. He said the workmen's compensation insurance would be a "minimal" cost and the transportation expense can not be figured until it is determined how far the employees travel to work.

The aides will be hired as soon as agreement for the program is signed by Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and the State Employment Development Department.

Marin County Board of Education Also:

PERSONNEL — Recommended Gary D. Nelson for appointment to the Marin County Schools Personnel Commission. Appointment will be made by the executive officer of the state Personnel Board.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Rana Sherman as a distributive education teacher through June 14 for $2,754 and Linda Thran and Beth Winton as instructional aides for $3.40 per hour.

JAIL — Hired Raymond Wilmot as teacher in the new educational program at the Marin County Jail. Instruction will begin Monday and he will be paid $3,792 through June 30.

MUSIC — Hired Lawrence Short, John Land and John Schuster as consultants for the county music festival March 10. Each will be paid $150 as directors of different musical groups.

GRADUATE — Awarded a high school diploma to Debra Granados for graduation from Sunny Hills School for disturbed teenagers.

APPLICATION — Made annual renewal of application for state funds for its program for children with hearing problems.

BUDGET Received budgets for special schools for 1974-75 which include only step increases for employees. Complete budget will be received by the board when it meets March 12.

CLOSED — Met in closed session with its negotiator on salaries but took no action.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to March 12 at 8 p.m. at the county schools office.

Massive Power Outage Occurs In S. Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Most of Tucson and many other Southern Arizona cities were hit by a massive power blackout early today.

The outage was caused by a shorted wire in a transformer at a Bureau of Reclamation substation in Mesa, Ariz., said a Benson, Ariz. power plant dispatcher.

In Tucson, the runway at Tucson Intenational Airport was closed for about 30 minutes and most radio and television stations were out of operation.

A spokesman for Tucson Gas and Electric Co., Thomas Morron, said Southern Arizona communities were affected because rural cooperative electric companies are served by the same transmission lines that serve the Tucson area.

Derailment Of Express Train

ELAZIG, Turkey (UPI) — The Anatolian Express hit a landslide and derailed near this city in eastern Turkey today, police said.

They said rescue workers recovered 10 bodies from the train wreckage.

The accident occurred as the train was pulling out of Elazig.

Governor's Mansion Plans Are Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Public Works Board today approved plans for construction of Gov. Ronald Reagan's $1.45 million "dream house" mansion for future California chief executives.

Reagan, who had made construction of a new residence for California governors one of his top priority items during his final year in office, already had approved the plans. The drawings were unveiled to the public at the board meeting today.

The mansion plans, among other things, call for six bedrooms, a swimming pool, sauna, tennis court, guest rooms and two employee rooms, a study, formal and family dining rooms. An originally proposed wine cellar-bomb shelter was discarded.

The structure would be located on a bluff overlooking the peaceful American River in suburban Carmichael east of Sacramento. That 11-acre site was donated to the state by a group of Reagan supporters.

Street Sweepers Take Over As Another Mardi Gras Ends

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Garbage vans and street sweepers reclaimed the French Quarter today from hordes of devils, clowns, coolies and other carnival revelers who came to share in Mardi Gras 1974.

Don Quixote and Aldonza, Anthony and Cleopatra, Quasimodo, Nixon and Agnew were among the hundreds of literary and political figures represented by masqueraders who packed the quarter to booze and sing yesterday, the last day before the beginning of Lent.

Pete Fountain, toting a toddy in one hand and his clarinet in the other, lurched onto Bourbon Street at high noon with his "Half-Fast Marching Club" to start a series of parades, just minutes before fire broke out in a French Quarter restaurant.

The blaze completely destroyed Johnny White's Bar and Restaurant, one half block from Bourbon Street, and forced evacuation of a six-block area of the Quarter for the second time in two days.

It was the third French Quarter fire of Mardi Gras week. No one was injured in any of the blazes.

Thousands of celebrants poured into the streets early yesterday morning to begin the last fling of drinking and merriment before Easter.

One man and his family, costumed as red devils, said they had dressed the same way every Mardi Gras for the past four years.

"Why do we do it? Because we like it and it fits our personality."

Another man, dressed in Arab garb, toted a one-gallon gasoline can and a sign reading: "Shalom. I need gas."

Earl Rottman of Ponchatoula, La., brought a live alligator along to the parade and police had to cordon off an area of Canal Street for the reptile's cage.

"The thing I like about it is that it's a chance to totally let yourself go without worrying about the consequences," said Lucille Storen, 22, of Mt. Vernon, N.Y. "Admittedly, there are consequences, but no one worries about them."

A family dressed as tomatoes were having a good time in a crowd that guzzled beer from paper cups, wine from plastic jugs and whiskey from anything that would hold it.

Others were disguised as mushrooms, the moon, kings, dukes and lords, mummies, doctors and transvestites. There was a gang of young men dressed in black leather, one of whom had cut away the seat of his pants, exposing his backside to the 40-degree temperatures.

Camera Valued At $400 Is Stolen

A $400 camera belonging to a Redwood High School teacher was stolen at the school yesterday, Larkspur police reported today.

Ian Cook told police someone took the camera between 1 and 4 p.m. from the teachers' work room at the school.

Lunch Patches Up A Squabble

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Prince Rainier and Princess Grace have sealed their reconciliation with Jacqueline and Aristotle Onassis with lunch in the prince's palace.

Court informants said Christina Onassis, the Greek shipowner's daughter, also attended the lunch yesterday. Onassis and his wife arrived in Monte Carlo Sunday.

Prince Rainier and Onassis had been at odds since the early 1960s when Onassis refused to participate in a development plan for the principality. At the time, he held the controlling interest in the Societe des Bains de Mer, which owns the Monte Carlo Casino and several hotels.

Runaway Auto Injures Woman

EDMONDS, Wash. (UPI) — Daphne J. Kopp, 38, lost two rounds with her driverless car but is alive to tell about it.

Police said Mrs. Kopp alit from her auto Monday after backing it out of her garage. The car roared backwards, and the housewife gave chase. She tried to jump into the car as it careened wildly about, but it ran over her posterior. Then the car turned again and bore down on her.

Mrs. Kopp was struck a second time but neighbors managed to rescue her before she was seriously hurt.

ARMY HELICOPTERS AT HAMILTON

Like a protective arm pointing skyward, the propeller of a UH-1H or Huey helicopter rests on the flightline at Hamilton Air Force Base. Behind it are an OH-58 or Kiowa and another Huey helicopter. All are part of a contingent of planes and men of the Sixth Army which has been transferred to Hamilton. Though a few months ago it was thought that there would be a number of surplus buildings for sale to other government agencies, the Sixth Army offices are in temporary buildings on a parking lot.

Hospital Board Rejects Vocational Nurses On Pay

The Marin Hospital District board last night turned down most of the requests for pay increases and fringe benefits sought by licensed vocational nurses at Marin General Hospital, but did grant some raises.

The vocational nurses had asked 6 per cent across-the-board raises, but the board gave only 5.5 per cent increases to those in the bottom range of the salary scale.

The board's personnel committee had reported that salaries for those in the top scales were equal or above other Bay Area hospitals, according to Ray K. Bollinger, hospital administrator.

The vocational nurses also had asked a 10 per cent shift differential pay for the afternoon and night shifts, but the board decided that the current differential of 25 cents an hour for the afternoon and 20 cents for the night shift were adequate.

In other action, the board approved spending up to $10,000 for a seismological study of the hospital which state officials have said is necessary before air conditioning can be installed.

The board learned of two gifts, $3,900 from Ametek for video monitoring equipment and $1,200 from Zonta Club of Marin for an autotransfusion system.

Marin Farm Bureau Members Warned Of Land Use Controls

Farmers must join and strengthen local planning efforts or face the prospect of dictatorial controls on land use imposed by federal or state governments, a director of the American Farm Bureau Federation warned Marin ranchers last night.

Proper land use planning can be helpful to agriculture, Lloyd Sommerville told members of the Marin Farm Bureau at their annual membership meeting.

If "unguided urbanization" spreads to farmland, he said, it can result in excessive taxation, problems with water or dust and loss of the best agricultural land.

Sommerville, who also is president of the Colorado Farm Bureau, criticized proposed congressional legislation which would force the state to prepare comprehensive land use plans.

Under federal or state controls, "your rights as property owners may be in jeopardy," he declared. "You may be denied the right of management of your own property."

A common theme in new regulations, Sommerville said, is "the public's demand to have a public input into private decisions on management of land."

City dwellers, "looking out from their smog, across the polluted waterways, believe they have a vested right in the green grass of the countryside," he said.

He urged members of the agricultural community to work with their county supervisors, the state legislature and congress to "preserve the freedom to own, use and develop private land."

Farm Bureau members last night reelected James L. Spaletta, president; Robert A. Borello, first vice president; Robert E. Parks, second vice president, and Richard L. Grossi, secretary-treasurer.

New members added to the board of directors were: Ralph Grossi, Wilfred Leib, and Charles Spaletta.

New Switch On An Old Dish Is Pilgrim Yam Casserole

Sweet potatoes are one of several truly native American vegetables. Along with corn, pumpkins, squash and new varieties of beans and peas, these crops supplemented the familiar foods the colonists brought with them from England. As with corn, the Indians were cultivating sweet potatoes long before the arrival of the first settlers, and later taught them the value of this versatile crop.

Yam is another name for sweet potatoes, especially in some parts of the South. Actually the two vegetables belong to different plant families. However, they are so hard to tell apart that yams and sweet potatoes are interchangeable in any recipe.

Pilgrim's Yammunition is a tempting version of the classic candied sweet potato. Entered in an American recipe contest for a food company, it was selected as one of the top recipes.

Bananas are combined with sliced yams in this jiffy casserole which is glazed with a mixture of orange juice, corn syrup and margarine. A sprinkling of coconut adds a flavorful topping to this tasty dish. The originator of the recipe says, "The Pilgrims loved it and so will you."

PILGRIM'S YAMMUNITION

2 cans (17-ounces each) yams, drained and cut into 1/2-inch slices
2 medium ripe bananas, sliced
⅓ cup margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons orange juice
½ cup flaked coconut

Alternate layers of yams and banana slices in a 1-quart casserole ending with a layer of yams.

Melt margarine. Stir in salt, corn syrup and orange juice. Pour over yams and bananas. Cover and bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Remove from oven. Carefully pour off some of margarine mixture into a cup. Pour over yams and bananas to baste. Sprinkle with coconut.

Bake uncovered for about 10 minutes, or until coconut is browned. Serve hot. Makes six servings.

PILGRIM'S YAM casserole is an updated version of the classic candied sweet potato, orange juice, bananas and coconut.

Savory Chops Can Pep Up An Appetite

If family members seem to be losing interest in the same old hamburgers, hot dish or hash, sweet and savory Pork Chops with Sauerkraut Stuffing might pep up lagging appetites.

The pre-preparation can be completed the night before. Just cover the baking dish tightly and refrigerate. Pork Chops with Sauerkraut Stuffing will wait until you're ready to bake. Then round out this simple meal with spiced apple rings and parsley garnish, buttered green beans and warm rolls.

PORK CHOPS WITH SAUERKRAUT STUFFING

5 cups seasoned croutons
1 1-lb. can (2 cups) sauerkraut, undrained
3 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup thinly sliced, pared apple (about one large)
6 pork loin chops, ¾-inch thick
Shortening
Salt
Pepper

Place croutons, sauerkraut, brown sugar and apple in large mixing bowl; toss until combined. Set aside.

Brown chops on both sides in large frypan in small amount of melted shortening over medium heat. Salt and pepper to taste. Arrange pork chops in bottom of greased 11¾ x 7½ x 1¾-inch (2 quart) baking dish. Spoon croutons mixture evenly over pork chops. Cover baking dish tightly with aluminum foil.

Bake in moderate oven (350) about 1 hour and 15 minutes or until chops are tender.

Serves six.

New Orleans Inspires A Fish Treat

New Orleans is noted for its entertainment, architecture, and its intriguing history. It also offers fabulous foods ranging from gourmet to downright good-and-easy. Snapper, Spanish mackerel, and mullet are a few of the fish caught in this area.

If you choose thick fish fillets from one of these species and create an entree such as fish fillets tarragon with sauce Dijon, you'll be living New Orleans style even though you may never leave home. The thick fillets are marinated in a mixture of oil, tarragon vinegar, paprika, garlic, and cayenne that accents the delicately-flavored fish. Broiled and basted with more of the marinade, the fish fillets soon create an aroma that will have your hungry ones waiting eagerly for you to serve dinner.

Sauce Dijon, reminiscent of New Orleans' French Quarter, is an inspiration of flavor to top the savory fillets.

FISH FILLETS TARRAGON WITH SAUCE DIJON

2 pounds thick fish fillets (red snapper, mullet, or Spanish mackerel) fresh or frozen
¼ cup cooking oil
¼ cup tarragon vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 clove garlic, sliced
Dash cayenne
Paprika
Chopped parsley
Sauce Dijon (recipe follows)

Thaw frozen fish. Skin and cut into six portions (if desired). Place fish in shallow dish. Combine oil, vinegar, salt, paprika, garlic, and cayenne; pour over fillets. Cover and refrigerate at least 2 hours, turning several times. Place fillets on well-greased broiler pan. Broil about three inches from heat 12 to 15 minutes or until fish flakes

Tips On Picking Pickles

How do you decide which style pickle to buy? Well, it may help to know that all cucumber pickles are related to one or another of an easily-remembered handful of varieties, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service.

First is the dill pickle, flavored primarily with the aromatic herb dill, and sometimes supplemented with various mixed spices. The dill pickle comes in three variations: genuine dills, prepared by a long process of natural fermentation; processed dills, which start out in a brine of salt and water and are finished later in a dill solution; and the quickly fermented, cucumber-dill "overnight" pickle. Some dill pickles are "kosher" or "kosher-style." The term has religious significance in accord with Hebrew law, but in the United States has come to mean that the pickles are more highly spiced with onion and garlic.

After the dill pickle comes the sour pickle. As with the dill, the cucumber is first fermented in a salt brine. Sour pickles are finished in a solution of vinegar and spices. Some relishes and piccalilli are made from sour pickles.

The third basic kind of cucumber pickle is the sweet pickle. These start in the same manner as sour pickles — in a salt brine. They are then put into spicy, sweet liquors and aged, until the desired degree of sweetness is attained.

As with many of the other foods you buy, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has U.S. grade standards for pickles. These grades help manufacturers to properly make and accurately label the products they offer for sale.

When buying pickles, check the labels. This should help you decide whether or not the flavorings are the types that suit you. Pickle prices vary from item to item and brand to brand. This is because some types are much more costly to make. Small whole cucumbers, long processes, and more costly spices and other ingredients are reasons for high priced items.

Spinach Adds Change Of Pace To Salads

A delightful change of pace in salads and a welcome cooked vegetable, fresh spinach is in good supply right now. To help you choose the highest quality — follow these tips from the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service:

Look for fresh, young, crisp/leaves which have a good green color.

Avoid spinach with coarse leaves, fibrous stems, yellowish-green in color, or in a wilted condition.

Try these spinach ideas:

SAVORY SPINACH SQUARES

- 4 eggs
- ⅔ cup milk
- ¼ cup melted butter
- ½ cup minced onion
- 2 tablespoons dry parsley flakes
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon thyme
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 pounds fresh spinach, cooked and chopped
- 2 cups cooked rice
- 2 cups shredded processed American cheese

Beat eggs; add milk combined with butter, onion, parsley flakes, Worcestershire sauce, salt, thyme and nutmeg. Mix well. Combine remaining ingredients; add egg mixture and mix well. Pour into a greased, shallow, 2-quart baking dish. Bake in a 325 degree oven about 1 hour. Cut into squares and serve. Makes eight servings.

SPINACH SALAD

- 6 slices bacon
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 teaspoons corn starch
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon reserved bacon drippings
- ¼ cup mayonnaise
- ½ cup water
- ¼ cup wine vinegar
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1 10-oz. bag fresh spinach.
- ¾ cup fresh mushrooms, washed and sliced
- 2 hard cooked eggs, chopped

Cook bacon until crisp and reserve drippings. Blend sugar, corn starch, salt and pepper into reserved drippings in skillet, then blend in mayonnaise. Combine water and vinegar. Slowly stir into mixture in skillet. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, 3 to 5 minutes or just until bubbly. Sprinkle onion and bacon over spinach. Add mushrooms and egg; pour in dressing and toss until spinach is well coated. Serve immediately.

Makes five servings.

COLEMAN SCHOOL FAIR

A Starter To Role In San Rafael Centennial

Her daughter's school yard accident five years ago started San Rafael's Jean Kelly on a road of Parent-Teacher Association activities and civic projects that has culminated in her appointment as program chairman of this year's San Rafael Centennial celebration.

When Mary Kelly, then 11, fell and chipped a tooth in the Coleman School yard her mother thought it would be a good idea to replace the paved play area with lawn.

Her idea led to the organization the next year of the Coleman School fair that for nearly 12 months had nearly 300 Coleman families busy preparing and planning for the one-day event held in the summer of 1970 in Dominican College's Forest Meadows.

During the months preceding the fair, Mrs. Kelly, as its chairman, manned a specially installed telephone in her home to organize the volunteers.

A throng of 7,000 turned out for the fair and old fashioned parade down Fourth Street which featured 1,000 marchers wearing colorful turn-of-the-century garb. During the six hour event $8,000 was raised for the Coleman School lawn.

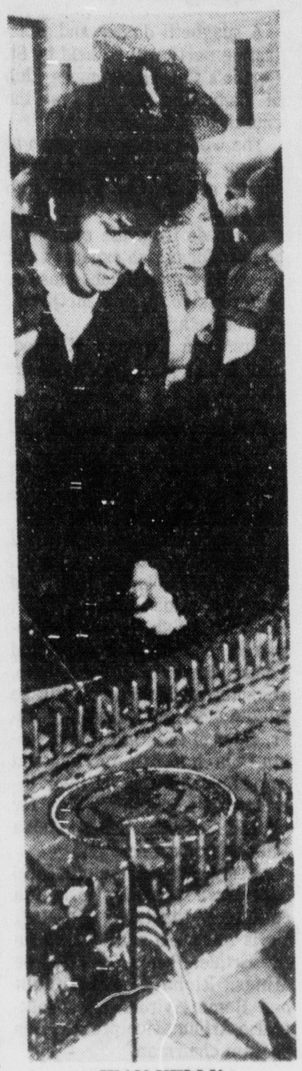

But the Kelly family's involvement with that lawn was not quite finished, Jean Kelly laughingly recalled. Her son, Frank, then 10, tripped over a wire barricade protecting the newly planted lawn and broke his arm.

Following the fair Mrs. Kelly was elected president of the Coleman School Parent-Teacher Association and the following year president of the Davidson Middle School P-TA, where she innovated a family night that attracted 750 persons.

After two years as historian for the local P-TA Council, she announced her "retirement" last year to spend a year reading and painting. Mrs. Kelly works in oils on Sundays and studies Monday mornings with artist Gay Fahrner of San Rafael, whom she met during the Coleman fair.

BUT THE national political situation last summer, she said, had her "almost ready to throw in the towel." When the San Rafael centennial celebration was announced, she decided this was a chance to help give the children of San Rafael an understanding of history that could lead to a better understanding of the future.

As a result, she helped design a package of plans for the centennial celebration, presented it to the Centennial Committee, and was appointed program chairman.

JEAN KELLY
Admires San Rafael's cake

That package has grown into a 10-day observance to begin May 17 and feature such events as a giant parade, a regatta, musical production written and produced by Paul and Val McMullen of San Rafael and a fireworks display. It is planned to appeal to everyone in the city, from children to senior citizens, she said.

"We particularly want children to participate so they can take pride in their heritage and in the past," emphasized Mrs. Kelly, adding that her own family is very much involved in the centennial celebration.

Her husband, Francis X. Kelly, partner in a San Francisco accounting firm and member of the San Rafael Board of Education, is business manager for the McMullens' musical "Jubilee' while the five Kelly children, ranging in age from 10 to 15, will try-out for parts, work on makeup and sell centennial buttons.

Mrs. Kelly, who does not believe in meetings ("when people overmeet it wears them out"), organizes the hundreds of volunteers working on the centennial from a telephone in the Centennial Committee's office at City Hall or from her home.

When a meeting must be called, she adds, "it should never go over an hour. . . you'd lose me."

Mrs. Kelly's studies in television and radio broadcasting at Stephens College and the University of Southern California and skills from doing promotion for the Chrysler Corp. in Southern California after her graduation have aided her in her volunteer work.

Before her marriage and retirement from professional life in 1957 she was employed by the J. Walter Thompson Co. advertising firm in San Francisco.

THE KELLYS moved to Marin in 1961, living in Mill Valley and Corte Madera before coming to San Rafael six years ago.

Recently Mrs. Kelly has started instructing radio on a volunteer basis at the Coleman School, teaching third through sixth graders script writing, broadcasting techniques and timing.

"If you could only see the enthusiasm and creativity of those children," she beamed.

When not cooking and caring for her family, tending to centennial chores, driving 13-year-old Ann Louise to viola lessons, overseeing homework, newspaper routes and cub scout activities and having dinner parties for 50, she finds time to speed read "one book a day" — usually biography or "something on the English Regency period."

Tracing her own involvement in community affairs to her parents, Thomas J. and Lena McGlynn of Red Bluff, Jean Kelly recalls in the 1930s their borrowing money to "give the city a swimming pool when kids were drowning in the Sacramento River."

Later during World War II, her parents turned their Red Bluff home into an official "Naval base" to provide an overnight resting place for pilots ferrying planes from San Pedro to Seattle.

Maybe her own busy life could be best described in words she often heard as a child spoken by her father, "When you stop learning and giving, you're dead."

Spring Opera Preview Scheduled Tomorrow

The newly established Marin Regional Board of the Spring Opera Association will present a preview tomorrow at 8 p.m. of productions scheduled for the Spring Opera season.

The free public preview will be given by Calvin Simmons, associate director of Western Opera Theater, at Del Mar School in Tiburon. The opera season will open Tuesday at the Curran Theater in San Francisco with a production of "Don Pasquale."

Simmons is a native San Franciscan who began in opera with the San Francisco Boys Chorus. At 17 he became a rehearsal pianist for the San Fraicisco Opera and became assistant conductor for the Merola Opera Program.

Chairman of the new Marin regional board of Spring Opera Association is Mrs. J. J. Graves Jr. of Ross, and co-chairman is Mrs. Mark Kasanin of Belvedere. Other officers are Mrs. Donald Blinco of Tiburon, secretary; and Mrs. Theodore Martin of San Rafael, treasurer.

New Media Panelists Agree On Pitfalls, Rewards In The Field

By KAREN PETERSON

Women who want to work in the news media may face lower salaries and discrimination but if they're persistent and get the job, they'll never want to do anything else, a panel of newswomen agreed last night at the "Women and Media" program at the Young Women's Christian Association center in San Rafael.

"I love it. I have ideas and I need an audience," said panelist Lori Lerner. "You have to have confidence. Let them know that they really need you. If you have strong convictions and if you're into what you're doing, you'll take less money."

The panelists, representing both radio and newspapers at the "Knowledge is Power" series, were Miriam Goodman of "Ms Understood" on KNEW radio, Jorie Talks" on KTIM radio, Lori Lerner, former news director of KRE radio; newspaperwomen Jo Ann Garlington of the San Rafael Pointer and the Terra Linda News, and Barbara Hosmer and Joan Lisetor of the Independent-Journal.

IN RADIO, said Miss Lerner, women are often told that their voices aren't "credible," or that they should work their way up from a lesser position. To "show their eagerness to learn," added Mrs. Goodman.

While she said, there are still too few women broadcasters in the Bay Area, Miss Lerner believes that women are being hired now. Mrs. Goodman also said that network exectuives are taking the time to talk to women applicants personally. "That's what the (feminist) movement has done," she said.

Women who want to work for newspapers should start on small weeklies or dailies, said Miss Hosmer, but they should watch out for lower starting salaries. Althcugh, added Miss Garlington, salary would be secondary after "pounding the streets" for a newspaper job.

"You can't be specialized, and you will have to have experience because you'll be competing with people who may have a lot of experience," said Miss Garlington, who also warned that the economic situation, the shortage of paper and advanced technology could mean a diminishing end to newspaper field in the future.

ANY NEWSWOMAN involved in the feminist movement also runs the risk of substituting "personal" journalism for objectivity, cautioned the panelists. But to Mrs. Goodman, a biased program is just what is needed to offset women's discrimination.

"I may be one-sided," she said, "but all the other media is on the other side. I want to be sisterly. I don't want to be a perpetuator of divisions among women."

"I can push an organization I want to promote, and I don't hide that at all," said Miss Lerner, but it's still our responsibility to give the people what they want" to hear. The newspaper reporters said that they aimed for a balanced kind of coverage with objectivity as the goal.

Cyclamate May Make A Return

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cyclamate — once considered the scourge of soft drinks — may be on the way back.

The Food and Drug Administration FDA recently was petitioned to have cyclamate reinstated as a food additive. Cyclamate is an artificial sweetener that was used in various foods before being banned in 1969. The ban stemmed from a two-year rat study. Rats in the study ate cyclamates in various doses and later developed bladder tumors.

Subsequent studies in Germany, England, the Netherlands and Japan have failed to duplicate the results of the rat study. That's one reason for the petition by Abbott Laboratories of Chicago asking the FDA to okay cyclamates. Rats in the study who got bladder tumors were fed cyclamates over 240 times the level a human might consume.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

It's About Time To Throw Out The Losing Hand — Your Husband

DEAR HELEN:

Every two or three months, my husband goes on a binge that puts us up to our necks in debt.

He takes all our money, the car which enables me to get to work, and gambles until he goes broke. Then he starts selling our furniture, to buy booze, broads, and a good time.

Afterwards, he ends up at his mother's who gives him what he needs to finish up on. Sometimes she bails him out of jail.

His mother has even stooped so low as to come with him to our house while I'm working and help him haul off an air conditioner, radio, TV, stereo — things I've bought on my salary. She gives him the money for them and keeps them at her house.

He is very abusive to me and my kids (they aren't his). Besides slapping me around, he accuses me of going out on him, which I don't.

It's my car, but he won't let me use it except to go to work. He won't allow me to have friends or phone calls, but he does anything he pleases, including calling up his Mama and talking for about an hour every night.

He won't stay with Alcoholics or Gamblers Anonymous — the binges mean too much to him. Besides, with Mama there, he never really has to face up to his problems.

What can I do? I gambled that my love would change him, and I — LOST

DEAR LOST:

A good gambler knows when to throw down a losing hand. I'd pass the deal to Mama and get out of the game. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

"Thinker" asked why blacks weren't allowed to adopt handicapped or racially mixed children. They are, and they do.

I am a black single man who recently adopted a little boy I found in Vietnam. He's dark like me, but his race doesn't matter. He's my son. — PROUD FATHER

DEAR HELEN:

Since we have adopted a black Vietnamese child, have three natural children, and are currently awaiting the arrival of another hard-to-place Asian (handicapped) child, I feel I can answer "Thinker's" letter.

Her first point was that white families are "urged" to adopt handicapped or mixed-race children. Not so! Many people aren't emotionally capable of raising such children and welfare workers carefully screen applicants, probably even more thoroughly than they do for healthy white babies.

Her second point was the "affluent" blacks should adopt them. The amount of money a family makes has little to do with approval for adoption. Much of our furniture comes from auction sales or thrift stores. Our car is eight years old. The year our child arrived from Vietnam, our total income was $4,000. I make ends meet by sewing all the family clothes, canning our garden produce, etc. The most important thing is knowing we have much love to offer a very special child.

She further stated that agencies are prejudiced. How wrong she is. They want the best for their children. — LYNDA L.

RECALLS EARLY YEARS

A Social Worker's Attitudes Growing

By BARBARA HOSMER

After 15 years of social work, Pat Gallagher of San Anselmo is seeing something new happening both in her porfessional attitude toward the women's growth groups she conducts and in the women themselves.

As a licensed clinical social worker she is beginning to "identify ways women experience themselves that suggest patterns" to her, perhaps to be part of a new feminist therapy.

"In working with women now I see my role as facilitating their growth in encouraging them and giving techniques for moving from their roles and dependencies of others to what is unique in them," she explained.

And what is unique is usually covered up, she added.

From her experience in conducting women's growth groups, first at the Unitarian Church in San Rafael and for the past year in private practice, Miss Gallagher said she has gained a view of the process in which women move:

THE ANUT SALLY syndrome in which the self is defined in an external way. She has repressed jealousy and resentment which may result in "bitchiness — leaked anger". This woman doesn't dare express her real feelings, instead playing the "good girl" or "good wife" she thinks she is supposed to be.

The Earth Mother or Superlady who believes she must make her husband well or rescue him. She must be the party in control. She is split between who she is and who she feels she should be and there is conflict between these feelings.

The Invisible Woman who is giving up roles which would all be stereotypes such as "old maid" or "superlady."

The Self Conscious Woman who moves to a position of choice. She is liberated to the extent in which she takes positions of choice, though she may have guilts, as perhaps about mothering.

"THE TASK is getting in touch with what one wants and seeing it is obtainable," she stated. "To free up amounts of energy is exciting to behold and I subjectively share it.

"Energy I get from that is why I do what I do — where it's at for me," Miss Gallagher explained. "This is a learning process for me, and it's very exciting. I am most interested in finding ways of facilitating evolution of consciousness that work."

The counselor will present her identification processes of women's growth encumbrances in a paper for the National Conference of Social Workers in May.

The women from her private practice growth groups often enter marital therapy, she added. After a while the women come in with their husbands because they get curious and want to see what is going on. "The men have ploughed in like gangbusters," she said.

"I would like to see more competent men run men's growth groups because the sexism thing is full of potential for men as well as women. Sex role stereotypes are involved in broken marriages," she said.

Miss Gallagher, seated at her dining room table at her San Anselmo hillside home, recalled her years of social work and changes underway in it and in her professional work.

"I SPENT 15 years unaware of the 'set-up'," she said. "In my own field now there is the attempt to look at how social work deals with women. My clients were mostly women. Social work has its sexism too, with vastly disproportionate numbers of men in leadership. I had the whole penis envy trip in college psychology. We are beginning to look at the assumptions and stereotypes we have blindly followed." she said.

Miss Gallagher has been one of a group of Bay Area women therapists who have begun to meet as a feminist group within the profession, but they have not continued the loosely knit association. Each is doing her own work, instead, she said.

The counselor grew up in poor sections of Richmond and Oakland. She did field work in Marin City in 1957 as a graduate social work student at the University of California.

"This education has been of greater use to me more recently," she said. Most of her work has been for agencies including Marin Catholic Social Service, until two years ago, when she went into private practice with two male partners in San Rafael as the Mental Health Counseling Group. That is when she began to focus on women and couples' counseling.

With the help of Bettye Doty, she also started women's growth encumbrances — it's Church in Terra Linda. "I discussed with Bettye women's growth encumbrances — it's clearer to me now. I have learned a lot in this year," she said of her own groups.

In the women's groups, there is a certain point when one reaches out and feels the need for role models, Miss Gallagher said. "We do some role playing and use Gestalt as one method. It makes it possible to see roles more clearly," she said of such techniques.

The counselor is interested in starting couples' groups.

"It can be upsetting to a man to see his wife go through changes he doesn't understand. He has to have some help. If she has been operating on "standard operating procedure" in the marriage and then comes and starts to get through some growth blocks and gets to a certain point, then I'm not surprised to see him come."

Some women reached the point where they were able to risk dealing with the problem of a husband, she said.

"Many men have an increasing interest in what goes on in the women's movement. They sense it's important and they shouldn't be excluded," she said.

Theme For Shops' Open House Picked

"Walk on the Wild Side" is the theme for the public open house of shops in Ross March 7 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Members of the committee are Mmes. Donald Buttard, Eugene Clahan, M. Arthur Gensler, Albert W. Seidel, William McCormick, Michael Mertz, Bowman and Charles.

Homes For Students Are Sought

Toni Roby of San Anselmo is seeking homes for students who will be coming from Europe this summer to participate in a foreign exchange program.

The program, Foreign Student Center, is being held for the first time on the West Coast. Mrs. Roby, who was an exchange student in France 10 years ago while attending Redwood High School, is coordinating the program for the Center for English Studies.

"Families will only be asked to take the students into their homes and share with them an ordinary family life," she said. "If they go away for a weekend it would be nice if they took the students, and if there are other children in the home who do dishes and other chores, they will be expected to do them."

The students, aged approximately 17 to 25, will take courses in American culture and heritage during their four weeks' stays. If enough homes are found two groups will come, one in July and the other in August, Mrs. Roby said.

Families interested in the program can contact Mrs. Roby, 34 Woodland Avenue in San Anselmo.

Don't Let Child Wear Wet Boots

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Medical Association cautions mothers against letting the small fry wear winter boots with wet linings. It might cause Shoe Boot Pernio, or chilblains.

The AMA cuation is based on a report in Archives of Dermatology. The report tells of several children who came down with the nasty skin condition after playing in the snow. The snow got into the waterproof boots, melted and encased feet in ice water.

Pernio results in painful, tender, bluish-red nodules that last about 10 days to two weeks. They itch and burn.

Valuable Lessons Can Be Gained In Providing Care

By CYNTHIA PARSONS
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

Read the "help wanted" ads, and you discover there are a lot of elderly single persons and couples who would like someone to cook and provide simple care for them.

Older high-school students and recent college graduates might give serious thought to such a job. It could be one way to see another part of the country or even the world, depending upon the location.

The lessons learned about sharing by providing care for another can be a cushion through adulthood in learning how to work in close harmony with others.

Some of the job offers are enticing: "Own room and bath. Color television. Two days off a week. Employer provides the car, all you provide is a license and the necessary skills."

Most such positions require a knowledge of simple cooking. Today, such a requirement should not automatically turn young people away. From freezer to oven doesn't take a chef's skill. And many single men and women become very proficient cooks, given the time to learn and the means to buy good ingredients.

THE BIGGEST adjustment for most of today's young people may be in closing the generation gap. So few families now include older aunts or grandpas that it may take a little time until someone under 30 discovers that just because his or her employer is not running the mile literally in less than four minutes, it doesn't mean he may not be doing so figuratively.

The young helpers may discover their older employers have much they can share from their years of reading, work, and travel. They also can provide that all-important recommendation for the second job.

Few young people realize how difficult it is to get a first job. Almost everyone wants to know if you have a recommendation from your last job. And if you haven't really done much but baby-sit and pump gas, you haven't much of a selling point.

But once you've shown some responsibility, proved consistently that you can do a thorough job of whatever it is you are asked to do, and can get a spontaneous enthusiastic reference from your past employer, you'll find it much easier to get that second job.

IF YOU don't want to "live in," there are many older folks who need part-time care both for chauffering and for providing light meals. As the cost of gasoline soars, you may want to think of ways to earn money to help you purchase and operate a well maintained car.

Again, watch the newspaper ads. Some folks want a full-time chauffeur. Many more want a part-time driver. You might want to advertise your services in the local paper. Or you might be able to fill your car on a regular basis by soliciting customers at a residential hotel, retirement home, or apartment complex. Check your local requirements for insurance and chauffeur's licenses before doing so, however.

You might get a carload every Sunday morning for delivery to church, another carload on Tuesday afternoons to a shopping center, a third carload Thursday evenings to a symphony concert, and more riders on Saturday mornings going to a grocery store.

The monetary rewards should be adequate, and you should not sell your services short. At the same time, you'll be rewarded in many other ways. Not the least of these is getting to know someone whose years of experience can be a help to you as you tangle with being "on your own."

THERE ARE a great many people who cannot do much more than very light housework. They can't do any heavy lifting; scrubbing floors is difficult; high window cleaning impossible. There's nothing demeaning about making a home clean and shiny. And there's every kind of appreciation for a cleaning job well done.

All you would have to do to get more work than you could possibly handle is to clean just one house or apartment well. Word-of-mouth advertising will do the rest.

MRS. ROBERT S. LOGAN

Sunny Hills Unit Elects New Officers

Mrs. Robert S. Logan of San Rafael has been elected president of the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary.

Members of the auxiliary raise funds to provide scholarships for students in the Sunny Hills Day Treatment Care Program and also work directly with the students, provide such services as driving them to medical appointments. They also staff the Bargain Box a minimum of six hours per year.

Progress Of Scholarship Recipients

A progress report on scholarship recipients has been issued by Mrs. Vincent Van Riper of San Anselmo, chairman of the scholarship committee of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers.

Of the scholarship recipients, who were awarded funds last June, 14 are still in school. Two of the 14 are working part-time at the hospital and one is continuing to serve as a volunteer.

Mrs. Judy Greenwald and Mrs. Olive Boughton in the Registered Nurse program at the College of Marin, are working at the hospital — Mrs. Greenwald as a unit clerk in the emergency department and Mrs. Boughton as a nurse aid on the 3 to 11 p.m. shift.

Still participating in the volunteer program, in addition to his studies at Dominican College, is Robert Disher, who last month reached more than 1,400 hours of service to the hospital.

Other scholarship recipients who are in the College of Marin program are Joan Forrest and Mrs. Joan Lombardi. Others in nursing programs are Patricia Denies, at St. Mary's College; Linda Berge, at California State Univeristy Chico; Denise D'Ambra, at St. Luke's Hospital, San Francisco, and Paula Perelli-Minetti, Carolyn Kristensen and Barbara Schlesselmann, at the University of San Francisco.

Beverly Dummitt is seeking her bachelor of science degree at Sonoma State College; Paul Oesterman is studying pharmacy at the University of the Pacific, and Nadine Pieroni is at the University of California at Davis in the predental program.

The 14 students, who were awarded scholarships for study in some aspect of the health care field after serving either as a member of the volunteers or as a Marin General employee, are part of the more than 60 scholarship recipients who have received more than $32,000 from the volunteers during the 16-year history of the program.

The scholarship committee represents in-service and branches of the hospital volunteers, and the program receives support from all of the volunteers.

The major fund raising effort for the scholarships is a day at the races, which will be held this year on March 8 at Golden Gate Fields in Albany. Chairman is Mrs. William J. Silvas of San Rafael.

Last year $7,300 was distributed in scholarship grants with a major portion coming from the day at the races.

Pudgy Baby Not Always Healthy

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Fat, pudgy babies are considered cute but they may not be healthy. Babies who get fat during the first year of life may grow to be fat children and fat adults.

So says Harriet Kohn, Extension Food and Nutrition Specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The fat baby and fat child build extra fat cells which can make losing weight later in life difficult.

NOT WITH A BANG — A vacant lot near the Marin Civic Center became a courtroom yesterday for the test firing of a pistol supposedly equipped with an illegal silencer. The six-shot test — using the gun being shot here by inspector Robert Renn of the district attorney's office, and another weapon, held by chief district attorney's investigator Donald E. Midyett — showed the silencer to be effective. Watching the demonstration were (from left) prosecuting attorney Girard R. Courteau and Judge Henry J. Broderick, and, in the rear, jurors and spectators.

Jurors View Gun Test For Trial

By GEORGE NEVIN

As 12 women jurors huddled in a stiff wind at the edge of the Marin Civic Center parking lot yesterday, a man pointed a pistol at a pile of dirt and pulled the trigger.

"Phfffft," went the gun.

The man, investigator Robert Renn of the district attorney's office, took another gun, aimed and fired. It went, "crack."

The jurors, plus Superior Court Judge Henry J. Broderick, court aides, spectators, attorneys and defendant William Reed Lane, 38, had left Broderick's courtroom to stand under blustery, leaden skies for the test-firing of a gun purportedly seized in a drug raid on a Belvedere home.

Besides four drug charges — including possessing four gallons of potent hashish oil for sale — Lane is on trial for possessing a firearm silencer.

Yesterday's demonstration was asked by the prosecuting attorney, Deputy Dist. Atty. Girard R. Courteau, to determine whether the tube-like device on the end of the .22-caliber automatic pistol actually was a silencer.

Renn fired both the gun reportedly found under a mattress at the house where Lane was arrested in July, and a similar gun from his own gun collection.

Three times he shot each gun, and three times the jury heard each sound —a sharp crack from Renn's gun and a spitting sound from the other.

The demonstration was the final evidence presented by Courteau in a trial which already has spanned eight days.

Defense attorney J. Tony Serra then began the defense case by calling Lane's mother, Cyvilla Miholovich of Novato.

She described her son's childhood and several jobs he has held — merchant marine, carpenter and construction worker.

Mrs. Miholovich was due to resume the witness stand today, to be followed by a San Quentin inmate, Victor Sharp.

Serra said he intends to use Sharp's testimony to impeach the prosecution's star witness — undercover informant Wesley Schlagel, who testified last week.

Lane was arrested at a rented home on Belvedere's Corinthian Island following a months-long investigation, according to federal and state narcotics agents.

Proposition Offers A Transit Windfall

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — A little-noticed provision in a statewide proposition on the June ballot could allow Marin to increase greatly the amount of money available for transit.

But rapid action would be necessary to get a companion measure on the local ballot for the county to use the funds immediately for transit if the statewide proposition passes. Unless the county supervisors act within a week it probably will be too late to put the local measure on the ballot.

The result of the delay, if the statewide proposition passes, would be that the county would lose six months of eligibility to use the funds for transit until the local measure could go on the November general election ballot. The alternative would be a costly special election.

The state proposition, No. 5 on the ballot, would allow diversion of motor vehicle tax revenue to transit.

The state constitution has limited the use of such revenue to road purposes since 1938.

The measure was put on the state ballot by the legislature. Voters have turned down similar proposals in past elections, but backers of the new attempt argue the need for transit is far greater now because of energy shortages and air pollution problems.

The state proposition requires that the diversion must also be approved in separate elections in the counties. The proposition, however, was drafted to allow counties to put the local companion measures on the same ballot in June.

Marin voters also will face a local measure to increase the property tax rate for transit from a nickel to 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The additional $1.6 million to be raised initially would buy more buses for local service, then cover their operating deficits, according to the county's staff.

Proposition 5 would permit diversion of gas tax revenues to build "exclusive public mass transit guideways" and related fixed facilities such as stations, but exclude maintenance and operating costs and purchase of transit vehicles. The "guideways" could include exclusive rights-of-way for some sort of vehicle that would run on regular streets as well.

The tax revenues could be used to buy land for transit routes, and to up to 25 per cent of available revenues could be used to finance voter-approved transit bonds. This could permit indirect financing of purchases of transit vehicles for the guideway system.

The state's seven-cent tax on fuel last year raised $1,866,073 for the county and $1,425,244 for its cities, for a total of almost $3.3 million.

The county's election office said the absolute deadline to put such a measure on the local ballot is March 22, but the "practical" deadline because of time needed to prepare the ballot is next Wednesday.

Nixon Is Asked Again To Resign

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Richard Vander Veen, D-Mich., who won Vice President Gerald Ford's old House seat in a heavily Republican district, yesterday accused President Nixon of making a mockery of the Presidency.

In his first formal address since being sworn in last Wednesday, he urged delegates to the National Students Lobby to work hard for other Democrats seeking office.

Vander Veen, the first Democratic congressman from the district since 1910, told his youthful listeners that he is "more convinced than ever" that Nixon owes it to the country to resign.

"He's trampled on our Constitution and he's made a mockery of an office which I hold dear," he said.

Rail Car Now Out Of IRS Reach

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Gretchen Hayden won her court fight yesterday to keep her private railroad car out of the clutches of Internal Revenue Service agents.

U.S. District Judge Charles B. Renfrew ruled yesterday that the ornate old car belongs to 23-year-old Miss Hayden, not to her actor father, Sterling Hayden.

IRS agents confiscated the car in 1972, saying they would sell it for part of the $42,480 they claimed the elder Hayden owed in taxes. Miss Hayden earlier obtained a court order blocking the sale, but the car's ownership was not settled until yesterday.

The car, built in 1893 and formerly owned by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Line, was given to Miss Hayden by her mother, Catherine Hayden, the young woman said. It has sat on a siding at the Morgan rail car repair shops east of Highway 101 in Larkspur since the dispute began.

Hayden, the actor-author-sailor who formerly lived in Sausalito now lives in Connecticut, an IRS spokesman said. Gary Shelton, assistant U.S. attorney, said the car wasn't enough to settle the tax bill that he said Hayden still owes.

Behr Condemns Proposed Building Of New Capitol

Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, last night condemned a proposal to build a new state capitol, and predicted it "never will come into being."

Noting the proposed twin 17-story towers would provide private bathrooms for all 120 legislators, the senator said the project "would be pretty good for the plumbing industry, though not so good for the taxpayers."

He also noted the size of the project was determined in part so that each legislator could have a corner office.

Behr's criticism of the towers came in a talk before the Marin County Republican Central Committee in the Civic Center. The towers are being pushed hard by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, dean of the Senate and unsuccessful opponent of Behr's 1972 bill to preserve North Coast rivers in their natural state.

Predicting the towers would cost $80 million, Behr said it would be far better to remove executive branch offices from the present Capitol to make more room for legislators.

The senator, who is seeking reelection to a second term, conceded "a few people ask me, 'Why are you still a Republican'?" but defended his GOP credentials.

Behr said the GOP "believes in the individual, believes in private enterprise," while the Democratic Party "views with distrust and suspicion the free enterprise system."

Republicans, he declared, "want to give people a hand up, rather than simply a handout."

He cautioned against what he termed a tendency "to follow the leader,"

Behr said his opponent for the nomination in June, Sonoma County Supervisor Robert Theiller, was "very worthy." The senator said, "I am running scared."

He added that while he will appear on the ballot as an incumbent, "I'm not so sure in this election year that I'm pleased about that."

Behr said he had assured the North Coast lumber industry, which is suspicious of him because of his strong environmental record, that he is "educable but not trainable" to the industry's problems.

In the northern areas of the district, he said, "I am an exotic animal, perhaps endangered. I think I will gradually win them over, hopefully before June," he said.

In other business, the committee elected Howard Harvey as secretary to replace Frances Brennan, who resigned the post. It also accepted the resignation of Robert Huber of Mill Valley, who resigned because of the press of business.

Contract For Garbage Is Set

The Almonte Sanitary District board has renewed a contract calling for the DeMartini Co. of Sausalito to collect garbage in the district for another five years.

John J. Crncich said that the new agreement approved Monday raises the annual franchise fee that the garbage company will pay the district from $25 to $50.

Rates charged by the company will remain the same — $2.50 per month for one 32-gallon garbage can.

Halt To Tiburon Bus Stop Signs

Golden Gate Transit has halted installation of controversial bus stop signs in residential areas of Tiburon, city officials reported yesterday.

Residents have protested the shiny 10-foot poles, up to three in a single block, mar the appearance of their neighborhoods.

CHILDREN'S BALLET — Gabrielle Carteris as the Little Tuba; Rita Cunningham as a flute; Priscilla Ford as a French horn, and Toni Mehocich as a piano rehearse a scene from "Tubby the Tuba" to be presented by the Joan Edgerton Gabert's School of Classic Ballet in benefit performances at Dominican College in March.

Troupe Will Perform At Dominican

The Joan Edgerton Gabert's School of Classic Ballet will present its fourth annual benefit performance for the Dominican College's artistic enrichment fund in Angelico Hall on the San Rafael campus.

It will be presented at 8 p.m., March 8, and 1:30 p.m., March 9.

The ballet group will present three numbers. The first is a Vivaldi Concerto choreographed by Barbara Begany, former soloist and member of the San Francisco Ballet Company for eight years.

"Variations" is a ballet to music by Luigini and Krupinski, arranged by Christine Walton, Begany and Gabert as a "homage to Pavlova." It will feature a solo by Lori Gabert and a "Pas de Deux" by two couples, Doreen Singer and Anthony Young, and Lucette Katerndahl and Patrick Kinkade.

The third portion is "Tubby the Tuba," composed by Paul Tripp and George Kleinsinger. It was popularized by Walt Disney. Locally it was first presented in the Youth and Arts series by the Marin Symphony Association with Hugo Rinaldi conducting.

The college's artistic enrichment fund provides aid to deserving underprivileged students in the arts. It is directed by Dr. Ted Blair, head of the college's music department.

Kenyon Spalding Will Run Again

Kenyon Spalding, incumbent director of the Homestead Valley Sanitary District, has filed for reelection to the district board.

Spalding, 67, has served 10 years on the board. He has been a resident of Homestead Valley since 1945 and lives with his wife and son at 660 Ridgewood Avenue.

He is a retired engineer with Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Also up for reelection is board president James G. MacNichols, the only other candidate who has filed.

Polished Playing By Symphony

By SYLVIA L. RUBY

The Marin Symphony gave a generally fine performance last night at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building under the direction of Maestro Sandor Salgo. The theater was nearly full despite the fact that Salgo did not include any popular favorites on the program.

Featured as soloists were two Marin County artists — Bert Truax on trumpet, and Jean Mitchell on cello. Both displayed their considerable talents to good effect, Truax in works by Hovhaness and Albinoni; Mrs. Mitchell in Richard Strauss' "Don Quixote."

The orchestra was particularly polished in the opening work, the "Variaciones Concertantes" by Alberto Ginastera. This must be a first-chair player's delight, as each variation employs a different soloist or pair of soloists, with the full chamber orchestra executing the Argentinian rhythms in the final rondo.

Mrs. Mitchell and harpist Pamela Stutzke spelled out the long melodic theme which subsequently flickered in recognizable passages throughout the variations.

Able soloists included flutist Lucia Schultz, whose decorated line floated out over the strings; violinist Charles Meacham, a perpetual motion machine, and guest bass player Michael Burr, who with the harp recalls the opening theme.

The warm tones and fine reading by Virginia Ojeda were not matched by oboist Jean Stevens in the canonic duet — the oboe was generally too penetrating. William Tull worried over his last clarinet lines in the scherzo, but was otherwise good.

"The Prayer of Saint Gregory" by Hovhaness is an interesting piece in its use of contrasting flavors. The strings are employed in reciting the ecclesiastical chant and playing traditional hymnody, while the trumpet limns oriental melodies, both Middle Eastern and Far Eastern — a pleasant work if not one of great depth.

Truax has a pure sound and the ability to shape tones growing from the almost inaudible to the open and brilliant.

The piccolo trumpet presented some difficulties in the high notes for Truax in the Albinoni Concerto. This seemed to be due to the instruments tendency to fill with condensation.

The use of the full strings with a chamber orchestra might have been cleaner, lent too romantic a sound to the accompaniment, and orchestra, harpsichord, and trumpet were sometimes on separate rhythmic paths. However, Truax showed a good feel for the Baroque trumpet sound, and the aria of the second movement was nicely lyrical.

The Strauss "Don Quixote" did not bring an enthusiastic response from the audience, yet it was masterfully played, and contained many of the evening's finest moments. The problem lies in the fact that it is an overlong work, and Strauss fills it with too many ideas in his attempt to relate the story.

Mrs. Mitchell captured the dignity and pathos of the Don, and was especially eloquent in the description of the ideal woman and in the final death scene. Violist, Lucien Mitchell, was simply marvelous in the role of the stolid squire, Sancho Panza. He delivered his musical lines with comic flair.

Minor flaws occurred in thinly textured accompanying passages, and a few tentative brass entries, but the overall orchestral sound in full was excellent. All sections were strong, solo lines well played, and the balance even.

The final program for the season by the Marin Symphony will be a concert version of the comic opera, "Beatrice and Benedict," by Berlioz at the auditorium at 8 p.m. on April 23.

Novato Council Votes To Extend Planned Developments Freeze

A freeze on processing of planned residential developments in Novato will continue until Aug. 4.

Councilmen voted 4-to-1 last night, with Mayor Fred F. Ruegg dissenting, to extend the freeze, which has been in effect since last October.

The freeze, which applies mainly to townhouses and apartments in planned districts, was enacted last fall to give the planning staff time to work on putting the Novato General Plan into effect.

The staff is now working on a growth control ordinance, considered the key to the general plan, and the intent is to have it ready for action by the time the freeze expires.

The city council also — after a series of heated meetings and strong protests by owners of campers and recreational vehicles — introduced an ordinance to ban overnight parking by "oversized vehicles" on residential streets.

The ordinance will prohibit parking by vehicles more than 20 feet long or seven feet wide between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m., in effect an overnight ban.

About 15 persons protested the ban, charging it would be discriminatory, unnecessary and unduly restrictive.

The council received a petition with 81 signatures supporting the ban which said parking such vehicles on residential streets is unsafe, unsightly, blocks traffic flow and creates a cluttered look. Councilman David Price Jones said another 78 persons signed other petitions favoring the ordinance.

Ruegg and Councilman F. Wayne Sartain said they oppose the ordinance which will be up for adoption next Monday.

The Novato City Council Also:

FLOOD PLAIN — Introduced an ordinance to apply floodway zoning to flood land between South Novato Boulevard and Highway 101 from Diablo Avenue to Sunset Parkway by a 4-to-0 vote with George C. Quesada absent during the vote. The ordinance regulates development in the flood plain with the intent to prevent additional flooding.

NAVE CENTER — Denied an appeal by Richard P. Nave of requirements to provide land, sidewalk and street improvements along south Novato Boulevard in connection with renovation of the Nave Shopping Center. Councilmen granted the appeal of requirements for curb and gutters.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE — Unanimously urged Marin County to declare a state of emergency in the gasoline shortage so emergency powers can be applied.

AGRICULTURAL PRESERVES — Included in agricultural preserves the Wilfred H. Lieb property, 8.6 acres at 1521 Hill Road; the Richardson property, 4787 acres southeast of Deer Island, and the H. M. Rowland property, 71 acres west of Highway 601, opposite Hamilton Air Force Base.

YOUTH SERVICE — Authorized application for $39,639 in federal funds to establish a youth service bureau within the Novato Police Department to "divert youths from the criminal justice system" by counseling and referral to community agencies that deal with youth and family problems.

THEATER SIGN — Denied an appeal by Kenneth Rosenberg of planning commission denial of a variance to retain a freestanding sign higher than the roof of the Cinema Theater II, south of Bolling Drive. The council gave Rosenberg one year to remove the sign or gain approval from the plan review committee for a roof addition that would make the sign conforming.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Monday at the Novato Community House, instead of the regularly scheduled Tuesday meeting because of municipal election day.

Crossing At Grant To Be Maintained

A plan to close the Grant Avenue railroad crossing was abandoned by the Novato City Council last night after protests by merchants.

The council had planned to close the Grant Avenue crossing and instead have a crossing of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks at Sweetser Avenue, as part of the Highway 101 bypass project.

Councilmen instead voted to improve the Grant Avenue crossing and drop the Sweetser crossing by a 3-to-1 vote with George C. Quesada dissenting. Councilman Dorothy P. Young left the meeting before the vote.

About 30 persons appeared to protest the proposed Grant closing and about 10 spoke, claiming it would hurt business along East Grant. No one spoke in favor of the closing.

Public Works Director Robert B. Pedroncelli, citing opposition by merchants, recommended last week that the Sweetser crossing be deleted from the freeway agreement and the city start discussion with the railroad company to upgrade the Grant crossing.

The upgrading would consist primarily of installation of automatic gates to work in conjuction with existing flashing signals, he said.

Councilman Gets Subdivision Extension

The Cotati Planning Commission last night recommended that the city council give Councilman Laura Washburn another year to file a boundary map for her minor subdivision at 733 School Street.

Planning director Mark Thysen said the extension was recommended because of a dispute between Mrs. Washburn and the city over access roads.

City policy, he said, is to not approve subdivision maps unless they provide for access roads to the property.

Mrs. Washburn's land has no road at present, Thysen said, and she has not yet decided whether to build one. The extension would give her another year to make a decision.

The subdivision consists of three lots, one with two existing residences. Mrs. Washburn wishes to build a home on the second lot, Thysen said, and leave the third vacant.

The city council will consider the extension March 12.

The planning commission also approved a position paper urging county planners to protect agricultural land from residential development because agriculture is Sonoma's "number one industry." The county is currently considering new rules for rural subdivisions, Thysen said.

Corporate Gifts To Colleges Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Corporate gifts to colleges and universities, hit by the 1970 slump, have rebounded sharply in the last few years, the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc. reports.

Such gifts totaled $340 million in 1970 and rose to $365 million in 1972, the second largest amount on record. Figures for 1973 were not available.

New Sausalito Library Location Is Worked Out

A new library for the City of Sausalito should be built on the lower terrace of Central School on Caledonia Street, on the eastern portion of the block, the city council decided last night.

The council told City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie to enter contract negotiations with architect Alton S. Lee of Spencer, Lee, Busse and Stypula of Menlo Park.

In choosing the site, they opted for a freeform building that will allow the architect the most flexibility of design.

Only Councilman Evert H. Heynneman opposed the decision. He said more overall planning is needed to integrate the library into plans for other city offices at Central School, according to Janet Tracy, acting city clerk.

Lee gave councilmen "an optimistic" cost estimate for the building of $35 per square foot. The library is proposed for 7,000 square feet.

He said architectural drawings could be complete in four to eight months and that construction would require about eight months. Allowing time for city review of plans, construction could not be complete for more than a year, he said.

The city's library fund currently contains $234,000. At the end of the fiscal year in June, it is expected to be hiked to $255,000 through interest, contributions and property taxes.

Councilmen rejected two other site plans that would have placed the building either in the center or northeast corner of the eastern lot.

Lecture On UFOs

Victor Endersby, consulting engineer, will lecture on Unidentified Flying Objects, Theories and Information at 8 p.m. March 8 at the Marin Center of Parapsychology and Metaphysics at Duncan Hall, Ross and Kensington Streets, San Anselmo.

Apartment Expansion Plan Denied

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night rejected a bid by a Lincoln Avenue apartment owner to expand his apartment complex.

Owner Robert Walling sought approval for addition of eight units to his three-unit complex at 1475 Lincoln Avenue, according to the planning department.

Commissioners cited traffic problems, congestion, parking, landscaping and poor driveway layout in rejecting the expansion.

Commissioners Albert J. Boro, Ben C. Albritton and Alan M. Kay were absent.

The commission approved permits for a four-lot subdivision on Elizabeth Way and approved permits for a nursery school at 46 Louise Street, a family care facility at 25 DeAnza Way and a group care facility at 424 Mission Avenue.

The agency approved political headquarter use of an abandoned gas station at 1011 Lincoln Avenue and put over consideration of a 21 unit complex proposed for 104 Laurel Way.

The commission next meets at 8 p.m. today to consider the preliminary general plan.

Fresh Snow For Skiing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Storms across the Sierra Nevada left three inches to a foot of new snow at ski resorts today and more was forecast beginning in the north tonight.

Skies were overcast and winds were reported on the higher slopes, particularly high up Highway 89, where Squaw Valley reported gusts up to 70 miles per hour.

Operations at selected ski areas as reported by the California State Automobile Association at 10 a.m.:

Interstate 80: Boreal Ridge, 3 inches new snow, 6-8 feet total base depth, very good skiing on packed powder and fresh snow, 3 chair lifts operating; Soda Springs, 5 inches new, 5 feet base, very good powder and packed powder. 1 J-bar, 1 chair; Sugar Bowl, 4-6 inches new, 9-12 feet base, very good packed powder, grooming, 5 lifts.

Highway 50: Heavenly Valley, 3-6 inches new, 7 ½ feet base, very good packed powder and fresh, 8 chairs, 2 pomas, 1 T-bar; Sierra Ski Ranch, 4 inches new, 13 ½ feet base, very good soft powder, partly groomed, 3 chairs, 1 poma.

Highway 88: Kirkwood Meadows, 3 inches new, 7 ½ feet base, very good powder and packed, 5 lifts, 1 rope tow; Silver Basin, 4 inches new, 6 ½ feet base, good packed powder and fresh, 1 chair and a rope tow.

Poached Game Is Given Away

REDDING (UPI) — More than six tons of poached game, illegally taken fish and road kill animals were donated to 50 recipients, ranging from Boy Scouts to county jails, in Northern California last year, according to Department of Fish and Game.

The department's regional office here yesterday said the meat included that of 200 deer, four elk, 48 salmon, 286 trout, 18 pheasant, four ducks, seven doves, 30 abalone, 31 clams and 47 pounds of mussels.

The department said the animals and fish were forfeited by court order under Fish and Game Code violations or were the result of highway vehicle kills or kills authorized because of crop or property damage.

What Came First In President's Priorities?

As the House Judiciary Committee wrestles with the question of impeachment of the president, the scales are weighted with dross on one balance and gold on the other.

The dross is the sorry story of Watergate, of campaign crookedness, of invasion of citizens' privacy, of concealment of crimes on the twin excuses of re-electing the president and protecting national security.

The gold is the record of the Nixon administration in foreign affairs. He has pierced the iron and bamboo curtains, and if what we see behind them is not often to our liking, at least we have thawed the "cold war" and abandoned a strange isolationism which denied the existence of a half-billion Chinese.

DO THE administration's accomplishments in foreign relations outweigh the shoddy story of crime and concealment on its behalf at home? If so, how can it be argued that Richard M. Nixon has failed his trust and should be impeached to stand trial before the Senate?

President Nixon himself has stressed his activities in world affairs, both as evidence of his administration's success and as an alibi for not knowing what was going on in the White House and the Committee To Re-elect the President.

His attention, he has said repeatedly, was focused in 1972 on great affairs of state — and especially on "bringing peace to America and peace to the world" — rather than on his re-election campaign.

That being the case, should not we "put Watergate behind us" and give the president a vote of confidence rather than considering his impeachment?

HOWEVER, Sen. Lowell Weicker, Connecticut Republican who is a member of the Senate Watergate Committee, has challenged Mr. Nixon's claim. He accompanied a series of Watergate-related questions he sent the president on Feb. 5 — and which have never been answered — with a copy of the White House log showing with whom Mr. Nixon met from June 20 to July 21, 1972 — right after the Watergate break-in.

An analysis of that log brings an interesting picture.

During that month, the president spent a total of 151 minutes in private conversations with Henry Kissinger, the man who was almost single-handedly conducting foreign affairs.

But he spent a total of 2,551 minutes in private conversations with H. R. Haldemann, 744 minutes with Charles W. Colson, 734 minutes with John Ehrlichmann — all Watergate figures.

The longest session with Kissinger shown in the log for this period was 42 minutes. But Mr. Nixon had meetings of 148, 136, 126, 115, 107, 105, 103 and 100 minutes with Haldemann, and of 114 and 95 minutes with Ehrlichmann.

THE LOG RAISES this question:

Which was of more importance to President Nixon, demanding more of his time: the conduct of foreign affairs or his re-election?

The answer has bearing on how he regards the presidency — and therefore on his impeachment.

Powerful Communist State Fearful Of One Free Voice

WASHINGTON — The Kremlin's forcible expulsion of Alexander Solzhenitsyn is an act of fear and an unwilling confession.

The Soviet leaders were afraid to take his life, and they were afraid to let him live — in his own country. Their only alternative was compulsory exile in the hope that the influence of Russia's greatest living writer and apostle of freedom would wither and wane out of his homeland.

An unwilling confession? There are actually three of them, and they become blazingly clear in the Solzhenitsyn affair.

FIRST, IT SHOWS that a Communist dictatorship simply cannot cope with freedom, that the most powerful Communist regime in the world feels its survival so endangered that it does not dare allow one lone voice of dissent speaking the truth to the Russian people.

Second, it shows that Soviet Communist totalitarianism is the blood brother of czarist totalitarianism, that to secure its control over its people the Communist rulers have to rely on the same instruments of terror and censorship as the czarist rulers used before them — exile, execution and prison labor.

Third, it shows that abiding repression is not just an occasional aberration of Communist rule which ultimately will go away; it is a natural and inescapable companion.

CZAR NICHOLAS exiled Lenin, and Lenin exiled Trotsky, and Stalin killed off most of his party colleagues.

And today the Kremlin does not dare let Solzhenitsyn live in his homeland lest the truth he is telling about Soviet history —past and present — become too well known to too many.

One of the most revealing byproducts of the exile of Solzhenitsyn is the way the Communist parties in Western Europe has responded. They are very pained, unhappy and considerably critical of the action.

Why? Why should these Communists object to Communist repression? The reason is that the Communist parties in Italy and France and Belgium and elsewhere in Western Europe know that the only way they can come to power is by persuading the voters of these countries that, if elected, they would use only democratic means to govern. That's what Salvadore Allende told the Chileans. That's what Fidel Castro told the Cubans. That's what Lenin once told the Russians.

But once in power Castro refused to hold the democratic elections he promised; and after Allende constitutionally won office by a minority vote, he began to put his opponents under duress, censor the press, and suffocate the freedoms he had once carefully appeared to support.

THIS IS WHY the Western European Communist leaders venture some gentle criticism of "Soviet censorship" and "lack of creative freedom in the Soviet Union."

They do not dare expose their hand on their way to win power; they only expose their true colors after acquiring power.

This is the truth which should come home to people everywhere in the world where they can still choose the kind of government they want — the truth that repression is the inevitable accompaniment of Communist rule, not a departure from it.

ERWIN D. CANHAM: Incredible America

What does the United States feel like after a three-week absence in South America?

Unbelievable.

And I suspect it feels equally incredible to those who have not been away.

WHAT IS HAPPENING in the United States is unprecedented in Americans' national experience. The nearest thing to it is the shock administered by the attack on Pearl Harbor, with the uncertainties and shortages then produced by wartime needs.

If anybody had told us a year ago of any of a dozen different things that have happened subsequently, would we not have said that the lid would have blown off? But it hasn't. And it isn't going to.

The United States is going through a succession of profoundly disturbing shocks. The presidential or constitutional shock would have shattered a less strongly based people or society. The nation is riding it out. It seems to be entirely conceivable, dismal though the prospect may be, that the crisis will be with us to the end of Richard Nixon's elective term. Nothing conclusive might emerge: no finding of guilt, no vindication. Only uncertainty and division. This is not a forecast. But it could happen. It is one of the unbelievabilities.

THE OTHER SHOCK — perhaps a pair of them — is the energy shortage and its resultant effects through the entire economy and society. How many of us, a few months ago, could have imagined what is happening at filling stations daily across much of the nation? Would we not have said that Americans, in righteous wrath, would have penalized those responsible domestically for contributing to this plight?

And, in a wider sense, would not the unemployment, the stoppages through bottlenecks across the entire economy, the overwhelming rise in prices wholesale and retail, with the end far from sight — would not all these have suggested a tremendous public reaction against such grievous and perhaps needless mismanagement?

The forces which keep human society orderly are far greater than we imagine. Often, in crisis, people are at their best, though I cannot say this has yet happened at the filling station pumps. There, some of the best and some of the worst have been mingled. But in general people are coping. That they should bear such burdens with as much tolerance as they do is the noteworthy thing.

People in the business community are very uncertain about the immediate future. The period of transition into which the nation has been precipitated is the most difficult of all. Conservation is one matter: it seems to be going fairly well. But transfer of power needs from oil and gas to coal, for example, and adjustment across the board to the far higher costs of energy, present the most immediate challenge. It will be hard.

NEARLY EVERYONE, it seems to me, is more optimistic about the long pull. Perhaps this is living in a fool's paradise, for the permanent revision of ways of life is not going to be easy. Yet people seem to be setting about it. When it becomes a matter of choice rather than of necessity, if it does, to conserve fuel and invest heavily in alternative sources, the outlook must be less confident.

Yet this remains the age of the impossible, the unbelievable. It may be that down the years, we will be able to evolve a society with less fevered growth, less waste of energy, less catering to selfishness and sense-satisfaction, more awareness of deeper and sounder values, more quality.

If ever there was a time of revolutionary change in American experience, this is it. Yet in many respects — as in other revolutionary times — it feels quite normal. That is good. We can look the impossible in the eye and not only live with it but learn from it and progress by it.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Wants All To Share Blame For Kidnaping

Having tossed my "clenched fist" into the air and used "Marxist jargon" occasionally, I found James Guerin's Feb. 20 letter interesting. Remarkably, his only moral to the whole Hearst nightmare is that THEY are responsible, not just for the crimes of the SLA but for everything except the assassination of Lincoln. If he would care to split up the blame for violence and social ills equally, I'll take my share of responsibility without demur. But to simply rant at one's opponents in wide-brush smear fashion not only helps no one, least of all Patty Hearst, it continues the endless two-way paranoia that has brought us to this point. Such screeds, like spasmodic violence, are the lineal descendants of the playground whine "it's his fault", and it now way past time for all uf us, regardless of age and bias, to grow up.

Quality Of Life Saved Is Important

The difference between a free choice of abortion by a woman who has hopefully thought carefully about her decision, and the mass-murder of millions of innocent living people in a totalitarian state, would seem to be apparent to even the casual observer.

The parallel between the forcing of a human being into a life they do not choose by that same totalitarian state and the forcing of a life-shaping decision on a woman by a portion of any citizenry would also seem apparent.

What seems to be the crux of the problem is the question of free choice. No person should be forced into an abortion or sterilization any more than they should be forced into a concentration camp. But they should be allowed to decide on the course that is right for them. . .

In considering the life that is supposedly taken, a choice of quality would seem more important than quantity. Perhaps if some of the energies expended on anti-abortion drives were put to use improving the lot of mothers and children who are currently leading barren existences instead of lives, abortion would become a less likely choice.

We have no-fault divorces and no-fault insurance, why can't we have some no-fault thinking applied to people with problems?

That Was Some Wave That Grounded The Ark

"Space Photo May Show Noah's Ark." I read this sensational headline in your newspaper tonight (Feb. 22). This stirs the imagination, and the more the better, to think what a terrific job Noah must have had on his hands. I suppose, during the "great flood," the animals living in salt water survived without any help and maybe some birds and a few other lucky ones, but just think how Noah had to go about it to capture or collect all the other hundreds of thousands of species of all kinds of animals, insects, bacteria, etc., and innumerable other organisms and plants from all the continents of the world. It truly staggers the imagination; nevertheless I would believe it, just as I believe in flying saucers and in Santa Claus, if it were not for one consideration.

Scientists have calculated that if the earth had no oceans and no mountains and were molded into a smooth round ball all the water would cover the whole earth uniformly and rise to a maximum possible height of approximately 7,000 feet. If they now should have discovered the "ark" near the top of Mount Ararat at the 14,000 foot level, I tremble at the thought what a wopper of a wave must have lifted the ark not less than 7,000 feet! To say the least, this must have been a well-built sturdy ark; no wonder, it's still there.

And now, I would like to add a pleasant after-thought.

No matter what we believe or what we don't believe, the truth, fortunately, remains unchanged by it and thus we may still hope to discover it some day i.e., if we live long enough.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

New Bill Would Eliminate Adopted Course Of Study

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The public, which supports the public schools, has little opportunity to find out what is taught in them. It would have even less under a bill (Assembly Bill 2705) introduced in the California Legislature by Assemblyman Kenneth Cory, D-Anaheim.

AB 2705, one of a flood of Education Code bills introduced since the legislature reconvened for the second half of its first two-year session, would repeal a provision of the George Miller Jr. Act which requires each school board to list and keep on file for public inspection the courses of study prescribed for its schools.

THE STATE GIVES school districts great leeway in what they teach. A rigid set of state requirements, some of which were non-sensical, were repealed by the Miller Act in 1968. But the act called for each school district to have a course of study available for public inspection so the people would have some way to find out what was taught their children.

The results have not been altogether satisfactory. What appears on the course of study as a high school class in American literature, for example, may be something altogether different, depending on the whim of the teacher.

The late George Miller Jr. recognized that in drafting his 1968 bill. It provided that each school board "shall adopt minimum academic standards for graduation from the high schools," thus enforcing some control over what was taught. And it directed the State Board of Education to prepare a model set of minimum standards.

The latter requirement, however, was repealed in 1972 by a bill introduced by Assemblyman Leory F. Greene, D-Sacramento, which left it up to local boards to adopt whatever standards they desire. Most of them have merely required completion of certain courses specified in their adopted course of study.

EVEN THAT WOULD vanish under Cory's bill. While it would leave in the law a provision that "the governing board of every school district shall enforce in its schools the courses of study and use of textbooks and other instructional materials prescribed and adopted by the proper authority," that would become so much meaningless wordage — for the proper authority is spelled out in the section Cory would repeal. It is the district board.

Since the board no longer would be required to prepare a course of study and make it available for public inspection, there would be no way to find out what courses are offered. Already, for lack of minimum standards, there is no way to check on whether the subject matter described in the course outline is taught.

ANOTHER UNUSUAL bill in the second half of the legislature's term is Senate Bill 1565 by Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco.

This provides that the length of maternity leave granted a teacher to have a baby shall be determined by the teacher and her doctor. The school board will have nothing to say about it, if Moscone's bill passes. A teacher with a cooperative physician might take three years off, after which she could turn the child over to the state's new pre-school program and demand her job back.

Also aimed to appeal to teachers (or at least, the teacher unions) is AB 2765 by Assemblyman Ernest N. Mobley, R-Fresno. This would lower the teacher retirment age from 65 to 60.

While many capable teachers over 60 may be against such a law, it would open up jobs for some new education graduates, who have been virtually shut out of employment by the decline in school enrollment coupled with California's iron-clad tenure law — any change in which is bitterly opposed by both big teacher unions.

Mobley, incidentally, was not among the 62 Assembly candidates who received campaign support two years ago from the Association for Better Citizenship, the political arm of the California Teachers Association. It backed his unsuccessful opponent, Democrat C. B. Garrigus. Perhaps Mobley wants ABC support this year.

OHSA Makes Legal The 'Unreasonable Search'

By RUS WALTON

Here's what happened: Employe, Mrs. X, was in the ladies' room at ABC company. She heard a commotion and climbed up on the potty seat the better to see out a window. One of her feet slipped off the seat into the commode; she fell, and broke her leg.

Mrs. X used the mechanism of OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Act) to file a complaint of unsafe working conditions. She charged the potty seat was the new-fangled kind, divided in front and not a complete rim. If it had been the odfashioned, full-circle type, she argued, the accident would not have happened.

OSHA officials dismissed her complaint.

SINCE JAN. 1, California employers have been operating under the state's new OSHA, as mandated by the federal government. Cal-OSHA was enacted in 1973 to assure "safe and healthful working conditions for all California working men and women by enforcement of effective standards".

More than 400,000 employers and seven million employes are covered; any employer who hires even one person comes under OSHA. The only exception is domestic workers: OSHA does not apply to maids, babysitters, gardeners, etc.

Implementation of Cal-OSHA is divided into three parts:

The OSHA Standards Board establishes and up-dates safety and health regulations; the Division of Industrial Safety, with 203 safety engineer-inspectors, is the police arm, and the OSHA Appeals Board conducts hearings and makes final rulings when an employer appeals a citation.

OSHA SAFETY INSPECTORS can pull an inspection on any employer's facilities at any time during a working day, without advance notice. A person found guilty of giving an employer advance notice of an inspection can be fined $1,000.

If an inspector finds what he deems an unsafe or unhealthy situation, he issues a citation setting a time limit by which the hazard must be abated.

Minor violations can bring fines up to $1,000. Serious violations must be assessed civil penalties of $1,000.

If an employer feels a citation is unwarranted or unfair, he can petition the OSHA Appeals Board. To date, the three-member board has received 55 appeals.

Complaints against an employer may be made in secret by any employe or employe representative. The reason for such secrecy is to protect the informer from the irate employer. However, that secrecy could also invite spite calls and anonymous harassment.

EMPLOYE SAFETY is, and should be, a matter of prime concern and care. But there are some aspects of OSHA that could easily evolve into police-state weapons.

It will be mainly the responsibility of the OSHA Appeals Board to see that does not happen, to make sure that the program is administered honestly and equitably. The three present members and the executive secretary have committed themselves to that end. They are:

Ford B. Ford, a career civil servant and former state secretary of resources; Monroe Browne, a retired contractor and rancher; Jerry Shearin, 30 years a teamster union official, and Eagan, executive secretary, a one-time newspaper editor.

Those men will keep a proper balance to OSHA. But it is what happens when they leave office and are replaced that may determine whether OSHA becomes a bureaucratic guillotine for California businessmen, especially the small ones.

CAPITOL QUIPS

By PHIL DESSAUER

The marketplace is pretty shaky these days. A lot of people would feel easier if they knew the price of an impeachment.

There's been a slight change in one of the Nixon bumper stickers, which now reads: "He Got Us Out of Gas."

Recent congressional elections have reminded Republicans that it isn't far from top of the heap to over the hill.

By THERON NEWELL

Everyone Obeys New Speed Limit —Nearly Everyone, That Is

Northbound on Highway 101 on a recent Saturday, all of the cars were moving evenly at the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit — all of them except one, which darted in and out of lanes at high speed, gaining a few car lengths with each lane change.

It was not the fastest vehicle on the highway. It was passed by a truck hauling U.S. mail, which probably wouldn't be delivered until Monday, two days away.

THE NEXT AFTERNOON, a quiet Sunday afternoon, southbound on Highway 101 north of Novato, traffic was again moving at a steady 55 miles an hour.

Guess who violated the speed limit?

This time it was two Army vehicles, one an elongated station wagon and the other a van. The two passed everything in sight, then stopped at the Novato bus depot to reconnoiter. Then they sped southward, passing cars stopped for the light at Diablo Avenue on the shoulder on the right side and then pulling out in front of them. This same maneuver has earned traffic tickets for other drivers.

ANYONE WHO HAS lived closely with animals, especially dogs, gives them credit for nearly human intelligence.

A pup early learns to adapt to his master's life. It has been proven many times that dogs can understand quite a few words, phrases and sentences. Some even attempt to answer their masters.

Some people, though, give the animal credit for more intelligence than it possesses. They assume that the dog can think ahead and reason.

Maybe that is why they allow the animal to ride loose in the rear of a pickup truck. Most dogs love to ride in cars, and many like to ride in the rear of pickup trucks so that the fresh air can blow by their nostrils.

Their owners forget that they are still dogs, subject to dog influences.

The sight of another dog, or a cat, or some other distraction can cause them to jump out.

A FOREST KNOLLS couple found this out the hard way recently. Their dog jumped out of a pickup truck near Redding while the family was en route to Oregon.

They discovered their loss in Oregon and backtracked looking for their dog.

Luck was with them. The Humane Society there got the injured dog and the local paper ran a picture of it and the license tag from Marin County.

The humane society was trying to locate the dog's owner when the couple showed up and claimed to having seen the publicity.

This was a rare case that had a happy ending. By far the majority do not.

Bangladesh Recognition Stirs Little Enthusiasm

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For Pakistani Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, it was a difficult moment. "In the name of Allah and on behalf of the peoples of this country," he said, "I declare that we are recognizing Bangladesh."

Later, he added:

"I don't say I like this decision.

"I don't say my heart is happy."

IT WAS FORMAL recognition of a reality of more than two years standing. The independent state of Bangladesh, formerly East Pakistan, was born in December, 1971, three weeks after India intervened on the side of the separatists in their bloody battle to break away from West Pakistan.

Bhutto's announcement gave the summit conference of nearly 40 Moslem nations at Lahore, Pakistan, its most dramatic moment, of special significance for its demonstration of a new unity among the world's 500 million Moslems and their declared intention to play a greater role in both the world's economy and its politics.

Within hours of the Bhutto announcement, Sheik Mujibur Rahman, prime minister of Bangladesh, arrived by special plane to represent the 70 million Bengali Moslems of Bangladesh at the conference. It was his first time in Pakistan since being held prisoner there under threat of execution.

RECOGNITION OF BANGLADESH would mean an exchange of diplomats and, presumably, resumption of telephone, mail and other communications links.

Presumably, both also would gain by a renewal of economic ties.

For the suffering of the individual Bengali, almost as great now as in the days of fighting, it would have little if any immediate impact. Nor would the world at large be greatly stirred by the news of recognition.

Other events closer to home had taken over the headlines, leaving little space for those starving in the world's backwaters.

IN BANGLADESH, more than 70 million people are packed into an area about the size of the state of Florida, giving it the highest population density of any nation in the world. Per capita income is about $70 annually. Illiteracy is about 80 per cent.

It is subject to cyclones, ruinous floods and other calamities.

Two years after the war, Mujibur Rahman still is revered as the "father" of his country. And there is no one on the horizon to replace him.

"Mujib", as he is known, is a gentle man who presides over a nation of jealous, scheming bureaucrats, of rampant corruption, unrelenting poverty and of a population among which violence lies just beneath the surface.

He shrugs his shoulders and declares he has no Aladdin's lamp, and adds that he is giving his people true democracy.

But others see it another way.

SINCE INDEPENDENCE there have been more than 2,000 recorded killings, many of them politically motivated.

Maj. Mohammed Abdul Jalil, former guerrilla leader who broke away from Sheikh Mujib's Awami party to help form a Marxist-Leninist opposition party, says there will be more killings.

Monagan Holds Off On Decision

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Former Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan yesterday postponed indefinitely an announcement on whether he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for state Treasurer.

Monagan, assistant secretary of the U.S. Department of Transportation, said in a statement released in Sacramento that he was delaying announcement of his political plans "because a few questions have not yet been resolved relating to my potential candidacy."

Monagan, who resigned his Assembly seat last year to accept the federal appointment, earlier had scheduled an announcement for today.

Hanna, associate planner also said the restaurant at Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue will have to provide for pickup of trash on nearby lots.

Also Monday, the commission continued discussion of a proposed ordinance to require use permits for tourist-oriented businesses. The city staff was asked to expand a list of shops which could be opened without applying for such use permits.

Actress Officially Changes Her Name

Miss Cannon, 35, made the change in an action approved by a superior court commissioner. The actress is the former wife of Cary Grant.

A 10-day notice of intention to abate and remove the vehicle, or parts thereof, as a public nuisance shall be mailed by registered mail to the owner of the land and to the owner of the vehicle, unless the vehicle is in such condition that identification numbers are not available to determine ownership. 11.38.100 HEARING REQUEST. Upon request by the owner of the vehicle or owner of the land received by the Building Inspector within 10 days after the mailing of the notices of intention to abate and remove, a public hearing shall be held by the City Manager, or his designated representative, on the question of abatement and removal of the vehicle, or parts thereof, as an abandoned, wrecked, dismantled or inoperative vehicle, and the assessment of the administrative costs and the cost of removal of the vehicle, or parts thereof, against the property on which it is located.

If the owner of the land submits a sworn written statement denying responsibility for the presence of the vehicle on his land within such 10 day period, said statement shall be construed as a request for a hearing which does not require his presence. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed, by registered mail, at least 10 days before the hearing to the owner of the land and to the owner of the vehicle, unless the vehicle is in such condition that identification numbers are not available to determine ownership. If such a request for hearing is not received within said 10 days after mailing of the notice of intention to abate and remove, the City shall have the authority to abate and remove from the vehicle, or parts thereof, as a public nuisance without holding a public hearing.

11.38.110 HEARING PROCEDURE. All hearings under this Ordinance shall be held before the City Manager or his designated representative, who shall hear all facts and testimony he deems pertinent. Said facts and testimony may include testimony on the condition of the vehicle, or parts thereof, and the circumstances concerning its location on the said private property or public property. The City Manager, or his designated representative shall not be limited by the technical rules of evidence. The owner of the land may appear in person at the hearing or present a sworn written statement in time for consideration at the hearing, and deny responsibility - for the presence of the vehicle on the land, with his reasons for such denial.

The City Manager, or his designated representative, may impose such conditions and take such other action as he deems appropriate under the circumstances to carry out the purposes of this Municipal Code chapter. He may delay the time for removal of the vehicle, or parts thereof, if in his opinion the circumstances justify it. At the conclusion of the public hearing, the City Manager or his designated representative may find that a vehicle, or parts thereof, has been abandoned, wrecked, dismantled or is inoperable on private or public property and order the same removed from the property as a public nuisance, and disposed of as hereinafter provided and determine the administrative costs and the cost of removal to be charged against the owner of the land. The order requiring removal shall include a description of the vehicle, or parts thereof, and the correct identification number and license number of the vehicle, if available at the site.

If it is determined at the hearing that the vehicle was placed on the land without the consent of the owner of the land and that he has not subsequently acquiesced in its presence, the City Manager, or his designated representative, shall not assess the costs of administration or removal of the vehicle against the property upon which the vehicle is located or otherwise attempt to collect such costs from such owner of the land.

If the owner of the land submits a sworn written statement denying responsibility for the presence of the vehicle on his land but does not appear, or if an interested party makes a written presentation to the City Manager, or his designated representative but does not appear, he shall be notified in writing of the decision.

11.38.120 APPEAL. Any interested party may appeal the decision of the City Manager, or his designated representative by filing a written notice of appeal with the said City Manager, or his designated representative, within five days after his decision.

Such appeal shall be heard by the City Council, which may affirm, amend or reverse the order or take other action deemed appropriate.

Five days after adoption of the order declaring the vehicle or parts thereof to be a public nuisance, or five days from the date of mailing of notice of the decision if such notice is required by Section 11.38.110, or 15 days after such action of the City Council authorizing removal following appeal, the vehicle or parts thereof may be disposed of by removal to a scrapyard or automobile dismantler's yard. After a vehicle has been removed it shall not thereafter be reconstructed or made operable.

11.38.140 NOTICE TO DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES. Within five days after the date of removal of the vehicle, or parts thereof, notice shall be given to the Department of Motor Vehicles identifying the vehicle or parts thereof removed. At the same time there shall be transmitted to the Department of Motor Vehicles any evidence of registration available, including registration certificates, certificates of title and license plates.

11.38.150 PENALTY FOR VIOLATIONS. If the administrative costs and the costs of removal which are charged against the owner of a parcel of land pursuant to Section 11.38.110 are not paid within 30 days of the date of the order, or the final disposition of an appeal therefrom, such costs shall be assessed against the parcel of land pursuant to Section 25845 of the Government Code and shall be transmitted to the Tax Collector for collection. Said assessment shall have the same priority of other city taxes.

DIVISION 2. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. ENROLLMENT VICTIM — West End School, oldest facility in the San Rafael school system, faces closure due to sagging enrollment, under a recommendation by Supt. Donald Leisey. The San Rafael Board of Education last night took no action on the proposal, but set a vote for 8 p.m. March 12.

Old School Closure Suggested

The fate of San Rafael's West End School appeared sealed last night as San Rafael Schools Supt. Donald Leisey recommended the facility be closed in June due to sagging enrollment.

Unlike the heated protests to the proposal when first aired last year, parents voiced no opposition last night, Leisey said.

The San Rafael Board of Education appeared to favor the proposal, but took no action on the matter and set a vote for 8 p.m. March 12 at Sun Valley School, he added.

Leisey recommended West End would close in June for at least five years and require relocating about 100 pupils to Sun Valley or Short schools.

The shift will not burden either school, will allow the district to consider leasing of the West End structure, and will result in a saving of about $32,000 annually, he said.

The move is necessary because enrollment in the elementary district has shrunk from 4,904 pupils in 1968 to 4,192 pupils currently.

Elementary district enrollment in the West San Rafael area alone, he added, was 1,173 in 1968, but is expected to total only 761 next year.

Border Patrol Is Puzzled By 102 Gypsies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The Border Patrol is looking for a crystal ball that will reveal just how 102 Gypsies from various parts of Europe appeared in the southern Arizona desert one night.

The gypsies—half of them young children—are being held as illegal aliens.

The Border Patrol suspects they may be concealing the operations of an wide-ranging ring that illegally brought them to the United States by way of Montreal, Mexico City and a midnight ride across the border.

The Gypsies are apparently from seven families, he said, and speak a number of languages, Serbo-Croatian, Spanish, Italian, German, indicating many places of origin. They range in age from 2 to 72, and half are under 12.

Miss America Eyes Politics

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Rebecca Ann King, the reigning Miss America, yesterday said she would give serious thought to entering politics in Iowa, her native state.

Miss King, 23, visited the Iowa House of Representatives with Rep. Arlyn Danker, R-Minden. She said she plans to enter law school immediately after her reign as Miss America and will remain a member of the Republican Party "as long as the present two-party structure remains as it is."

She added, "My home is now in Denver, although I spent 18 years of my life in Iowa and enjoy coming back to my parents' farm. I don't know whether I would come back to Iowa to run for any office, but it's a possibility."

Probation Ban Bill Killed In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Senate-passed bill to bar judges from granting probation to heroin peddlers and gun-carrying criminals has been killed by the Assembly Criminal Justice Committee.

Immediately after the 2-4 committee vote yesterday, the California Peace Officers association announced it will mount an initiative campaign to place a similar measure on the Nov. 5 ballot.

During two extensive hearings, Attorney General Evelle J. Younger and other law enforcement officials said there are no circumstances when a judge should grant probation to a heroin pusher or a person who commits a violent crime with a gun.

Coleman Blease, spokesman for the American Civil Liberties Union, testified against the measure yesterday, saying the bill will "take the mercy out of justice."

Blease said judges have not abused their discretion to grant probation in unusual cases. "This is an uncivilized, unmerciful bill ... which is exploitive of irrational fears of the community," he said.

The bill (SB237) by Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, would require mandatory prison terms for persons convicted of selling heroin or cocaine or using a firearm to commit serious crimes such as kidnaping, rape and murder. It also would deny probation to ex-felons who are caught carrying a firearm.

"I believe there are certain crimes so severe that probation should never be granted," Younger said

Los Angeles Superior Court Judge George M. Dell testified yesterday that judges rarely use their discretion to grant probation to heroin sellers or criminals who use firearms. But he said such leeway should be permitted in unusual cases where rehabilitation is possible.

PLEA BARGAINS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Plea bargaining in California courts would be abolished under legislation introduced yesterday by Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton.

Plea bargaining is a process whereby defendants make deals with prosecutors to accept lesser punishment in exchange for a guilty plea. It is designed to reduce the workload of the courts.

BEEF BACTERIA

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A resolution requesting a state Senate investigation of alleged bacteria in California beef was proposed yesterday by Sen. Joseph M. Kennick, D-Long Beach.

In the measure, Kennick said, "It is firmly believed by some experts that the bacteria count of meat is indicative of sanitary handling and freshness of beef ..."

Kennick said a study should be conducted to determine whether bacteria count is "an important factor."

EXOTIC PETS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Californians who own "exotic" pets such as lions, tigers or wallabies would have to obtain a special $3 permit from the state under legislation introduced in the Senate yesterday.

The measure (SB1766) was designed to prevent "exploitation of wild animals" and provides for the Department of Fish and Game to draw up a list of which creatures would need a permit. Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-Tiburon, was the author.

"The populations of many of these animals are being depleted to provide luxury pets for those who are willing and able to pay," said Behr in a prepared statement.

SPENDING LIMIT

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation permitting some California cities to impose campaign spending limitations will be amended to cover all types of cities, its author says.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson's announcement yesterday followed a Feb. 20 opinion by state Attorney General Evelle J. Younger which held that campaign spending was a field where only the state could act. The opinion stated that existing local ordinances were unenforcible.

Earlier this month, Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, introduced a bill (SB1693) which specifically would allow general law cities to enact their own spending limitation ordinances.

In the wake of Younger's opinion, Beilenson's office said the measure would be amended to include California's larger charter cities.

3 Accused Of Transit Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — General Motors, Standard Oil and Firestone Rubber and Tire Co. purposely destroyed rapid transit in Los Angeles during the past 35 years, Mayor Thomas Bradley charged today.

In testimony submitted to a Senate antitrust committee in a letter, Bradley said the three companies "in a very calculated fashion," destroyed the world's largest interurban electric railway system. It provided swift, inexpensive and pollution-free commuting in an area now almost totally dependent on the automobile, he said.

Bradley did not appear in person before the committee, which is considering a bill to set up a commission to recommend ways to break up giant corporations that dominate entire industries.

Bradley testified that two years after GM, Standard Oil and Firestone organized Pacific Transit Lines in 1938, the firm began to acquire and scrap the Pacific Electric System, which ran trolleys over 1,164 miles of track in more than 50 communities, stretching 75 miles north, south and east of Los Angeles.

The downtown street car company was acquired by another subsidiary of the big three firms, he said, and it scrapped the electric cars, tore down the power transmission lines, uprooted the tracks "and placed GM diesel buses fueled by Standard Oil on Los Angeles city streets."

"As you can see from these series of historical events," Bradley said, "the destruction of a system in Los Angeles with over 1,000 miles of tracks took place in a very calculated fashion."

Bradley said the conviction of the three firms in 1949 on criminal conspiracy and monopoly charges resulted in a $5,000 fine for GM but did not stop the elimination of electric-powered transit systems.

A subcommittee spokesman said GM and the other U.S. automakers have been invited to testify March 26-28 to give their side of the story.

In Los Angeles, Oscar A. Lundin, General Motors executive vice president, said it was "completely untrue" that GM conspired to kill off fixed rail transportation systems to replace them with buses and increase the market for autos.

"Many of those fixed rail transportation systems around the country were in deep financial trouble" in the years just after World War II when the alleged conspiracy took place, he said.

Responding to Bradley's demand that GM should spin off its bus and rail transit operations because of conflict of interest with the automaking operations, Lundin said, "There is absolutely no conflict of interest. We don't think breaking them off from GM will help —it will hurt."

Lundin told a meeting of 500 local business and civic leaders that General Motors is gearing up to meet the demand for smaller cars that get better mileage and "by the start of the 1975 model year, GM will have the capability to produce more than 2 million small cars annually, an increase of 70 per cent over 1973."

Integration Policy Sent Back To Staff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Board of Education sent back to its staff for revision early today a proposal for integrating public schools from the kindergarten through the 10th grade.

Not a single speaker at the board's lengthy meeting spoke in favor of the plan, which would have meant that 28,575 of the 62,223 pupils in those grades would have attended schools not in their districts.

Classes from kindergarten through the sixth grade already are racially integrated.

The staff was told to return with another proposal next Tuesday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Early Detection Could Prevent Most Cases Of Kidney Failure

A large number of children and adults require an artificial kidney (hemodialysis) or a kidney transplant to remain alive. They have pyelonephritis, a smoldering renal infection that ultimately destroys the organs and causes high blood pressure and uremia.

All of this might have been prevented, had the original infection been recognized early and treated properly. Unfortunately, many of these people had no idea that the kidneys were involved because symptons were minimal.

IN CHILDREN, urinary tract infections are common. They tend to recur and are serious especially when the causative bacteria spread upwards and threaten the kidneys. It is an extremely annoying affliction when the youngster develops frequency of urination along with stinging and burning while voiding. Some have fever, other do not; the condition is easily confused with an ordinary cold.

Most of the victims are between 2 and 10 years of age, and the majority are girls. Because the manifestations are minimal and unless the condition is suspected, the diagnosis may be delayed for weeks or years leading to irreparable damage.

The urine usually contains pus cells and bacteria. The genitalia must be cleaned thoroughly before collecting the specimen to avoid contamination with germs that have nothing to do with the infection. Urine cultures pinpoint the causative bacteria. Laboratory studies then determine the most effective urinary antiseptic or antibiotic.

TREATMENT OF the first attack usually is continued for two weeks. The urine is cultured and studied at frequent intervals thereafter to determine whether the infection has returned. Should the infection recur, it is likely to be a new infection, not a relapse. Additional diagnostic tests often are recommended.

These include special X-rays and looking inside the bladder with the cystoscope. The physician wants to know whether there is a reflux of urine from the bladder into the tubes (ureters) leading to the kidneys. He also wants to rule out an obstruction or other defect in the urinary tract. Continuous treatment for a minimum of six weeks is advisable. If abnormalities of the urinary tract coexist, surgery may be needed.

SOBERING UP

S. B. writes: What will sober up a drunken person?

REPLY

Stimulants such as coffee help occasionally and the same can be said of a cold shower or an emetic that makes the individual upchuck. Tranquilizers quiet the person and encourage him to sleep it off. Others favor the oldie paraldehyde, chloral hydrate, Librium, or the barbiturates. But there is no good way to sober up a man who has had too much to drink. Nothing can be done to make the body eliminate alcohol in the blood at a faster rate. The old-time bartenders finished him off by giving him a big double or quadruple drink to knock him out.

BREAKDOWNS

L. B. T. writes: Is there any difference between a nervous and a mental breakdown?

REPLY

No. Both are lay terms for psychiatric disorders characterized by severe depression, anxiety, agitation, suspicion, hallucinations, or complete disorientation.

FEARS CHILDBIRTH

A reader writes: I am 26 years old and though six months pregnant am in excellent health. However, I've an obsession about dying in childbirth. My doctor has suggested shock treatments to eliminate these thoughts. Can such treatments hurt the unborn baby?

REPLY

No, but may we suggest a consultation with a psychiatrist before undergoing shock therapy? There may be an easier way to carry you through pregnancy — obsession and all.

SEASONAL SPASMS

M.S. writes: Is a spastic colon likely to be better in summer than in winter?

REPLY

The season is not significant, unless it plays a role in creating more or less tension or upsetting situations. Ice cold drinks and roughage from fresh fruits and salads may aggravate a spastic bowel. Such drinks and foods are popular in the summer.

MAPLIKE TONGUE

K. L. writes: My friend's doctor told him he has a geographic tongue. What does this mean!

REPLY

In this condition, the small projecting papillae are lost in certain areas, giving the tongue a maplike (or geographic) appearance. In ther words, some parts of the tongue are smooth as if worn away and stand out in contrast to the more normal areas covered with taller papillae. Geographic tongue has no significance. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this disorder.

INSULIN INJECTIONS

E. H. writes: Is it possible to stop taking insulin injections after the sugar is under control? I'm 50 years old and the diabetes has just been discovered.

REPLY

Yes. Physicians often switch to a diabetic diet or tablets after the diabetes is under control, provided the insulin dosage is less than 40 units.

Woman Is Given 2,500-Year Prison Sentence

HOUSTON (UPI) — A state district judge, angered by the maiming of two robbery victims, sentenced a woman to 2,500 years in prison yesterday.

"I wanted to register my disgust of the wanton shootings of these gentlemen," Judge Garth Bates said. "They were shot down without provocation. It was a senseless act."

Alberta Ann Wilson, 22, was convicted of aiding in the 1972 robbery of three Mexican nationals who were vacationing in Houston.

The men were enticed into a motel room where they were kicked, beaten and robbed of $1,000. As the assailants were leaving, one of them blasted the victims with a sawed-off shotgun.

Two of the men lost use of an arm because of the wounds.

School Denies It Must Teach

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco school district claims it can't be held responsible for failing to teach high school students how to read.

The legal obligation of the schools is only "the care and protection of the children from physical injuries," according to a brief filed yesterday in a $1 million damage suit.

The suit was brought by the Youth Law Center on behalf of an unidentified person, "Peter Doe." It asked damages on grounds he was graduated from high school with the reading skills of only a fifth grader and was thus unqualified for any but menial jobs.

Weekly 'Lucy' Show Will End

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Lucille Ball, who pioneered the television situation comedy format in 1951, announced yesterday she is retiring from weekly appearances, ending the longest running series in television history.

After 23 years, her weekly series, now named "Here's Lucy," will end March 18. CBS-TV president Robert Wood said he is disappointed that Miss Ball will not be part of the network's weekly lineup next season, but she will be seen in "a number of CBS specials."

Oklahoma Senate Boots Old Law

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — The Oklahoma Senate has disregarded the argument that "a man's wife is his property right" and passed a bill repealing the law permiting a husband to sue for alienation of affections.

The bill's sponsors said the old law has become outdated and is discriminatory because it is illegal only to entice a wife away from her husband.

'ALL IN THE FAMILY'

Behind-The-Scenes Giant Departing

By JERRY BUCK

LOS ANGELES (AP) — This is the week John Rich packs it in and leaves "All in the Family."

Unless you watch the credits, you may not be familiar with the name. But John, with his 18-hour days, is as responsible for the success of this top-rated CBS comedy series as anyone.

He's produced or directed every show since its debut in January 1970, most often doing both. In the beginning he directed 37 consecutive shows. He's also the host at the tapings, doing the audience warmup.

Rich, 48, built like a retired pro football player — "This job turned my hair gray and put 20 pounds on me" — leaves Tandem Productions at the end of the week to set up his own production company.

One of his many functions on "All in the Family" was to keep its comedy topical — despite the fact that the shows are taped six weeks before airing.

"Topicality comes to you by reading the newspaper," he said. "It's not by any magic or manipulation. We're just careful of what's in the newspapers. We have our people talking about what America's talking about."

In a show taped last fall Archie Bunker got locked in the cellar when he went down to check his empty oil tank.

Rich said, "The original concept was that Edith failed to call the oil people. His line was to be, 'Thank you, Edith.' In rehearsal I thought that was too much responsibility to put on Edith and changed it to 'Thank you, Arabs.'"

The next day the Yom Kippur War broke out in the Middle East and by the time the show was on the air six weeks later we had a full-fledged energy crisis.

Last summer, when the Watergate hearings were under way, some people thought "All in the Family" was reshooting the reruns to include Watergate jokes. "Things were being said the winter before and we had included them," Rich said. "By summer everything was up to date."

Earlier this year they taped a show in which Archie rushes to the hospital after eating some mushrooms he thinks are contaminated. The day of the taping stories began to break that the Food and Drug Administration was recalling cans of mushrooms. The story was still current when the show aired.

"It's like going over Niagara Falls without a net," Rich said. "It would be easy to repeat one strain every week — Archie's bigotry or his dishonesty. You could do it, but I think the public would get bored."

THE FINAL WEEK — Director John Rich (right) consults with "All in the Family" stars Jean Stapleton and Carroll O'Connor. Rich, who has guided the top-ranked weekly CBS-TV comedy series since its debut in 1970, is leaving the show this week to set up his own production company.

Attorney To Seek McCloskey's Seat

PALO ALTO (UPI) — Attorney Thomas A. Skornia, 39, a Democrat announced Monday he would run for the 12th District congressional seat now held by Rep. Paul N. McCloskey Jr., R-Calif.

Skornia is the third Democrat to announce his candidacy for the office, the others being Herb Rhodes, a Stanford University executive, and Mayor Gary Gilmore of Santa Clara.

Boys Flocking To Homemaking

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A record number of about 20,000 boys have enrolled in homemaking classes in California high schools this year, according to a state education official.

M. Catherine Welsh, chief of the state Education Department's Bureau of Homemaking Education, Monday also said the increased sign-ups by boys have forced some schools to schedule additional homemaking classes.

She said the increased interest of boys in homemaker training reflects "changing ideas about male and female roles."

The Strong Odor Of Commercialism

At one time it could be called creeping commercialism in sports. But now it must be called cascading commercialism. It's here, and it's here in a very big way.

The biggest item to go commercial is Hank Aaron's 715th home run. His next clout, the 714th, will tie Babe Ruth but the really big one will be the homer that surpasses the Babe's total. The commercial part of this saga concerns the whereabouts of the fence the ball sails over.

If San Diego's Padres had moved to Washington as planned, the Braves would have opened the season against the Giants at Candlestick Park. Since the Padres remained, an alternate schedule was used and now the Braves open the season with three games in Cincinnati before returning home to Atlanta.

THOSE FIRST THREE games are supposed to be as important as the last three of the season. At least that's what more than one manager has said in one of the oft repeated quotes that always manage to drift out of spring training camps.

But Atlanta president Bill Bartholomay wanted to get his nomination into the absurdity-of-the-year balloting and announced Aaron would not be in the starting lineup for those three games in Cincinnati. Bartholomay feels he owes it to the Atlanta fans to let them witness Aaron's record home runs. Not going with his best, Bartholomay would rather reduce the first three games to exhibitions, games to show how the Braves could do without Hank Aaron in the lineup.

BOWIE KUHN, THE QUIET commissioner of baseball, will be pushed into action, and that's no easy thing to do. I don't think Kuhn will stand for such foolishness from Bartholomay. It's not the commissioner's place to tell baseball general managers who to play and who not to play — in normal situations. But this is no normal situation.

It's such a shame to take any of the luster from Aaron's feat of becoming the best home run hitter of all time. Holding him out of the lineup for three road games so he can return to Atlanta and help sell out the stadium smacks of far too much commercialism. That's more than any baseball belly can bear without turning over.

That's why I think Aaron will be in the starting lineup April 4 in Cincinnati and again on April 6 and 7. Who knows? Maybe he will be instructed to shorten his swing and punch the ball to right field. Can you imagine Aaron without that snappy-wristed swing?

KUHN, AFTER MAKING an announcement last week that the Braves will "do their very best" in their first three games of the '74 season, said he planned a meeting shortly with Atlanta owner Bartholomay, general manager Eddie Robinson and manager Eddie Mathews.

Bowie might not have the power to order Aaron into the lineup, but there is a phrase "conduct detrimental to baseball" which he might hang out. That sounds like just about the right phrase for the situation.

To make matters worse, Cincinnati, division winner last year, is being picked by most observers to repeat as National League West champ. Playing against an Aaron-less Braves team will be an advantage over contenders such as the Giants, Dodgers and Astros.

FOR MORE SOUNDS of commercialism, Magnavox announced the first promotion to feature Aaron since the company signed him last month to a $1 million contract. It's the Hank Aaron "715 Stakes," in which participants fill out entry blanks and try to guess the inning in which Hank hammers his 715th. Those guessing the right inning have a chance to win first prize of $25,000 and a bunch of other prizes.

What are they doing to baseball? Instead of the smell of peanuts and beer I'm starting to get the odor of wires and machinery. That's the smell of commercialism.

A Super Evening For Barry

OAKLAND (UPI) — When Rick Barry performs to his capability, there aren't many better players in pro basketball.

Last night, Barry had the kind of game people expect him to have every night. He scored 32 points, pulled down 14 rebounds and added eight assists while leading the Golden State Warriors to an easy 120- 100 victory over the Phoenix Suns.

Still, though, Barry wasn't satisfied. That's because he didn't shoot well in the first half, hitting on three of 13 shots. But the second half was a different story with Rick scoring 18 points as the Warriors pulled away.

"I didn't shoot well in the first half," Barry said, "so I had to do other things. If you can't score, you try to help in other ways."

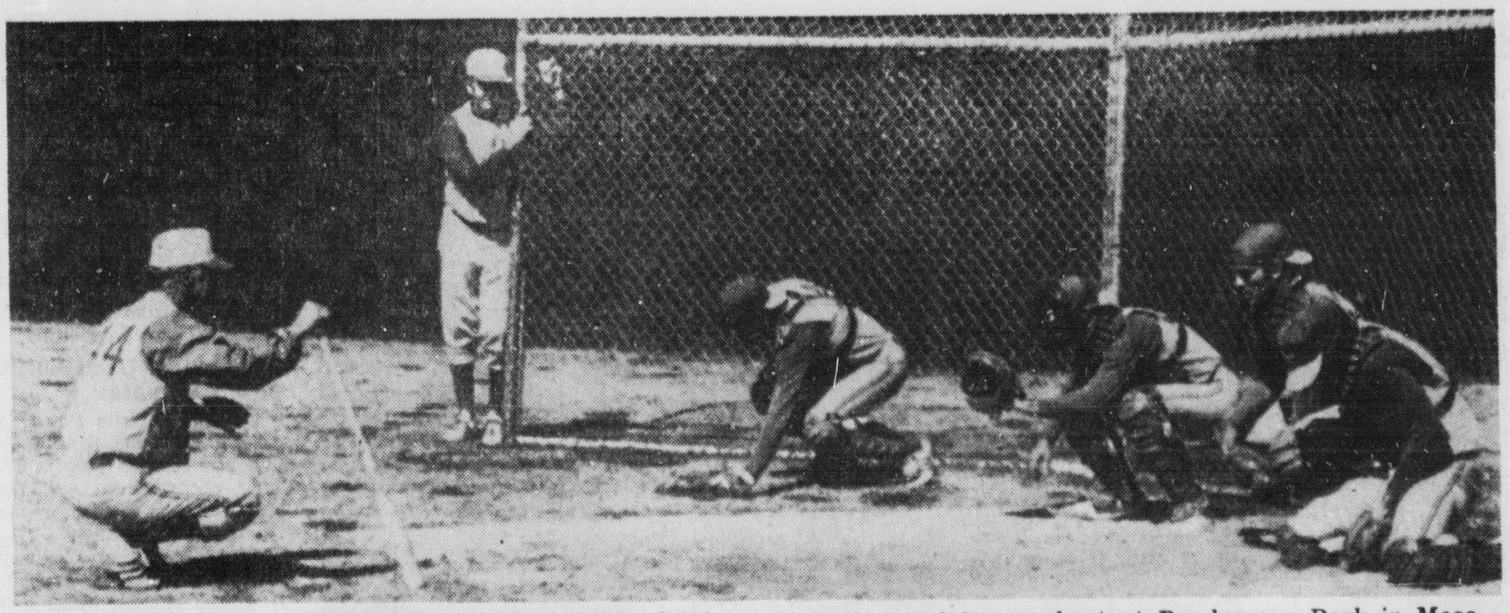

Warriors coach Al Attles liked the way his club came on in the second half, at one point scoring 27 of the 30 points popped in by both sides, to break the game open.

"The defense increased its intensity and that got the offense moving," said the Warriors leader, who saw his club stay 1 ½ games ahead of the Los Angeles Lakers in the NBA's Pacific Division race.

Phoenix led by two points, 69-67, with six minutes left in the third quarter when the Warriors started their winning streak. Jeff Mullins scored 11 of his 19 points in the stretch and Barry contributed four.

Clem Haskins, with 31 points

A's Hold First Full Workout

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — The two-time World Champion Oakland A's, with only three players missing, held their first full workout for new manager Alvin Dark today.

Since last Friday, only A's pitchers and catchers have been in camp, but today they were joined by the full squad.

The missing were outfielders Reggie Jackson and Billy Conigliaro and third baseman and captain Sal Bando.

Conigliaro hasn't as yet signed his contract and no one has heard from him.

Jackson, who last week signed for $135,000, and Bando, who signed a $100,000 contract, have permission to miss a couple of days. Jackson is attending to personal matters while Bando has to appear for a tax audit in San Francisco.

During yesterday's pitchers' workout, young Leon Hooten became the camp's first casualty. He suffered an ankle sprain while trying to score in a hitting drill. The injury is not serious and Hooten, who is trying to win a job on the A's will miss a couple of days.

Close Verdict For Mariners

REDWOOD CITY — College of Marin's basketball team was ahead of Canada College only one time during the entire game here last night. Happily for the Tars, it was at the end.

Wil Garner hit a jump shot from the foul line area with three seconds left to give Marin a 62-60 victory in the Camino Norte Conference contest.

Marin obtained the ball with 28 seconds remaining when Duke Bessee rebounded a missed Canada shot. The Tars worked the clock down to seven seconds, called time, then had Raymond Williams inbound the ball to Garner.

"They really worked hard for that one," said coach John Panagakis. "We had a lot of problems."

Leonard Smith suffered a hyperextended knee and left the game with 16 minutes left, decimating a guard corps already missing Rich Hagler (illness) and Jared McFerrin (illness in the family).

In addition, Bill Donnellan was suffering from the flu, but played "a great game" anyway with 19 points and a superior defensive job. He held Canada's leading scorer, John Brown, to two points in the second half and forced him to foul out.

Garner led Marin with 25 points and clinched the conference scoring title. He has 358 points with one game left, while Brown, his chief pursuer, finished with 318.

Marin trailed at halftime, 38-34, and fell further behind midway through the second half, 50-40. Panagakis credited a full-court press, keyed by Williams, Bessee and Gerald Gage, for the subsequent rally.

The victory gave Marin a 12-3 conference record and 24-3 overall mark with one game left. The Tars are ranked 11th in the state.

BY ROTE — Superstars champion Kyle Rote Jr. signed autographs yesterday after picking up his $38,000 winner's check in Rotonda, Fla. (UPI Telephoto)

It's Big Payday For Rote, Superstar Of Sports World

ROTONDA, Fla. (UPI) — Soccer star Kyle Rote Jr. proved himself a sports "superstar" and multiplied his annual earnings more than 25 times.

Rote, son of former professional football star Kyle Rote, earns $1,500 a season as a soccer professional with the Dallas Tornadoes of the North American Soccer League.

His prowess Monday and Tuesday in tennis, swimming, bowling, golf and bicycle racing won him $38,200 over such well known athletes as pro football aces O. J. Simpson, Franco Harris and Dick Anderson; tennis pro Stan Smith; pole vaulter Bob Seagren; basketball's Jim McMillian and John Havlicek; baseball's Pete Rose; skier Karl Schranz and speed skater Ard Schenk.

"The money's very nice. The impact of it will probably hit me after a while. But I really got a kick out of being with these great athletes and competing against them," Rote said.

Rote, a second year divinity student, who said he may give some of his winnings to charity, compiled 44 points in the second annual "superstars" competition, winning in tennis, swimming and bowling and finishing second in golf and bike racing.

Seagren, who won the first such competition at Rotonda last year, was second with 38 points and collected $26,400. Anderson, the Miami Dolphins' All-Pro safetyman, won $21,100. Simpson and Smith tied for fourth with 24 points each and picked up $7,200 apiece.

In yesterday's events, Simpson won the 100 yard dash in 10.47 seconds; Segren won the half mile run and the obstacle run; Schenk the bike race; and Smith the baseball hitting competition.

Points were awarded in a total of 10 events, of which each superstar was allowed to pick seven in which to compete. They were barred from competing in their own specialties.

Winners of each event got 10 points, runnersup 7 points, third places 4, fourth places 2, and fifth places 1. Each point was worth $300 in prize money in addition to the first second and third place overall prizes of $25,000, $15,000 and $10,000 respectively.

Rote had won last month's preliminary competition for the event and picked up $15,200 in prizes at that time.

A Strike Possible In NFL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost two-thirds of the members of the National Football League Players Association have voted to authorize a strike against the league if necessary, an association official said last night.

Ed Garvey, executive director of the association, said that ballots had been mailed three weeks ago to the group's 1,220 members, nearly all the players in the league.

Two-thirds of the ballots have been returned so far, Garvey said, and "they are virtually unanimous to authorize a strike if necessary."

The ballots did not set a strike deadline, nor did they advise the membership of what the association would consider a strike situation. Garvey declined to discuss the association's negotiating goals.

But Buffalo Bills' running back O. J. Simpson, who is not a member of the association, said Monday night the players' greatest objections are to a rule requiring compensation for the victimized club when an athlete plays out his option and signs with another team. The rule was instituted by Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Simpson, who set an NFL record last season with 2,003 yards rushing, also said, "I think there's a good chance of a strike in the National Football League. The players are ready for some changes."

Simpson said his reasons for not joining the association were personal and despite them he supported the group's aims.

Barton Available If Giants Want Him

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI) — If the San Francisco Giants are serious about picking up a catcher, they could try calling Bob Barton at his home in San Diego.

Barton, once regarded as the best catcher in the Giants organization, quit baseball at the end of the 1973 season to go into land development in the San Diego area.

At 32, Barton has seven years of major league experience behind him and always has been regarded as a fine handler of young pitchers, which makes him ideal for the Giants staff.

Barton played for the Cincinnati Reds last year but was released near the end of the season, mostly because there was no work for him with Johnny Bench catching nearly every game.

"I'd play again if some one asked me," Barton said in a recent interview, "but they would have to be serious. Of course, I'm not looking for a No. 1 job, but I'd take No. 2 on the right team. Otherwise, I'd rather devote my time to my new career."

The Giants have had only one catcher with major league experience in their camp to date, and that was No. 2 Mike Sadek.

However, late last night word reached here No. 1 Dave Rader had agreed to terms, leaving only outfielders Garry Maddox and 1973 Rookie of the Year Gary Matthews as the only unsigned players.

Tuesday, with Sadek about out of steam, the Giants shoved 20-year-old Gary Alexander, an outfielder with Fresno of the California League last year, behind the plate.

The Giants don't have a catcher of major league ability they can call up, so Rader and Sadek will have to carry the load. Manager Charlie Fox has indicated several times he'd like a third catcher.

Rader hit only .229 last year but worked in 131 games. The Giants at first offered him a $5,000 cut but finally agreed to a raise of $2,500, putting Dave at the $30,000 level.

Redwood Frosh Win

Redwood High School scored a 51-48 victory over host Tamalpais yesterday to conclude its Marin County Athletic League freshman basketball season with an 11-4 record and third-place finish.

Sharon, Rosemary Win Net Matches

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Marin's two women on the professional tennis tour defeated their opponents yesterday, but Marin's two men went down to defeat.

Sharon Walsh of San Rafael and Rosemary Casals of Sausalito triumphed in the $50,000 Virginia Slims tournament in Chicago, but Bob Lutz of Tiburon and Mike Machette of Belvedere lost in the $50,000 Michelob World Championship in Rancho La Costa, Calif.

Miss Casals, seeded third, defeated Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., 6-7, 6-2, 6-4 in the first round and was to meet Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia today. Miss Walsh, unseeded, disposed of Patty Shoolman of Firport, N.Y., 6-1, 6-2, and will face top-seeded Billie Jean King.

Machette, who graduated from the University of Southern California a month ago, had trouble with his serve in losing to top-seeded John Newcombe, 6-3, 6-4.

"He is a good server, but his footwork was a little slow," Newcombe said after Machette double-faulted five times in the first set alone.

Lutz succumbed to second-seeded Alex Metreveli of the Soviet Union, 6-3, 6-4.

NFL Owners To Ponder Low Scores

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The much-maligned field goal and the lack of scoring in recent years were the key topics under discussion today when National Football League owners resumed their annual winter meetings.

The owners were scheduled to hear a report from the competition committee, which includes Al Davis of Oakland, Jim Finks of Minnesota, Tex Schramm of Dallas and Paul Brown of Cincinnati. And one of the main topics in the report will be possible solutions for a lack of scoring which has plagued the NFL in recent seasons.

Critics of the pro game have pointed out that the field goal has wiped out any interest and the competition committee, which will meet next week to attempt to provide an answer, will make and listen to recommendations for improving the game.

No rules changes are expected this week.

MIKE CALDWELL

New Giant Hurler Ahead

By JACK HANLEY

CASA GRANDE — Mike Caldwell, the young left-hander for whom the San Francisco Giants traded Willie McCovey to the San Diego Padres, flashed his fast ball, sinker and slider just 24 hours after reporting for spring training with his new teammates.

Manager Charlie Fox was asked if he didn't think Caldwell was rushing things a bit. After all, this was just the second day of work for the team's pitching staff.

"Mike," said Fox, "is way ahead of the game at this point. He's been pitching winter ball for Ponce in Puerto Rico. That's why I didn't caution him to take it easy. He's a smart young man who knows what he's doing."

Caldwell, who celebrated his 25th birthday Jan. 22, is slated for the fourth starting spot in the rotation of the Candlestick Kids this season. That suits him just fine.

"I've proved myself as a reliever," said Caldwell who appeared in 55 games for the Padres last season, virtually all of them in relief. "I feel I can do the job as a starter. If I didn't I would have asked to stay in the bullpen."

This was Caldwell's first interview since McCovey was traded for him Oct. 25.

"I was in Puerto Rico pitching for Ponce at the time," said Caldwell. "I wasn't surprised by the trade but by the player for whom I was traded. It was quite an honor to be traded for McCovey. I've admired him since my Little League days."

Why wasn't Caldwell surprised by the trade?

"Well, I had a feeling I was being showcased in the final three games of the season between the Padres and Giants last September," he said. "I appeared in all three games. And I think it was Mike Phillips who appeared in all three games at shortstop for the Giants. I thought he was being showcased with me. So, yes, I was really surprised when I learned it was McCovey for me."

Because a superstar, even though in the twilight of his career, was traded for him will Caldwell feel pressure?

"Whatever pressure I'll feel," said Caldwell, "will be minute compared to everything else in the deal. Actually, I think McCovey will have more pressure on him because now I'm with a contender and he's with a club whose young members will be looking to him for advice and helpful hints about hitting.

"McCovey will like the warmer weather in San Diego. I'll have to become accustomed to Candlestick's cooler weather."

Did Caldwell have any goals?

"Yes, 200 innings and a minimum of walks. I'm not thinking of goals in terms of wins and losses but I'd like to contribute 15 wins. I'd like to get my record to .500."

To do that Caldwell will have to wind up with a 15-2 mark this year because his career record with the Padres over the past two seasons is 12-25.

In 1973 Caldwell was 5-15 with a 3.74 earned run average, an earned run average which prompted Lefty Gomez, an early spring training visitor, to make a few observations.

"I never did think much of that ERA statistic," said the ace Yankee southpaw of another generation. "It's not an accurate reflection of a pitcher's responsibility for runs scored against him. A pitcher with a spotty defense is handicapped. You can't tell me that Caldwell won't benefit because of the three race horses (Bobby Bonds, Garry Maddox and Gary Matthews) he'll have behind him this year, not to mention that up-the-middle combo at short and second (Chris Speier and Tito Fuentes)."

Track Coaches Matsuda, Bush Aim Blasts At AAU

Combined AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — Jim Bush and Ken Matsuda, track coaches at UCLA and USC, respectively, blasted the Amateur Athletic Union yesterday during the track and field writers meeting.

"I'll never coach another national team after my experiences last summer," said Bush, the Bruins' head coach. "I think I can fight them more from the outside. I think we should fight until we get some changes."

Matsuda, assistant to Vern Wolfe at USC, displayed a bagful of rocks he said he collected from the long jump pit during Friday night's AAU Indoor Championships in New York.

"When you have an Olympic champion in an event," Matsuda said, "they should see that the pit is properly prepared. We didn't let Randy Williams (1972 Olympic long jump gold medalist) compete when we saw the conditions of the pit. It is a shame that the AAU puts on a meet like that."

Basketball

OAKLAND — The Northern California basketball writers have named Phil Smith of the University of San Francisco and Nate Carroll of St. Mary's as co-players of the week.

SPORTS SHORTS

Smith scored 53 points in two USF wins last weekend as the Dons moved two games out in front of Seattle in the West Coast Athletic Conference race. St. Mary's also won a pair of games last week and Carroll was responsible for 45 points and 19 rebounds.

SAN FRANCISCO — National League President Charles (Chub) Feeney announced that National League baseball clubs will be permitted to use designated hitters for the first time this spring when they play exhibition games on the road against American League teams if the National League club manager agrees to the experiment.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. — Three players listed on the 40-man roster were missing this morning when the Boston Red Sox held their first full-scale workout.

Pitcher Juan Marichal has been given permission to delay his arrival until March 1. Designated hitter Orlando Cepeda advised club officials that he would be delayed in Puerto Rico by court proceedings but expected to arrive late tonight or early tomorrow morning.

The only player who has not contacted the club is 39-year-old shortstop Luis Aparicio, a resident of Venezuela.

Tennis

BARCELONA, Spain — Adriano Panatta of Italy beat Jose Bruguera of Spain, 6-4, 6-3, and Ion Tiriac of Romania defeated Spain's Juan Guerrero, 6-4, 6-0, in the opening round of a $50,000 World Championship Tennis Tournament.

MIAMI — Mike Estep of Waco, Tex., upset sixth-seeded Patrice Dominguez of France, 6-4, 6-0, in the World Championship Tennis $50,000 Red Group Tournament.

A Big Headache For Raider Office

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders have a king-sized headache today — how to redistribute $75,000 in ticket overcharges from the 1971 National Football League season.

A federal court judge ordered the Raiders yesterday to return that amount to fans who purchased tickets during the 1971 season for what he called an overcharge of 50 cents per ticket in violation of the Economic Stabilization Act.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Electronic Devices For Boating Needs

I've just finished putting together a present I bought myself for Christmas. It's a device which steps up the 12-volt direct current of a boat's battery to 117-volt 60-cycle alternating current as supplied to homes and industry.

It comes in kit form and takes two evenings to assemble — not the seven weeks it has taken me in the past. It costs just over $100. It is called a power inverter.

The idea is not new. What is new is that this device will give enough power to run most home appliances. It delivers 500 watts of power which will run a television set (black and white, or color), shavers, electric drills and saws, kitchen appliances (such as mixers, blenders and can openers) and entertainment equipment like phonographs and tape recorders).

And it provides enough power to run a few of them simultaneously.

Things it won't run are a compressor-type refrigerator — the motor needs a very heavy starting current. Nor will it run heating devices, such as electric kettles. They need 1,350 to 1,500 watts of power, or clothes dryers, which need 5,000 watts or more.

This is only one of several new electronic devices pitched to the boater. Many of them also come in kit form which cuts the price considerably. Most kit assemblies are well within the scope of the average handyman.

Other news in marine electronics is the support the Federal Communications Commission is giving manufacturers to push the new-style radiotelephones which operate in the frequency modulation bands. This is to ease the pressure on the old standard marine bands which are so congested with inconsequential chit-chat that a boater who wants to make an emergency call to the Coast Guard is hard pressed to yell his way in.

Marine electronics is a thriving industry. As more boaters get new gadgets, we get questions.

Q. Is a depth finder worth the money for a small runabout boat?

A. If you operate in an area where running aground could cause serious damage — what do YOU think? You can get a good one for well under $100. There's a new one this year that works either off a boat's battery or dry cells. It's really pitched to the angler who is working small inland lakes.

Q. Are the new UHF-FM radiotelephones more expensive than the old marine band phones?

A. It's just the same difference as between old-fashioned standard broadcast AM (amplitude modulation) radio and FM (frequency modulation) radio. There's better speech quality, no static, less interference, much more "space" in the band for more channels. The only disadvantage is the FM transmissions are limited to line of sight.

Q. I'm building a fuel vapor detector or "bilge sniffer" from a kit. How does it really work?

A. The "detector" part is a very small platinum wire through which a tiny electric current flows. In the presence of flammable vapors, the electrical resistance of the wire changes, depending on the concentration of the vapor. This is measured and shows on a warning dial. Don't ask why platinum does this. I don't think anybody knows.

Q. What's the technical name for the gadget which tells how far over a sailboat is heeling? Who sells them? How much?

A. It's called an inclinometer. Write Rieker Instrument Co., Box 52, Clifton Heights, Pa. 19018; or West Products, 236 South Street, Newark, N.J. 07101.

Q. My propeller was "eaten away" by corrosion in salt water. I'm told there is a new device that will stop this. What is it?

A. This is one of the most revolutionary and useful of all electronic devices for salt water boaters. It really stops salt water galvanic corrosion completely. It's a very simple, cheap device, and is called MerCathode. Ask any marine dealer about it.

PRO BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Search For Extra Dollar Painful

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The search for the all mighty extra dollar in this era of extreme inflation could hurt the Buffalo Braves' playoff cause.

This situation was magnified in last night's 119-112 loss to Los Angeles after the Braves squandered an 11-point lead in the final period.

Jim McMillian contributed only four points to the Buffalo effort. A healthier McMillian may have provided enough firepower to blunt a Laker comeback, but the Braves forward was not up to the occasion after suffering leg and body bruises in a SuperStar competition in Florida earlier this week.

Advocates of higher salaries for pro athletes could well argue that if McMillian was receiving enough money promoters would not have been able to entice him into that competition.

McMillian was hurt when he fell during a cycling race. The Braves would rather have had him backpedaling on defense in basketball action than leaning over a set of handlebars of a two-wheeler.

Los Angeles needed the victory to remain 1 ½ games behind Golden State in the Pacific Division of the National Basketball Association after the Warriors beat Phoenix, 120-100.

Pat Riley's 15-point fourth quarter helped offset Bob McAdoo's 44-point game for Buffalo. McAdoo, who also collected 24 rebounds, became the first player to score 2,000 points in the NBA this season. Gail Goodrich led Los Angeles with 25 points and Riley had 21 as the Lakers erased Buffalo's 94-83 lead with 8:26 left in the game.

In the American Basketball Association, San Diego defeated Virginia, 126-119, and Indiana stpped Utah, 110-94.

Celtics 86, Pistons 83

Boston built a 13-point lead in the fourth quarter, but still needed Jo Jo White's free throw with six seconds left to assure a Celtics' win over Detroit. John Havlicek scored a game-high 26 points for Boston. Dave Bing paced the Pistons with 22.

Knicks 85, Bullets 71

New York held the opposition to a season low as Walt Frazier led the Knicks with 21 points and Earl Monroe netted 19. Dave DeBusschere, recovering from a bruised heel, tallied 16 and collected 15 rebounds. Kevin Porter was high for Capital with 17 points.

Rockets 118, Kings 101

Rudy Tomjanovich scored 30 points as a surging Houston club won its eighth game in the last 11 outings. The winners hit for 55.6 per cent as the Rockets grabbed the lead for good with 2:26 left to play in the first half.

76ers 118, Trail Blazers 110

Tom Van Arsdale and Fred Carter combined for 51 points as Philadelphia held off a fourth quarter Portland challenge. Geoff Petrie scored 32 points for the Trail Blazers, who lost their 22nd game in the last 24 contests.

Q's 126, Squires 119

Flynn Robinson came off the bench to score 25 points and Travis Grant tallied 32 as San Diego rallied to beat Virginia. An 11-0 surge by the Q's starting the fourth quarter ruined the Squires, who received 29 points from Jim Eakins.

Pacers 110, Stars 94

Indiana won its seventh straight and Utah lost its fifth in a row as Mel Daniels tallied 25 points and grabbed 17 rebounds for the Pacers. Willie Wise kept the Stars in contention with 37 points.

Hennessy Benefit Game Draws 600

A capacity crowd of over 600 paying $1 each attended last night's basketball game at Marin Catholic High School benefitting dean of students Dave Hennessy.

The school faculty defeated a team drawn from the student body, 66-61, as Harry Matzinger scored 20 points for the faculty.

Hennessy's seven-month-old daughter, Kelly, died of leukemia Feb. 7.

Dominican Cagers' Year Is Fruitful

It's a short but fruitful season for the Dominican College women's basketball team.

The San Rafael gals are 3-2 in a schedule running Feb. 5 through March 14. They play against women's teams from Sonoma State College, University of San Francisco, Santa Rosa Junior College, University of California at Berkeley, Mills College (Oakland) and Holy Names (Oakland).

These games are arranged by Mary Linda Wheeler, Dominican's assistant dean of students. She also coaches the women's hockey and basketball teams.

A 40-29 win over Mills and a 35-31 triumph over USF are highwater marks thus far. This is the team's second year of existence. It is not affiliated with a league.

Seals Host St. Louis

OAKLAND (UPI) — Seven of the 16 teams in the National Hockey League have shifted coaches this season and two of the newcomers will be matching strategy tonight when the St. Louis Blues call on the California Golden Seals, 8 o'clock in the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

Lou Angotti took over the St. Louis Blues the same day Marshall Johnson was announced as the Seals' coach. Angotti is 1-3-1 and Johnson 0-4 during their brief regimes.

The Blues are winless in the last seven road games and have lost twice this season at Oakland.

Johnson promises to continue his policy of playing everybody for good chunk of time.

Burleson Scores 22, N.C. State Clinches Crown

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Tommy Burleson had himself a ball.

Burleson, the 7-foot-4 center for top ranked North Carolina State, scored 22 points and pulled down 11 of his team's 38 rebounds last night to lead the Wolfpack past arch-rival North Carolina 83-72.

The victory, a record 29th in a row in conference play for State, enabled the Wolfpack to clinch the Atlantic Coast regular season title and with it a first round bye in next week's post-season tourney that will determine the ACC's representative in the NCAA tournament. The win also upped N.C. State's overall record for the season to 23-1 with the lone loss coming at the hands of third ranked UCLA in December.

Only three other teams ranked in the UPI Top Twenty were in action with second ranked Notre Dame overwhelming Ball State 93-69, 14th ranked Kansas beating Nebraska 51-46 and 15th ranked Kansas State edging Missouri 69-67.

N.Y. Fans Boo Lack Of Scoring Punch

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

While most of the teams in the National Hockey League and World Hockey Association were making life dreary for the goaltenders last night, the Vancouver Canucks and New York Islanders, each hoping to avoid the NHL East cellar, put on a figure skating exhibition.

After exchanging goals in the first period, the Canucks and Islanders went round and round the ice for 43 minutes without hitting the nets.

With the 1-1 tie on Dennis Kearns' power play goal for Vancouver and Denis Potvin's score for New York, both teams picked up a point and the Islanders retained their one-point edge on the Canucks.

The game ended with the frustrated crowd of 11,121 at New York's Nassau Coliseum booing the lack of scoring.

In other NHL action, Montreal beat Atlanta 6-5 and Detroit ripped Toronto 7-3.

In the WHA, Houston clipped Vancouver 3-2, Quebec bombed Winnipeg 7-1 and Chicago beat Los Angeles 4-2.

Canadiens 6, Flames 5

Claude Larose, who had only three goals all season going into the game, scored a three-goal hat trick to lead Montreal past Atlanta. Larose, used sparingly most of the season after breaking his leg last year, tallied an unassisted goal to start the scoring in the first period. After Pete Mahovlich put the Canadiens ahead 5-4 with his 28th goal of the season at 11:04 of the third period, Larose scored what turned out to be the deciding goal at 18:31.

Red Wings 7, Maple Leafs 3

Mickey Redmond became the third NHL player this season to score 40 goals as he notched a pair to lead Detroit over Toronto. Redmond scored one in each of the first two periods to power Detroit to a 5-3 lead. The Detroit sharpshooter joined Boston's Phil Esposito and Ken Hodge in the select 40 goal club. He has scored seven goals in his last three games.

Proposed Packaging Rules Hit

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Proposed federal regulations on meat and poultry weight labeling will cost California consumers millions of dollars each year, the state's No. 1 agricultural official charges.

C. Brunel Christensen, director of the state Department of Food and Agriculture, yesterday reported he has filed "a strong objection" to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposed regulations, which he said were based "on the old repudiated concept of net weight when packed."

"This means that for products which lose moisture, the consumer pays as part of the net weight for moisture that has leaked out of the product and is absorbed in wrappers and packing substances, or is free flowing water in the container," he said.

Walter Watson, head of the state agriculture department's Division of Measurement Standards, said weights and measures officials in all California counties "have always pulled off sale those packages which do not meet the California stndard at the retail store."

But Watson added that because of federal court rulings, short weight packages can be pulled off sale only on a package-by-package basis rather than a lot-by-lot basis.

British Salute To Be Changed

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) — Another vestige of British colonial rule comes down Friday. The army salute will no longer be "palms outwards but palms downwards," American style.

Gen. Ungku Nazaruddin, army chief of staff, said "Army Day" celebrations on Friday will consist mostly of mass prayer sessions only, doing away with big banquets because of inflation.

Japanese Court Bans Night Flights

TOKYO (UPI) — A Japanese court today banned all flights to and from Osaka International Airport between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. to help curb the noise hazard to area residents.

The court also ordered the government to pay about $386,000 to the plaintiffs, ranging from school children to aged persons, in compensation for damaged health resulting from aircraft noise.

A Good Finesser Will Never Need Thinking About A Peek

WINS IN DUMMY

"My partner, West, led the queen of hearts. Declarer won in dummy with the ace and thought a long time before making his next play. Then he led a trump from the dummy and finessed with the jack from his hand.

"When my partner discarded, and it became clear that declarer had finessed for the queen with 10 trumps, I was really shocked. Obviously he must have seen the queen in my hand, even though I always hold my cards quite close to the vest.

"Nobody said a word, but I think everybody else was just as embarrassed as I was. What should we do in a case of this kind?"

Silence is golden. South should finesse the jack of trumps even if he is playing the hand blindfolded.

Suppose the finesse loses. The defenders take a heart and switch to clubs. South wins, draws the last trump, and knocks out the ace of diamonds. Back comes a club to the ace. South leads the four of spades to dummy's five and discards the losing club on the king of diamonds. This assures the game.

In short, if the spade finesse loses, the five of spades becomes a re-entry to dummy.

MUST TAKE

If South fails to take the finesse he loses a trick in each suit. True, this happens only when the trumps are 3-0, but why should South take even this slight risk?

Give South credit for making a very thoughtful play.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid four hearts.

This shows meager high-card strength but very good distributional (short-suit and trump) support for partner's suit.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Health Of Hospital Chain Is Improving

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Would you please comment on the hospital industry in general and American Medical International (NYSE) in particular? — C.T.

A. The stock market has been less than kind to the proprietary hospital group. On average, shares of the 11 major companies in the field have dropped 78 per cent from their 1972 highs. By comparison the Dow Industrial Average has slid only 20 per cent from its 1972 high level. Yet, all 11 companies reported higher revenues for the latest available 12-month period, with gains averaging 27 per cent year-to-year. Only four came in with lower earnings while the group as a whole upped profits an average 10 per cent.

Obviously investors are yet to be convinced that a full-fledged recovery is underway for these hospital chains, whose problems with price controls, runaway costs and overexpansion are now legendary. Furthermore, the fact that this industry is one of the two which will remain under mandatory price control after May 1, 1974, does nothing to inspire potential investors.

The uncertainty surrounding the several proposed national health insurance programs competing for enactment also creates a negative climate for these shares. On this latter score, however, the overall results will probably be beneficial to the hospital companies, particularly in helping to alleviate the low occupancy level which is currently hampering profit margins.

American Medical has suffered from narrowing margins, a factor which pushed down earnings comparisons in fiscal 1973 and again in the November quarter when revenues rose 10.7 per cent and net dropped 47. 5 per cent. Expansion costs seem to be the primary culprit in this case. With utilization rates already well below normal, particularly in California, where one third of the company's hospitals are located, the new capacity may temporarily compound the problem.

Expansion, however, has embodied the concept of building medical complexes, with doctors' offices, laboratories, outpatient clinics and other ancillary services. Not only do these centers enhance profitability but they help to assure a steadier flow of hospital patients.

CENTURY OLD STAINED GLASS

Fine antique stained glass, worth about $45,000, were assembled at Reflections of San Rafael, 44 Simms Street, in San Rafael for an off-the-truck sale Saturday. Owners Barry Reischmann of San Anselmo and Allen Dragge of Berkeley, shown in picture, and other partners, Shelley Michael of San Anselmo and Cathy Felix of Ross, collected about 100 pieces ranging in price from $95 to $7,500. They include four Tiffany's and two Handel's. The collection is now in Los Angeles for a showing there but will be back on March 5, when the San Rafael gallery will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. The mountain scene on wall at left is from a Sonoma County mansion built in 1874 and is believed to be from Tiffany studios in New York. It is priced at $7,500.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Casualty And Theft Losses Are Usually Partly Deductible

If you had a casualty or theft loss, you may be able to deduct part of it on your tax return.

Only the casualty loss in excess of the insurance reimbursement and in excess of $100 per loss is deductible on your federal income tax return.

Be sure to read the instructions on page 12 of your tax return package.

In order to make processing the tax return easier and to eliminate a good deal of needless correspondence between the Internal Revenue Service and the taxpayer, the new tax form provides a separate entry on Schedule A, Form 1040, lines 25 to 29, for deducting such losses.

In other words, you may have something that cost you $100 that had a fair market value of $1,000 at the time of the loss and your actual loss may be $1,000, the fair market value, but you can only deduct your cost basis of $100, less $100, or zero.

The primary difficulty in determining casualty losses is to prove the amount of the loss.

In some cases, it is farily easy to determine the fair market value of the loss. If you bought a new car that cost you $5,000 and later it was destroyed, then it would appear that your loss is $5,000.

However, you have to determine the fair market value of the car and there are books that list this, although you may have some disagreements about the condition of the car.

Good Word In Mideast Helps Mart

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks gained in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange today in response to word of solid progress in Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's Middle East peace mission.

Oils were among the early gainers, partly in response to the Middle East news. Ohio Standard added 2 ¼, Getty 1 ½, and Phillips Petroleum 1 1/4.

Philip Morris rose 2 1-3. The cigarette maker announced plans for a two-for-one stock split and raised the dividend on new shares.

Aluminum Co. of America led the actives, ahead ¼ to 49 ½ on 148,700 shares.

Stocks also rallied in stepped-up trading on the American Exchange. However, Den-Tal-Ez, the volume leader, fell ⅛ to 9 ½ on 29,000 shares.

Gold stocks on the Big Board were victims of profit taking.
